Committee Trying to Set Up Legal Safeguards on Secrets Without Bar on Discussion of Policies.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Eleven Senators got down today to the task of erecting a legal fence around atomic energy secrets without creating a barrier to discussions of domestic control policies and administration.

Chairman McMahon (Dem.), Connecticut, described this as the "most difficult job" his Special Atomic Energy Committee has had to tackle.

The committee is working on the draft of a domestic control bill which would permit a proposed commission to prescribe "such regulations governing the dissemination, publication, transmission and communication of, and the unauthorized acquisition of, information relating to atomic energy as the commission deems necessary. . . ." Presidential approval would be required to put the regulations in effect.

Senator Vandenberg (Rep.), Michigan, a committee member, said an effort will be made to revise this and other sections of the bill to chart as clearly as possible the exact area in which the dissemination of information would be barred.

Penalties for Violations.

As the measure stands, "willful" violations of the commission's regulations would be punishable by a maximum $10,000 fine and five years in jail. Violations made with intent to injure the United States or aid a foreign nation would have maximum penalties of $20,000 fine and 20 years in jail.

"Nobody likes having an administrative bureau write criminal law," Vandenberg told a reporter, "but we are dealing with imponderables here. We don't know what developments the future may bring."

He said he did not interpret the information control sections of the bill as barring legitimate criticism of operations or policies of the proposed commission.

Differences on Question.

McMahon said there was a wide divergence of opinion about how much information can be made public about atomic energy developments.

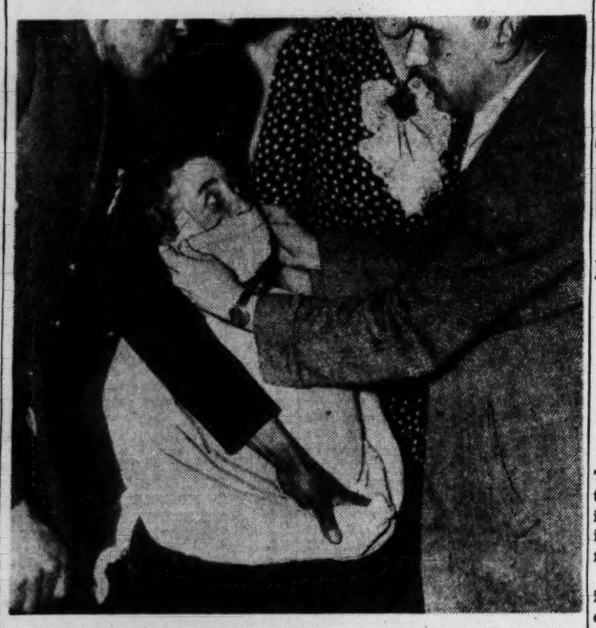

The pending bill says the dissemination of scientific and technical information "should be permitted and encouraged so as to provide that free interchange of ideas and criticisms which is essential to scientific progress."

It proposes that information on the use of atomic energy for industrial purposes "be shared with other nations on a reciprocal basis as soon as effective and enforceable international safeguards against the use of such energy for destructive purposes have been established."

Information given the Senate Atomic Energy Investigating Committee indicates that the actual annual production cost for

Defendant Gagged in Court

MRS. ESPERANZA PISANTI being gagged by WILLIAM GREEN (right), a male nurse, in court in New York yesterday after she repeatedly ignored the court's admonition against hysterical outbursts during her trial for murder. She also was placed in a strait-jacket and her feet were bound.

WOMAN PROMISES TO QUIT SCREAMING IF GAG IS LEFT OFF

NEW YORK, April 9 (UP)—Mrs. Esperanza Pisanti, 49 years old, on trial for murder, promised to behave today if Judge Samuel Liebowitz would not make her wear a strait-jacket and gag when she appeared in court.

"I swear, I promise to be good. No monkeyshines," said Mrs. Pisanti.

Mrs. Pisanti, who is accused of fatally shooting Mrs. Nancy Catalano when they occupied the same house, had interrupted the trial several times recently by denouncing witnesses and screaming at them.

When Mrs. Catalano's 17-year-old daughter, Josephine, was testifying yesterday, Mrs. Pisanti screamed at her "You're a liar! You'll drop dead just like your mother dropped dead!"

After all attempts to quiet her had failed, Judge Liebowitz ordered Mrs. Pisanti bound and gagged for the remainder of the session. He said she could tap her foot when she wanted to confer with her lawyer.

MIKADO CALLED 'THAT GUY'; JAP COURT STUDIES LEGALITY

Communist Candidate Also Exercised Freedom of Speech to Term Prince a "Brat."

TOKYO, April 9 (AP)—The Japanese judiciary, which has been pussyfooting carefully through interpretations of civilian rights in occupied Japan, has been brought up short with the question: May the emperor be referred to as "that guy."

Likewise puzzling are the questions: May the empress be called "that guy's wife" and the crown prince a "brat." Kyodo news agency reported the royal family had been so termed by Kenichi Ito, Communist candidate for the Diet, in a campaign speech.

A shocked police official heard the references, Kyodo said, and asked the public prosecutor for a ruling. The prosecutor asked the supreme court, and the court, with no one to ask, is pondering.

WHEAT SUPPLY OF MILLS LOW, SAYS INDUSTRY HEAD

Information on Flour Scarcity Given to Meeting of Officials With Millers and Bakers.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—A spokesman for the milling industry said today that Americans may be virtually without flour within 60 days because of a wheat shortage.

Carl D. McKenzie, president of the Millers' National Federation, told a conference of Agriculture Department officials and representatives of the milling and baking industries that millers are running low on wheat and are unable to buy more.

Government officials said it would be impossible to print ration books and assemble boards to ration flour and wheat to meet the present foreign relief emergency.

PAIR QUESTIONED IN MURDER OF ALICE SHRYOCK

One Youth Asserted He Knew More Than He Was Saying — Other Was Near Scene.

Two youths from St. Louis were being questioned today by the St. Louis county sheriff's office in an effort to throw some light on the mystery of the murder of Alice Shryock, who was found shot to death in a wooded area near Creve Coeur Lake last Saturday afternoon.

St. Louis police said they picked up the young men after learning that one of them had told friends he knew more about the murder than he "was saying." The other youth, police said, admitted being near the spot where the girl's body was found last Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Flemming, 4501A Flad avenue.

Funeral services for Miss Shryock will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Baumann undertaking establishment at 2504 Woodson road, Overland. Burial will be in Mt. Lebanon Cemetery, Pattonville.

Youths' Stories.

One of the youths questioned today told St. Louis police that he and his friend were in the county riding streetcars and looking for mushroom beds. He said he was in a field near Creve Coeur Lake when he noticed a group of persons several hundred yards away. He walked to the group, he said, and learned that a girl's body had been found a short time before.

The other youth said he bragged about knowing of the murder "just to impress my friends." Both said they did not know Miss Shryock.

St. Louis police said neither of the youths owned an automobile. The murderer apparently did have a machine, deputy sheriffs said. Tire marks in the soft earth were found near the spot where Miss Shryock's body was discovered. Plaster impressions of the tracks have been made by the sheriff's office.

Pfc. Charles Kempfer, who is on a 30-day re-enlistment furlough visiting his parents at 3622 Marvin avenue, Overland, was one of the last persons to see Alice Shryock alive. He told a Post-Dispatch reporter today that he met her and Margaret Mae St. Cin, 9351 St. Charles Rock road, in a motion picture theater in Overland Wednesday night.

After the show he accompanied the girls to a restaurant and later to a tavern, he said. Miss Shryock's conversation did not indicate she was worried or unhappy, he said, although Margaret Mae

OPA ENDS CEILINGS ON HUNDREDS OF ARTICLES FROM MOPS TO MOTORS

Household Items and Industrial Machinery Affected in 'Most Extensive Decontrol Action' So Far.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration yesterday removed price ceilings from hundreds of consumer items ranging from dust mops to fly swatters.

It also discontinued price ceilings on about a third of all industrial machinery and equipment—the "most extensive decontrol action yet taken by OPA," according to Price Administrator Paul A. Porter.

The OPA described products covered by the consumer order as "of only minor importance in living costs or in the cost of doing business."

To Ease Administrative Load.

The OPA said suspension of ceilings on such minor diversified items would permit the agency "to maintain more effective controls on major consumer goods by lightening the administrative load somewhat."

Prices on the products may rise in some instances, OPA said, but if controls had not been lifted it probably would have been necessary to increase the ceilings.

The agency said it would reinstate controls in cases where prices rose "unreasonably."

Porter said the suspension of ceilings on a long list of industrial machinery and equipment items was in line with OPA's policy "of removing price controls" as soon as they were "no longer needed to safeguard the country from the disaster of inflation."

Porter said farmers and small businesses would not be hurt by the industrial order, since the suspension had been limited "to products they do not generally use."

As in the case of the consumer products, Porter said controls would be restored if inflationary prices or serious diversion of manpower, materials or facilities occurred.

Types of Equipment.

Products covered by the industrial order are under six main classifications—electrical, machine tools, processing machinery, construction equipment, transportation equipment and miscellaneous items.

Among products from which controls are being removed are electric motors of 250 horsepower or greater, steam-hydraulic and gas turbines, large-sized machine tools, both new and second, numerous types of textile machinery, specially built web-fed newspaper and magazine printing presses, dredges, locomotives and tenders, railroad cars, dies, jigs, and fixtures, some Diesel engines and mechanical precision springs.

The OPA also announced a limited exemption of certain heavy wool overcoat materials from coverage by the maximum average price regulation.

The action, effective tomorrow, applies to 100 per cent wool fabric, 26 ounces and heavier, which is sold at $3.25 a yard or less. But it exempts only that part of output on such fabrics which is in excess of base period production of the same material.

Manufacturers must continue to produce a quantity of lower-priced fabrics in a quantity at least equal to that of their base period, usually 1943, in order to take advantage of the new provision.

While OPA said the purpose of the change is "to assure that there is no future impediment" to increased production of men's overcoats, the agency ordered a further limitation "to prevent a drastic shift to higher-priced fabrics." It provides that future deliveries of all-wool overcoat fabric may not bring a manufacturer's weighted average price on such deliveries to more than 10 per cent above his base period weighted average price.

WHITE HOUSE SAYS TRUMAN WON'T SEE ATOM BOMB TEST

President, However, Is Considering Visit to Philippines On July 4.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The White House said today that President Truman is considering a visit to the Philippines July 4 for the independence celebration, but that he will not view the atom bomb tests to be held in Bikini lagoon about July 1.

Press Secretary Charles G. Ross told a press conference that Truman has "never considered the possibility" of viewing the Pacific Army-Navy tests.

Ross gave his comments in response to questions from reporters who mentioned stories that preparations were being made at Kwajalein to receive the President to witness the tests.

JACKSON CHARGES NAZIS USE COURT TO DISSEMINATE ANTI-JEW TRACTS

Asks Tribunal to Bar Its Printing Facilities to Defense — 'We Cannot Be Press Agents' for Anti-Semitism.

By RICHARD KASISCHKE

NUERNBERG, April 9 (AP)—Justice Robert H. Jackson, chief United States prosecutor, charged before the international military tribunal today that the defense was attempting to "disseminate anti-Semitic propaganda" through the war crimes trial and had committed a "flagrant case of contempt of court."

Jackson based his charges on an exhibit of documentary evidence which the tribunal's presses had printed for defendant Alfred Rosenberg. Jackson contended the material, which he described as "violently anti-Semite and irrelevant rubbish" had been submitted to the printers by Rosenberg's counsel after it had been rejected by the tribunal.

Defense Reaction.

"I stand on the facts," Jackson rejoined, and exhibited to the tribunal stencilled copies of the rejected material.

Jackson read to the tribunal excerpts from Rosenberg's book of documentary evidence which characterized Jews as a "bastard population, . . . arrogant, shrewd and crooked."

"The United States cannot print and disseminate to the press this violent anti-Semitism," Jackson declared. "The defense believes we are here to try the issue of the causes of anti-Semitism, with this tribunal as the sounding board. That is wrong. The issue is not Rosenberg's philosophy, but we are charging the murder of four to five million Jews.

Press Agents for Defense.

"We are in the peculiar position of being press agents for the defense. The United States cannot be the press agent for distribution of this literature, which was one of the vices of this Nazi regime. It seems to me that this is a flagrant case of the defense committing contempt of court."

The United States prosecutor proposed shutting off printing facilities to the defense.

Rosenberg's counsel contended that the anti-Semitic passages read by Jackson were quotations from a French philosopher and were included in the printing order "by mistake."

Jackson's charges, delivered at the opening of the day's session, provoked a 90-minute argument over the rules on submitting, processing and printing documentary evidence.

The tribunal accepted Jackson's suggestion that a special master be appointed to rule on the relevance of material submitted for printing, thus relieving the prosecutors and the tribunal of this problem.

The Greater Grand Forks Association, the Junior Chamber of Commerce and radio station KILO last night broadcast an offer of nylon hose to anyone who would rent a room or apartment to one of the city's 375 homeless veterans.

By the end of the program the sponsors had given away one pair of hose to each of the 185 persons who offered single rooms and two pair each to the 165 landlords who had two and three room apartments.

Dr. Harold C. Urey, Nobel Prize Winner, Says Possibility Is Infinitesmal.

LOS ANGELES, April 9 (AP)—The chances of an atomic bomb explosion setting off a world-razing chain reaction might be termed infinitesmal, Dr. Harold C. Urey says.

The University of Chicago physicist and Nobel prize winner, who helped create the atomic bomb, yesterday estimated the chances at one in 100 septillion. That's a 1 followed by 26 zeros. Written out, it looks like this: 100,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000.

NEW YORK, April 9 (UP)—Spotty, a brown and white fox terrier, was to receive a silver medal from the Greenwich Village Humane League yesterday for his part in saving the lives of 24 children in a Brooklyn tenement fire.

But 31 kittens romping in the league headquarters frightened him so that his owner had to take him away from the ceremonies to soothe his nerves.

GROMYKO RESUMES PLACE IN U.N. COUNCIL; BIG FOUR MINISTERS AGREE TO MEET

FRENCH, RUSSIANS APPROVE BYRNES PLAN FOR PARLEY IN PARIS APRIL 25

Britain Also in Accord—Indications Grow, However, That Talks May Not Prevent Delay in Peace Conference.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The other three members of the Big Four have accepted United States Secretary of State Byrnes's proposal for a meeting of foreign ministers in Paris April 25 to speed up preparations for the European peace conference scheduled May 1.

Foreign Minister George Bidault announced today that the French Cabinet had approved acceptance of the proposal. This followed Byrnes's disclosure late yesterday that British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov had agreed to the meeting.

The conference is expected to determine when the projected 21-nation peace conference can begin. At stake are final treaties which will permit full restoration of sovereignty to the European countries once allied with Nazi Germany—Italy, Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and Finland. Deputies of the foreign ministers are in a deadlock over drafts of the treaties.

Peace Parley Outlook.

Persons close to Byrnes said he considers the approaching Paris trip one of the most important missions he has ever undertaken. He has said repeatedly he regards peace treaties with the former Axis satellites and removal of occupation troops as a critically urgent matter. That is why he has opposed postponing the general European peace conference.

Yesterday at his press conference, however, Byrnes indicated postponement might be inevitable. He said the foreign ministers would have to set the date for its opening. The peace conference May 1 date was fixed in the Moscow Big Three agreement last December.

A reporter asked Byrnes if it had not been intended at the Moscow meeting that the smaller nations would have "a reasonable time" to study the drafts of proposed peace treaties prior to the Paris conference. Byrnes said that was true, but he repeated that the opening date would have to be decided finally by the four foreign ministers.

(A United Press dispatch from London said British Foreign Office sources regarded the Paris peace conference as definitely off. The hope expressed in the United States that a postponement of two or three weeks would suffice was considered unduly optimistic.

(Official British circles doubted even whether the Big Four conference would bring about speedy reconciliation of Soviet and British-American views on the Italian and Balkan peace treaty drafts. Russia's decision to join the conference was welcomed in London, but there was little optimism about the progress to be expected.)

Possibility of Spain Issue.

An Associated Press dispatch from London said well-informed sources there believed Britain had agreed to a French suggestion that the four foreign ministers should discuss the Franco government in Spain. A British Foreign Office spokesman said Britain had answered the French note, but would not say what the answer was.

Primary tasks for the foreign ministers will be reconciliation of divergent views on Italian reparations, the future of Italy's colonies, the Yugoslav-Italian border

FRENCH TO THRESH OUT QUESTIONS WHICH DELAY ALLIANCE WITH BRITAIN

PARIS, April 9 (AP). A COMMUNIQUE said the French Cabinet voted unanimously today for continuance of British-French negotiations on "all questions actually pending between the two governments so as to prepare for the conclusion of an alliance." British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin recently announced Britain's readiness to negotiate such an alliance.

The Cabinet's announcement caused speculation that a compromise might be worked out between the French and British positions on the Ruhr. France's demand for internationalization of the Ruhr was reaffirmed by the Cabinet last Friday after the press had reported President Felix Gouin was taking a stand for only economic control of the industrial region, leaving it attached politically to Germany. This stand was more in accord with the British position.

U. S. OFFER TO JOIN WITH ARGENTINA IN HEMISPHERE PACT

Messersmith Named Ambassador to Buenos Aires, Pawley to Brazil, Flack to Bolivia.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The United States announced last night that it would sign a hemispheric defense pact with Argentina if the government there lived up to its commitments.

The announcement confirmed reports of a change in the State Department's Latin-American policy. Previously, emphasis had been placed on denunciations of the Argentine Government and refusal to sit down with it to draw the defense pact.

Today, President Truman nominated George S. Messersmith, now ambassador to Mexico, to be ambassador to Argentina, and named William D. Pawley, present ambassador to Peru, to be ambassador to Brazil.

The President also sent to the Senate the nominations of Joseph Flack to be ambassador to Brazil and J. Rives Childs to be minister to Saudi Arabia. Both Flack and Childs are foreign service officers.

Republics Sounded Out.

Secretary of State Byrnes, in a prepared statement handed out at his press conference last night, disclosed that on April 1 the United States submitted a memorandum on the question of a hemispheric defense pact to all the American republics except Argentina and that most of them have already concurred in it.

The memorandum expressed this Government's readiness to relax its stand provided the newly elected government of Col. Juan Peron "will give prompt implementation by positive acts to commitments under the inter-American system." But, said the American document, "there must be deeds and not merely promises."

"Those undertakings are plain and unequivocal. They require the elimination from this hemisphere

PACIFIC CLEARED OF MINES

10,000 Taken From Sea Lanes, Coasts and Channels.

PEARL HARBOR, T.H., April 9 (UP)—The greatest mine-sweeping job in history has ended and sea lanes of the Pacific now are clear for peacetime shipping, naval officials revealed today.

R. Adm. Arthur Dewty Struble reported completion of the task of removing 10,000 United States and Japanese mines from channels and anchorages of East Asian ports and coasts and in open sea areas.

MEMBERS ADOPT SOVIET PROPOSAL FOR 2 HIGH LEVEL MEETINGS A YEAR

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER.

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—The United Nations Security Council called today for meetings at least twice a year of the presidents and prime ministers or foreign ministers of its 11 member nations.

The action was taken unanimously on the motion of Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko, who had just ended his 13-day boycott of the Council.

In a brief discussion of "periodic meetings," which appeared to confuse some of the delegates, Lt. Col. W. R. Hodgson, Australian delegate, explained that they were supposed to be gatherings of the top representatives of the members of the Council.

The Council also approved a recommendation of its committee of experts on procedure for regular meetings of the Council at least once every 14 days.

Iran Not Discussed.

Gromyko walked calmly into the council chamber, ending his boycott of the council for its discussion of the Iraina case. Iran was not on today's agenda, although Gromyko has pending a demand for complete dismissal of the case.

Despite the routine nature of the agenda, the chamber was filled almost to capacity, perhaps in the expectation that the Iranian case, or Poland's announced intention to put the Spanish issue before the council, would be taken up.

Gromyko smiled as he took his seat. He came back to a Council session which was convened, according to the agenda, stolely for a discussion of proposed changes in the rules. The Council began its thirty-first session at 3:06 p.m. (2:06, St. Louis time).

Gromyko Silent on Course.

Gromyko, asked earlier by reporters whether he planned to bring up his demand that the Iranian case be dropped from the docket, replied:

"Ask the president of the Security Council. He know's what's on the agenda."

As the session began, all the delegates were present except the Mexican foreign minister, Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, who was in Baltimore for a physical checkup at Johns Hopkins. Dr. Najera was represented by Rafael de la Colina, resident minister in Washington.

Dr. Quo Tai-chi, chairman of the Council, called up the report of the committee of experts on rules and proposed that it be read in detail and considered by the Council. Dr. Yuen-Li Liang, of China, chairman of the committee, moved to the Council table for the report.

Dr. Liang gave a brief review of the committee's work, explaining how it had arrived at the conclusions contained in the proposed rules. The committee proposed that 23 rules supplant the first 15 rules of procedure adopted at the London meeting of the Council in January of this year.

(Frank Sinatra, the singer, sat almost unnoticed in the spectators' section while the public craned their necks for a better look at Gromyko, the United Press reported.)

Fight May Develop.

Russia has filed with the Council a demand for complete dismissal of the Iranian case.

Barring one possibility, a stiff Soviet-American fight appears likely to result over this issue. Secretary of State Byrnes indicated that the United States is opposed to reopening the Iranian case until May 6, the deadline by which all Soviet troops are supposed to be out of Iran. Some officials said the British hold a similar view.

The possibility was seen that Iran might agree with Russia's demand. Such a development would mean that the two governments most concerned in the controversy considered it a closed book as far as the Council goes. That might weaken any argument the United States could make for keeping it open for consideration May 6.

Ala has asked Premier Ahmed Qavam at Tehran for instructions. News dispatches from Tehran pre-

Weather in Next Two Weeks Regarded as Critical for Crops

The next two weeks will be critical for food growers, Paul Bernard, St. Louis county farm agent, said today.

"Normally there would be little danger in a mild freeze at this time of year," he told a Post-Dispatch reporter, "but this year due to the advanced state of many crops, it would be disastrous. It has been pretty dry for this time of year, too, and unless there is a good rain soon, many advantages of the prolonged spring weather will be offset.

"Farmers tell me they have never known the apple trees to be in full bloom so early, and I can't recall a time when corn has been out of the ground at this date before."

The weather yesterday was ideal for fruit, vegetables, grain and pasturage, he said, and bumper crops, particularly of vegetables, may be expected if the weather remains favorable.

Meanwhile, seed stores reported a return to pre-victory garden buying, with an absence of such requests as that of a victory gardener last year, who wanted a pound of carrot seeds—enough for an acre of carrots. Seed men said there was an increased interest in flowers.

Prices Rise by Hour in Hungary; Pengoe Now 22 Million to Dollar

BUDAPEST, April 9 (UP)—One dollar would get you 22,000,000 pengoes in Budapest today. Last week the unofficial exchange rate was 16,000,000 pengoes to the dollar. Before the war the official rate was five pengoes per dollar.

The Hungarian National Bank today issued new 10,000,000-pengoe notes. Their purchasing power was less than that of half a dollar.

This is inflation rampant. Europe has seen nothing like it since the German inflation of the early '20s. Then the Germans carted a wheelbarrow-load of marks to market to get a sack of potatoes.

The prices posted in Budapest shop windows are changed several times a day. Wages soar at the same mad pace. Last week they went up 400 per cent.

CHURCHILL ASKED ROOSEVELT IN '41 TO MAKE JAPAN FEAR DOUBLE WAR

Pressed for U.S. to 'Instill Anxiety' That Move on Singapore Would Mean Conflict With This Nation.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Winston Churchill pressed the late President Roosevelt as early as February 1941 to "instill in Japan anxiety" that a move toward Singapore would mean war with the United States.

This was disclosed today as the Senate-House committee investigating Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor was given new documents gathered from State Department and White House files. Seth Richardson, committee counsel, put them in the record when the committee reopened its hearings.

One document was a message from the then British Prime Minister to Roosevelt, dated Feb. 15, 1941, expressing concern that "the Japanese mean to make war on us, or to do something which would compel us to make war on them, during the next few weeks or months."

'One Cannot Tell.'

"There are some," Churchill added, "who consider that in Japan's present mood she would have no hesitation to entertain an attempt to make war against both your country and mine. Although it is my personal belief that the odds are definitely against such an event, one cannot tell.

"Whatever you are able to do to instill in Japan anxiety as to a double war may succeed in averting this danger. Nevertheless should we alone be attacked, it would be difficult to overstate the grave character of the consequences."

Five days later another message came from Churchill which said:

"Have received better news concerning Japan. It seems Jap Foreign Minister is shortly going to Moscow, Berlin and Rome for the purpose of covering the failure of action against us. The fear of the United States appears to have postponed attack which seemed imminent. While completely understanding your situation pending enactment of bill on which our hopes depend, the more these fears can be aroused the better."

Presumably, the bill to which he referred was the Lend-Lease Act, enacted in the spring of 1941.

Unaware of Message.

Gen. George C. Marshall and Adm. Harold R. Stark today told the committee they knew nothing of any attempts to summon them to the White House for a war conference with Roosevelt on the eve of the Pearl Harbor attack.

Adm. Stark was the first witness today after a month recess of the hearings, and Gen. Marshal followed him to the witness chair.

Both the former Army chief of staff and former chief of naval operations repeated that they had not seen or been told about a final Japanese diplomatic message until the morning of the attack.

Comdr. Lester R. Schulz, on duty at the White House the night of Dec. 6, has testified previously that when 13 parts of the 14-part message were delivered to Roosevelt that night he exclaimed, "This means war."

Reported at Theater.

Stark told the committee today that if he had known about any such interpretation of the message by the President he would have gone into action immediately. Despite Schulz' testimony that the White House attempted to reach him the night of Dec. 6 and found that he was at a local theater, Stark said he was not informed of any such attempt. He said he did not remember where he was that night.

Stark testified that he was not at the White House the evening of Dec. 7, when Roosevelt talked with other leaders.

Stark said he believed there never was any Japanese code message signalling a break with the United States. This has become known as the "winds code."

The late Henry L. Stimson, then Secretary of War, wrote in his diary that a White House meeting on Nov. 25, 1941, had concerned itself with "how to maneuver them (the Japanese) into firing the first shot."

"What were we going to do to maneuver them into firing the first shot?" Senator Ferguson (Rep.), Michigan, asked Marshall, who attended the meeting.

Marshall replied that "we were not trying to provoke the Japanese into an attack," that "diplomatic procedure" was discussed. He said it would have been "a serious matter" if this country had been forced on the offensive.

Note by British.

Included among the documents put in the record was an appraisal of the situation by the British chiefs of staff, who suggested that American naval forces be sent to Singapore. Lord Halifax, the British ambassador, delivered it to the State Department Feb. 11, 1941, with a note saying:

"I need not emphasize how greatly my government hope that the United States Government will feel able to take some effective action in the very near future to deter the Japanese."

Other documents disclosed that the British were consulted about, and encouraged, movement of some Pacific fleet units to the Atlantic. The committee has heard contentions that transfer of those units made the Pacific fleet weaker than Japan's naval forces.

R. Adm. R. K. Turner, then assistant chief of naval operations, informed British R. Adm. V. H. Danckwerts, attached to the embassy here, on April 25 that an aircraft carrier and five destroyers were being moved from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

He asked:

"With due regard to the existing political situation in the Far East, and to the present strength of the United States Atlantic Fleet, would it be advisable, at this time, for the United States to transfer from the Pacific to the Atlantic three battleships, four light cruisers, and two destroyer squadrons? (Note that this force is nearly equal to the force to be transferred after the United States entered the war.)"

British View of Shift

A British aide memorandum of May 8 gave this reply:

"Our opinion which is concurred in in general by both Australia and New Zealand is that any marked advance by the U.S. Navy in or into the Atlantic would be on the whole more likely to deter Japan from going to war than the maintenance of the present very large U. S. fleet at Hawaii, and further that it might exercise a profound influence on the present critical situation in Spain, Turkey and Vichy France. You should therefore strongly encourage American action in this sense.

"The problem for the U. S. authorities is so nicely to judge the degree of the transfer that while still retaining the deterrent effect of a strong U. S. fleet in the Pacific, there will also be the deterrent effect of an increased U. S. fleet in the Atlantic."

Admiral Halsey in Hospital.

PHILADELPHIA, April 9 (AP)—Fleet Admiral William F. Halsey Jr., is in Philadelphia Naval Hospital, suffering from an "upper respiratory infection," the Navy announced today. Halsey, who had been suffering for several days "with symptoms of a common cold is in very good condition," it was said.

MERGER OF ARMED FORCES URGED IN SENATE REPORT

Subcommittee Recommends Civilian Secretary of Common Defense, With Secretaries for Army, Navy, Air Forces Under Him.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (UP)—A Senate Military Affairs subcommittee today recommended sweeping reorganization of United States armed forces into three co-equal branches under a single Cabinet secretary of common defense.

The subcommittee said unification of all the fighting services was essential for the nation's security "in the light of our new world power, our new international commitments and risks and the epochal new scientific discoveries" such as the atomic bomb.

Its long-debated plan would give the Air Force its eagerly-sought status as a full equal of the land Army and the Navy.

The proposed secretary of common defense, a civilian to be appointed by the President, would be a member of the Cabinet and the top authority, under the President, for all of the armed forces.

Within his department would be three secretaries, one for the Army, one for the Navy and one for the Air Forces. They, too, would be civilians but would not be members of the Cabinet. Each would be the executive head of his particular branch and would operate under directions of the single secretary of common defense.

Follows Army Proposal.

The unification plan was proposed by a Military Affairs subcommittee headed by Senator Elbert Thomas (Dem.), Utah, which has been studying the problem for many months. In general, it followed the plan urged by the Army and opposed by the Navy.

Thomas introduced the merger bill in the Senate a few hours after the subcommittee recommended it. The full Senate Military Affairs Committee probably will approve it with little opposition, he said, but he does not expect Congress to pass it this session.

The subcommittee said the doctrine of unified command had proved its worth beyond question and must be applied to America's postwar military establishment to avoid the waste, delays, duplication and conflict which marred "an otherwise outstanding war record."

The committee's plan also provides:

1. A council of common defense, with broad powers to coordinate over-all policies of the Government in the international and military fields. Members would be the secretary of common defense, the Secretary of State and the chairman of a new national security resources board, which would provide policies and programs for maximum use of the nation's resources in support of national security.

2. An under secretary of common defense and four assistant secretaries. The latter would supervise and co-ordinate scientific research and development; intelligence; procurement of supplies, logistics and industrial mobilization; and training of the armed forces, education and medical care.

3. A chief of staff of common defense, who would be a top Army, Navy or Air Force officer serving as military adviser to the President and the secretary of common defense.

4. Retention of the joint chiefs of staff under the secretary of common defense to provide full opportunity for "the presentation of the balanced views of each military component."

5. Integration of the military budget.

6. A central intelligence agency, reporting to the common defense council and charged with compiling, analyzing, evaluating and disseminating information gathered by all government agencies, including the military services.

Secretary the Key Man.

The subcommittee said the secretary of common defense would be the "key individual."

"From him stems a simple and definite line of authority to integrate and supervise the whole military establishment," the report said.

"On his own initiative, or at the request of others, he can settle conflicts and remove obstructions to prompt and effective decisions and action.

"Obviously, the magnitude of his task and the importance of his duties call for a man of outstanding stature, capabilities and experience."

The subcommittee recommended the Army, the Navy and the Air Force each be commanded by an officer appointed for a three-year term by the President.

Each would exercise command over his branch under the Secretary of Common Defense. Air Force and Army commanders would have the rank of geenral of the Army while the Navy chief would be ranked as a fleet admiral.

The central intelligence agency would be headed by a director appointed by the President from civilian or military life. Any commissioned officer of the Army, Navy or Air Force would be eligible. The agency would have no police, subpena, law enforcement or "internal security powers."

Lesson of Pearl Harbor.

The subcommittee commented that the United States fleet disaster at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941, "highlighted the fact that we lack that constant pooling of information and attention and that dovetailing of policy and action essential to the protection of our position in world affairs."

"The avoidance of its recurrence demands unification," the subcommittee said, "unification at a level high enough to embrace all basic elements of our national security. Otherwise, vital gaps in the organizational structure will remain."

The subcommittee asserted that the doctrine of unified command is "a principle which proved its worth beyond question . . . (and) must find its counterpart in an effective directing head of common defense in Washington."

"Only by vesting clear and final powers of decision in one man, under the President, can we in the future avoid the conflicts, duplications, delays, and waste which marred an otherwise outstanding war record," it continued.

Prompt Action Urged.

The subcommittee asserted that unification must be achieved "promptly while the lessons of the war are still fresh in our minds."

They said the proposal "affords no foundation for fears of militarism" because civilian control is "clear beyond question at all levels."

The subcommittee asserted that the importance of air power in the war and its potential development in the future "called for a position of equality" with the Army and Navy.

It asserted that the advent of the atomic age required an entirely new approach to the problems of common defense, "a comprehensive approach embracing all elements which serve our national security."

It said "effective" legislation needed to meet the demands of the atomic era includes:

"Sound relations between our foreign and military policies;

"A central intelligence agency;

"A vehicle for the co-ordination of scientific research and development within the military services and between them and our industrial and academic laboratories;

"And, finally, provisions for co-ordinating our military program with our national resources in manpower, materials and facilities."

In addition to Thomas, the subcommittee members were Senators Warren Austin (Rep.), Vermont, and Lister Hill (Dem.), Alabama.

BILL TO CHOP WAR FUNDS SENT TO JOINT COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The Senate declined yesterday to chop wartime voted appropriations as much as the House had suggested after being told the Army and Navy might not be able to meet payroll needs in the next three months.

The House had voted to reduce appropriations by $7,194,417,459. The Senate instead suggested making the cut only $6,644,469,002.

DRAFT HOLIDAY PLAN REJECTED BY HOUSE BODY

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The House Military Committee rejected today a proposal to prohibit draft inductions between May 15 and next Feb. 15 and called an afternoon session to vote on a compromise.

The compromise, offered by Representative Sparkman (Dem.), Alabama, calls for a one-year extension of the draft law beyond May 15, with a bar against inductions until Dec. 15 and a provision allowing the President to reinstate the draft after that date if enlistments fall short of expectations.

The rejected proposal was offered by Representative Harness (Rep.), Indiana. It would have killed the draft outright after next Feb. 15 unless Congress acted in the meantime. At the same time it would have prohibited practically all inductions but would have required 18-year-olds to register.

Members reported the vote on the Harness proposal as 21 to 2.

The Senate Military Committee decided today to delay until Thursday a decision on the Administration's request for a one-year extension beyond May 15.

Chairman Elbert Thomas (Dem.), Utah, of the Senate committee said his group reached these decisions:

Rejected 7 to 4 a proposal by Senator Edwin C. Johnson (Dem.), Colorado, to extend the draft for six weeks until July 1. The original vote was 6 to 4, but another Senator voted late.

Rejected 8 to 3 proposals by Senator Revercomb (Rep.), West Virginia, that the draft be continued, but inductions halted after May 15 and then July 1.

Chairman Thomas said that Senators Austin (Rep.), Vermont, and Gurney (Rep.), South Dakota, had proposed the one year extension, but committee action was delayed to allow drafting clerks to prepare numerous proposed amendments.

The Sparkman substitute before the House group sets a ceiling on the armed forces of 1,070,000 officers and enlisted men for the Army, 558,000 for the Navy and 108,000 for the Marine Corps, all by July 1, 1947.

If, after Dec. 15, it was apparent that those quotas could not be met by voluntary enlistments, the President could reinstate the draft, setting monthly quotas at a rate designed to meet the expected shortage.

The House committee tentatively rejected an amendment by Sparkman to write into the new legislation a flat $400 a year pay rise for all service personnel to spur enlistments. However, another pay proposal, calling for smaller rises, was still pending.

The House committee also rejected a proposal to raise the minimum draft age from 18 to 21 years. It favored, however, a limitation of 18 months on the service of all inductees, including men now in service as well as future draftees.

U.S. FLEET TO HOLD FIVE-WEEK GAMES IN WEST ATLANTIC

Adm. Mitscher Discloses Plan for 29-Ship Maneuvers Covering Caribbean Area.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (UP)—Twenty-nine American fighting ships, headed by the mighty battleship Missouri and the new 45,000-ton aircraft carriers Franklin D. Roosevelt and Midway, will conduct five-week practice maneuvers in the western Atlantic and Caribbean areas this spring.

Plans for the operations were announced yesterday by Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, commander of the new Eighth Fleet, at a press conference. The maneuvers, which will begin April 19 and end May 27, are the first large-scale practice games since the end of the war.

They will include actual ship bombardment, aircraft bombing, strafing and rocket attacks against the uninhabited northwest part of Culebra island, 16 miles east of Puerto Rico.

Other operations planned involve simulated air attacks and air reconnaissance over Guantanamo, Culebra, Saint Thomas, Roosevelt Roads and other Caribbean bases. Anti-aircraft firing and refueling operations at sea also will be conducted by the warships.

Four Operating Periods.

The games will be divided into four operating periods. The first phase will begin April 19 when the ships rendezvous southeast of the Virginia capes. The period will extend through April 27, at which time the fleet will anchor at Trinidad for about four days.

Operations during the second period will be confined to the Caribbean area and will end when the ships enter Guantanamo on May 8.

The next phase extends from May 12 to 17, when the force will operate north of Culebra island. From May 20 to 26 the fleet will swing past Bermuda en route to New York, where the men assigned to the task group will be given liberty.

In addition to Mitscher, who will fly his flag from the Franklin D. Roosevelt, striking forces of the task group will be commanded by R. Adm. John H. Cassady and R. Adm. Edward W. Litch. The two striking forces will oppose each other during one phase of the Caribbean operations.

10,000 to 15,000 Men.

Mitscher said that about 70 per cent of the 10,000 to 15,000 men who will participate would be experienced personnel. Most of the air squadrons, however, are composed of relatively inexperienced pilots and crewmen.

He said the operations probably will be followed by Atlantic and Pacific cold-weather games next winter.

Major ships assigned, in addition to the Missouri and the large carriers, include the carrier Princeton, the heavy cruiser Macon, and the light cruisers Dayton and Little Rock. Two destroyer divisions will be made up of the Gearing, E. A. Greene, Gyatt, K. D. Bailey, W. R. Rush, H. J. Ellison, C. R. Ware, Vogelgesang and Steinaker.

Supporting units will consist of the escort carrier Salerno Bay; four destroyer escorts; six auxiliaries—Renate, Chemung, Elokomin, Saturn, Mercury and Great Sitkin; the dock-type landing ship Fort Mandan and the landing craft repair ship Quirinus.

Poison Gas, Developed in War, To Be Tested in Blood Cancer

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J., April 9 (AP)—Human leukemia, cancerous condition of the blood which causes excessive multiplication of the white corpuscles, is the next target of a war-developed poison gas which has been used successfully in animal experiments.

Maj. Gen. Alden H. Waitt of the Chemical Warfare Service disclosed this yesterday at a press conference at the 109th meeting of the American Chemical Society.

Earlier Secretary of War Patterson disclosed that war research on chemical and bacteriological weapons had opened up new lines of attacks against certain forms of cancer, ptomaine poisoning, a serious eye disease and other ills of animal and plant life.

Waitt, describing the development of a class of war gases known as "nitrogen mustards," said:

"It was found that one of the nitrogen mustard compounds which we were going to use in war, if called upon, would also knock out leukemia in mice."

He said the experimental researches against blood cancer, carried on by Dr. Cornelius Rhoades of New York Memorial Hospital, were sufficiently encouraging to warrant further investigation of the possibility of employing the compound against the disease in human beings.

Elaborating on a speech to the chemists in which he declared the United States had knowledge of chemical agents "thousands of times more toxic" than mustard gas, Waitt said this nation already had developed "to the point of utility" a chemical agent several hundred times more effective than the substances known as war gases.

He did not amplify, except to say the chemical agent was "diffusible as a cloud."

Patterson departed from the text of his address yesterday to assert that the Army's policy regarding domestic control of atomic energy has been "steadily misunderstood." He declared the military favors full control "by a civilian agency."

"The May-Johnson bill does not provide that the military shall have even a single place (on a proposed commission) but (it provides) that the President, if he saw fit, could appoint a military man to the commission," he asserted. "It is not mandatory."

He said the Army's position was that "until the happy day comes" when world peace is assured, the military "should have a consulting or advisory role" on atomic matters with military applications.

FRANK WHIPPED CZECH WOMAN, WITNESS SAYS

Accuser Stands Two Feet From Nazi in Prague Courtroom.

PRAGUE, April 9 (AP)—Karl Hermann Frank, Nazi "protector" of Czechoslovakia, was accused by a former Gestapo official yesterday of having been in Lidice "during the last of the executions there or shortly thereafter."

Frank is on trial in a people's court on charges of having ordered the Lidice massacre and of committing other war crimes.

Harold Wiesman, former Gestapo chief of Kladno, said that all of Lidice's males over 16 years old—about 178—were shot June 10, 1942. The women were sent to concentration camps and the children to scattered homes, he added.

Another witness, Constable Antonin Hyka, testified Frank beat a woman in the face with a riding crop during a demonstration in Prague. When Frank denied this charge, the judge asked the elderly constable to repeat the testimony to the defendant's face.

Hyka walked within two feet of Frank and said: "Frank, I saw you strike a woman in the face with a riding crop until she fell to the ground. Then you kicked her."

REPORTS UNRRA BARS EXPORT OF DANISH MEAT SURPLUS

COPENHAGEN, April 9 (AP)—While famine threatens many parts of the world, Denmark's cold storage warehouses are filled with meat which the country is unable to export, Jacob Tvedegaard, chairman of the Danish Agriculture Ministry's cattle meat committee, said today.

Tvedegaard characterized the situation as "sheer madness."

"Several European countries would like to buy," he said, "but according to the UNRRA's allocation lists they are not able or allowed to do so."

He asserted that Danish representatives at a food congress now being held in Switzerland will make a new attempt to obtain UNRRA permission to sell surplus meat to the European countries concerned.

DOOLITTLE MEN TIED TO CROSSES BY EXECUTIONERS

Jap Captain Says He Told Them They Would Die as Christ Did and 'Be Honored as Gods.'

SHANGHAI, April 9 (AP)—Capt. Sotojiro Tatsuta, commander of the firing squad which executed three Doolittle airmen here in 1942, described today how he strapped the Americans to crosses and then urged them to take heart as they were dying "as Christ did."

"I told them," Tatsuta testified at his war crimes trial before an American military commission, "Christ died on the cross and they must die on the cross. When you die on the cross you will be honored as gods."

Tatsuta said the Americans made no final statement, other than a request that their families be told they died bravely.

Earlier, Lt. Gen. Shigeru Sawada, former commander of the Thirteenth Japanese Army and top ranking officer among the four trial defendants, repeated his contention that responsibility for the executions lay in Tokyo and he was powerless to reduce the punishment.

FRENCH ASSEMBLY VOTES TO SUPPRESS PROSTITUTION

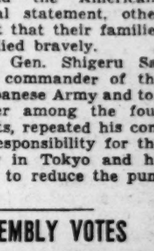

PARIS, April 9 (AP)—The French constituent assembly approved unanimously today a bill suppressing prostitution in metropolitan France and increasing efforts to wipe out white slavery.

The new law calls for closing all houses of prostitution within from one to six months according to the size of the cities. Towns of less than 5,000 inhabitants must close their institutions within one month.

The old French system of licensing prostitutes is abolished. All registers of prostitutes were ordered destroyed immediately, and special establishments for the voluntary "re-education and social reclassment" of the women were ordered set up.

ILLINOIS SUSPECT IS QUESTIONED IN KILLING OF COUNTY DRUGGIST

Man Said to Have Made Unsuccessful Attempt to Buy Narcotics From Kopp—Once Worked in Vicinity.

An East Side man, who formerly worked at a nursing home in the vicinity of the Kopp drug store in Manchester, three miles west of Kirkwood, was being questioned today by Sheriff Arthur C. Mosley of St. Louis county in the murder of Otto Kopp, owner of the store, last Saturday night.

East St. Louis police arrested the man at the request of Mosley after it was learned from another suspect in the case that the man, who lives in O'Fallon, Ill., had made an unsuccessful attempt to purchase narcotics from Kopp some time ago.

It was testified at an inquest today in the death of Kopp that an automobile with an Illinois license plate had been parked outside the combination drug store and market for almost two hours Saturday night. The sheriff's office reported a coat, found in the O'Fallon man's room, had dark spots on it that may be blood spots. They are to be analyzed to determine whether or not the spots are human blood.

Homicide Verdict.

A verdict of homicide at the hands of a party or parties unknown was returned by the coroner's jury.

Kopp, who was an eccentric, 71-year-old man, shunned banks and reportedly led acquaintances to believe that he kept a considerable amount of money on the premises of the store.

Lt. Clarence E. Potts of the Missouri State Highway Patrol testified at the inquest that Kopp apparently was slugged the first time while standing back of the cigar counter of his store. A pool of blood and an eight-inch piece of steel from an automobile spring were found there. Kopp's assailants then took the druggist to the second floor of the house, where they bound and gagged him and ransacked his bedroom, apparently searching for a hidden cache of money.

Highway patrolmen learned, Potts said, that the Illinois automobile, a Studebaker, with a man and a woman in it, had been parked outside the drug store from about 7:30 to 9:15 p.m. Saturday. Witnesses said the machine was there before the store closed and had remained there after it was closed.

All but One Window Locked.

All the doors and every window except one on the second floor rear of the two-story building Kopp owned were securely locked from the inside, Potts said. This led him to deduce that the assailants left the building by that one rear window, which leads to a garage roof about seven feet above the ground.

Dr. Herbert S. Breyfogle testified Kopp had suffered fractures of the upper and lower jaws and a fracture of the skull. Head injuries, he said, had caused death.

Search for Hidden Money.

Victor Packman, attorney for the druggist, said a search of the premises would be made this week for any assets Kopp may have had hidden there. His estate, the attorney said, is valued at about $23,000, consisting of the store and building and personal property worth about $8000.

The only money found on the premises, which Kopp's assailants failed to discover, was $1616 in six cigar boxes in a cedar chest, but in the belief he may have hidden other funds, a further search will be conducted, Packman said.

Under terms of his will, filed yesterday in Probate Court at Clayton, Kopp left his entire estate to his sister, Miss Emma Kopp, 1237 Gimblin avenue, who was his only confidant. Kopp, a widower who lived alone, was visited weekly by his sister.

The will of the frugal, 71-year-old druggist was written in longhand on both sides of a sheet of paper and was dated in June, 1944, about eight months after the death of his wife.

Kopp had been employed in or operated drug stores in the St. Louis area for more than 50 years and owned the Manchester store about eight years.

EADS BRIDGE VEHICLE DECK TO BE ALTERED FOR 4 LANES

Remodeling of the vehicular deck of Eads Bridge to provide four traffic lanes instead of three will be undertaken by the Terminal Railroad Association of St. Louis at a cost of $291,000, it was announced yesterday. Work on the project is to begin as soon as materials can be obtained.

The roadway will be widened by cutting down the width of sidewalks. Other parts of the remodeling project include installation of heavier guard rails and a complete resurfacing of the roadway over the three main spans, a length of 1524 feet. Hurieosco Austill, chief engineer of the railroad, said no work was needed on the approaches at this time.

A new narrow tollhouse will be built at the west end of the bridge. It will include a canopy over the roadway to provide protection from the weather for motorists paying tolls. At least one lane for traffic in each direction will be kept open at all times during construction work, Austill said.

3000 School Children March in Parade Starting Annual Clean-Up Drive Here

—By a Post-Dispatch Staff Photographer.

Crowds Overflow Sidewalks Into Streets—11 Bands, 12 Drum and Bugle Corps Participate.

Noon-day crowds overflowed the sidewalks into the streets today to watch more than 3000 children from public and parochial grade and high schools parade in observance of the fifteenth annual Clean-up, Paint-up, Plant-up campaign of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce.

The march began promptly at noon from Fourteenth and Locust streets, proceeded east to Sixth street, south to Chestnut street and back to Fourteenth, thus attracting thousands of persons as they poured forth from stores and offices for lunch hours.

The parade was musical as well as colorful. Eleven bands and twelve drum and bugle corps sent martial music echoing up and down the streets. Gaily costumed drum majorettes, twirling batons and doing the traditional high-stepping march, led most of the musical groups.

Many of the children marching were dressed in attire appropriate to the theme of the campaign. Boys wore overalls or dungarees with painters' caps or large straw hats; girls wore aprons over their dresses. Several girls' groups were in Dutch housewife costumes of blue and white.

Mops, brooms, pails and dust cloths carried by many of the marchers stressed the clean-up theme, as did most of the signs which were in evidence in almost all the school units. Other children carried garden tools and equipment and wore costumes decorated with pictures of vegetables in advocating planting of Victory gardens.

Rats came in for attention from half a dozen schools. Children of the Cupples school were dressed in gray cloth costumes representing rats, with large cardboard noses and ears. They were led by a boy bearing a sign reading, "St. Louis needs a Pied Piper." Four boys from Patrick Henry school carried a four-foot representation of a rat on a wooden platform, preceded by a large board with the legend, "The Pied Piper did it. Why can't we?"

Signs carried by other rat-costumed groups urged keeping garbage cans covered and the cleaning up of ash and rubbish piles.

Some of the marchers were from the lower grades of their schools, but the parade moved slowly enough so they could keep up readily. It took nearly an hour to pass a given point. A stiff breeze from the east made sign-carrying difficult for the smaller children, and many of them lowered their signs to hold them against their bodies when they no longer could keep them up in the air.

The crowd which witnessed the parade averaged five to six deep between intersections along Locust and Sixth streets. At most corners, spectators poured in from the side streets to make a solid mass from the building line to several feet beyond the curb line, leaving a comparatively narrow passageway for the marchers and making it very difficult for pedestrians to make their way through. Along Chestnut street, the crowd was less dense, but as the last of the parade passed along Locust many persons walked to Chestnut to see the end of it again.

Heading the parade were a group of mounted policemen and automobiles containing Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann and officials of the Board of Education, parochial schools and the Chamber of Commerce. In the middle of the march were a number of trucks, street sweepers and sprinklers from the Department of Streets and Sewers and a fire truck bearing campaign signs.

Bringing up the rear were the boys and girls choral groups of the Roosevelt High School singing clean-up songs with special words written to the tunes of standard marching numbers. The two groups alternated in singing so that their message could be sung continuously to the spectators.

The Chamber of Commerce campaign, which began yesterday, will continue through April 20.

Two-Year Study Will Be Carried Out Under Special Military Guard in Army Chart Plant.

By ROBERT RANDOLPH
Of the Post-Dispatch Staff.

ROSWELL, N. M., April 9—Analysis of the most important of the eight tons of photographs that the Army will take of the atomic bomb tests, scheduled to begin July 1 at Bikini atoll in the Pacific, will be carried out in St. Louis under a special military guard over a period of two years, Col. Paul . Culle-, commander of the Army air photo unit for Bikini, announced today.

These pictures are to be developed, studied and analyzed by a picked corps of scientists and army officers working in the aeronautics chart plant which occupies four floors of the Illinois Terminal Railway building. The plant did most of the Army Air Forces map work during the war.

By using eight B-29s, two C-54s and four B-17 "drones" (crewless planes flown by radio control), each bristling with still and movie cameras in empty gun turrets and special ports, it will be possible to get pictures of the "operation crossroad" explosion from almost every conceivable angle, Col. Richard S. Leghorn, deputy commander of the photo unit said.

Most valuable of the bomb blast pictures will be those revealing the complete electromagnetic spectrum with all its infra-red, ultra violet and gamma rays. They are expected to show how radiation from the ionized cloud of the explosion change the air into mysteriously charged particles inflicting death and possibly wrecking the ignition systems of planes and guided missiles.

Announcement of the part St. Louis will play in "operation crossroad" was made at this air base after a day of "atomic orientation" for reporters and radio station personnel from the west coast and the Midwest. The briefing, to familiarize them with the Bikini mission, included brief talks of key army personnel and inspection of camera-crammed planes.

Today the press party was scheduled to fly to Clovis, N.M., for an inspection of B-17 drones followed by a demonstration flight of drones and queen-bee, or mother, ship.

Theory of Disastrous Earthquake Chain Disputed.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Two of the atom test force experts disputed today a statement by H. S. Uhler, professor emeritus of physics at Yale University, that the selection of Bikini atoll as the site for the test was "an ill-advised choice" because it might set off a chain of earthquakes of disastrous magnitude.

Dr. Uhler expressed his fears in a letter to the New York Times. He suggested that the bomb explosion might crack the crust under the floor of the Pacific, letting in sea water which, coming in contact with volcanic heat, could touch off a chain of earthquakes sufficient to upset the stability of the earth on its axis and distort its shape. Such a chain earthquake could generate a tidal wave a mile or more high, the professor theorized.

Rear Adm. W. S. Parsons, a deputy director of the joint Army-Navy task force, and Comdr. Roger Revelle, oceanographer and adviser to the force, produced records and figures on earthquakes, submarine geography and big explosions to show why they believe there is no ground for worry.

LIST OF VETERANS TO BUY CITY HOUSES SOUGHT OF CENTER

President Milton M. Kinsey of the Board of Public Service is to be directed to write officials of the Veterans' Service Center asking them to name the persons who will be recommended for purchase of the city's houses for veterans, Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann said today.

Meanwhile, Henry F. Chadeayne, a director of the veterans' center, repeated the center's position that the job of naming the veterans to occupy the homes should be the responsibility of the city administration.

"Housing is the No. 1 job to be done for veterans," Chadeayne said, "but the center does not have the personnel to select the occupants. We have agreed to list registrants, but I feel the Citizens' Emergency Housing Committee should do the selecting."

Completion of the first three houses being erected by the city at Connecticut and Sublette avenues is expected the latter part of this month, Kinsey said. A formal contract for the construction of 19 additional homes at the site for $95,179 was awarded to the Smith-Cooke Construction Co. today.

A public hearing will be held by the Board of Public Service next Tuesday on erection of 16 Quonset huts for Negro veterans on a site bounded by Theresa avenue, Hickory street, Carr Lane avenue and Rutger street. The contract for the huts has been signed, but Alderman Jake Sellers of the Fifteenth Ward told the board he has received complaints about erection of the huts from about 200 persons.

CLEANERS' STRIKE SETTLED

Thirty-five employes of five dry cleaning establishments and the only laundry in Belleville, members of Local 235 A.F.L. Dry Cleaners and Laundry Workers' Union, will return to work tomorrow following settlement of a wage issue last night at a meeting of the union and the employers.

The union was granted wage increases of 4½ to 10½ cents an hour, raising the scale to 44 to 79 cents an hour. The strike, which has been in progress since March 13, closed down all cleaning and laundry services in Belleville.

PRE-FABRICATED PIES AND CAKES SHOWN TO BAKERS

A time when housewives, whose husbands complain that their pies and cakes aren't like mother used to make, can buy pre-fabricated pastry at the corner market and bake it in their own ovens was forecast last night at a meeting of the St. Louis Stewards' and Caterers' Association.

William E. Broeg, food consultant for a frozen food company, demonstrated at Union Electric Co. auditorium the possibility of freezing pre-assembled pies, which can be kept indefinitely and then baked in the housewife's oven.

Campers who like pie can have their favorite dessert in the woods, he pointed out, and freezing makes fresh fruit pies possible the year round. Frozen dough, he said, has proved practicable.

Broeg demonstrated to the professional bakers methods of handling frozen fruits in baking, and how to use less sugar and fats, still achieving good pastry. About 300 persons attended the meeting.

Man Hurt in Auto Collision.

Leroy E. Coward, 2942 Clearview drive, Normandy, was slightly injured today when the automobile he was driving collided with another at Minerva and Blackstone avenues and overturned. The driver of the other automobile, Harry Kabak, 1224 Oakley place, was uninjured.

BOARD REAFFIRMS APPROVAL OF ACE CAB FIRM PERMIT

The Board of Public Service today reaffirmed its approval of the Ace Cab Company's application to operate 75 taxicabs in the city, stating that it found no reason to change its order, after a reopening this morning of circumstances surrounding the issuance of a certificate of operation March 13. Director of Streets and Sewers Arthur C. Meyers was instructed to resume the inspection of Ace cabs, which had been ordered discontinued pending the rehearing.

The board's decision followed the requested appearance of William D. ames, head of the company, for questioning on matters, which Milton M. Kinsey, board president, stated "indicate, if true, that the board was not fully aware of conditions in the company."

Subjects of the questioning today, which were brought out in news stories during the last week, involved the following circumstances in the formation of the taxicab venture: Withdrawal of James's two partners, Jack F. Witterschein and Homer B. Taylor, who had furnished half of the $40,000 assets; requirements that individual cab owners post $1000 with the company before they can start operating; the connection of Leo Brothers, a former convict, and Joseph Costello, with the company; the present financial status of the firm.

Affidavits Produced.

James produced affidavits from Witterschein and Taylor, who operate the Chase DeLuxe Auto Livery Co., stating that they had not discussed their withdrawal from the company with James prior to issuance of the certificate. The affidavits, which fixed the date of withdrawal as March 20, contradict published statements by Witterschein in which he said he and Taylor talked to James on March 1 about withdrawing from the venture because Witterschein had suffered a nervous illness. Nine automobiles, valued at $20,000, which were put up by Witterschein as company assets, were removed with the owner's withdrawal.

Brothers and Costello were described by James as employes, who had resigned when it became apparent that their connection would embarrass the company. James asserted that neither Brothers nor Costello had any money invested in the company, which he added is now represented "by myself."

James also denied that the $1000 posted by each owner-driver was for the privilege of operating. The money, he stated, is an evidence of the individual's good intentions and a guarantee that he will comply with company rules. James exhibited a contract specifying that the money is returnable if the driver withdraws from operation.

A new financial statement filed by James lists assets of $53,650, including $14,950 cash in bank, and liabilities totaling $14,700. James, who was supervisor of operations for the Yellow Cab Co. for 25 years, said he had pledged his home, valued at $10,500 in the statement, in the venture.

Fred M. Rowe and Patrick A. Sweeney, war veterans and former taxicab drivers, were introduced as new supervisors for Ace cabs. About 25 individual owners and drivers attended the hearing.

Mother Abandons Baby---Unwed Because of Religion Differences

—Associated Press Wirephoto.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The story of 3-week-old Johnnie Doe came to light today.

His mother, from the south, fell in love with a man in the service. Her parents objected to marriage, because of religious differences. She wanted a son of his, "for fear he wouldn't come back." And he didn't.

The mother told the story in a letter left with Johnnie in a pew at St. Mary's Catholic Church. The letter, in an envelope marked "To Whom It May Concern," follows:

"Dear people:

"I hope that some day I will be forgiven for this act I am doing now. But I will try to explain it to you so you will know why I am doing this.

"I was born and raised in a state south of here and was brought up as a Catholic. About two years ago I met and fell in love with a fellow who was then in the service. He was of another religion and my parents would not consent to a marriage.

"He was getting ready to ship out and I wanted something that would hold us together. I wanted a child, a son of his, for fear he would not return. As things came to pass, he did not come back, and here is his son.

"My family will not help me because I am not married, and I have nothing to raise a child on. So I am asking your help. Please see that this boy is put in a home and taken care of as he should be. And I hope he never learns how he started out in life.

"He is just a few weeks old, so please take care of him since I can't. I am returning south but not to my family. Remember he was wanted, and not just something that happened because a couple of kids didn't know better.

"Some day, if I feel I can take the consequences, I will return here and return to you in person.

"I hope you will say a prayer for my son. I know I shall pray for him every day as long as I live.

"Thank you kindly and God bless you always for you're all being so good. A sad and despondent mother.

"P.S. He eats every four hours—10, 2, 6, etc."

Johnnie will be turned over to the Welfare Department for placement in a home, if police can't find his mother soon. And if she doesn't come back for him in a year, he'll be put up for adoption.

TRUMAN, WIFE TO ENTERTAIN FOR HOMETOWN BRIDGE CLUB

WASHINGTON, April 9 (UP)—President and Mrs. Truman will entertain tomorrow night for the members of Mrs. Truman's bridge club from Independence, Mo. The President and his wife will take the 10 club members, who are visiting here, to a concert at Constitution Hall by Eugene List, a pianist, and the National Symphony Orchestra.

TEA AND COFFEE FIRM FINED $800 ON FOOD CHARGE

The James H. Forbes Tea & Coffee Co., 922 Clark avenue, was fined $800 and its vice president, Fred E. Stillman, $200, by United States District Judge George H. Moore today, on pleas of no contest to an information charging interstate shipment of prepared mustard which was improperly labeled and contained impure substances.

Federal food and drug inspectors had charged the firm's mustard was found to contain insect fragments, and that the bottles contained only eight and a half ounces instead of nine ounces, as labeled.

An attorney for the company and Stillman told the court the mislabeling was inadvertent due to a new type bottle used, and had been corrected, and that new machinery for preparation of the product, unavailable during the war, had been obtained.

EX-CLERK GETS PROBATION ON POSTAL THEFT CHARGE

Miss Gladys Hollenberg, 22-year-old former postal clerk at Pattonville, Mo., was placed on probation for a year by United States District Judge George H. Moore, after pleading guilty of embezzling $73 in postal funds.

The indictment charged she took the money in small amounts over a period of several months last fall by retaining C.O.D. payments. She told the court she had made full restitution, and had lost her $120-a-month job and her civil service rating. Judge Moore, saying he considered that sufficient punishment, suspended sentence and placed her on probation.

MAN FOUND DEAD IN CELL

Thomas Mulvihill, 50 years old, was found dead in a cell at the City Workhouse by Warden Clarence Weismantel, who told police that he and two guards had entered the cell after one of the guards reported Mulvihill slumped against the cell door.

Mulvihill, a salesman, who said he lived at 5061 Cates avenue, had been admitted, on April 6 following his arrest on a charge of drunkenness. An inquest will be held.

MEASURE ON PARTY COMMITTEES SIGNED

Bill Fixes Numbers for Township in St. Louis, Jackson County.

A bill fixing the number of central committee members for political parties in St. Louis and Jackson counties at one man and one woman from each township was signed today at Jefferson City by Gov. Donnelly.

The new law confirms the committee system in use for many years and settles a controversy which arose in St. Louis county recently when John Q. Brown, chairman of the Election Board, announced an interpretation of existing law as providing for 98 committeemen and 98 committeewomen, on the basis of one for each township, as at present, and also one for each ward in cities so subdivided.

Brown told the Post-Dispatch today, however, that the board now is preparing ballots for the August primary election on the basis of 98 townships and "voting districts" and that he would go ahead with this plan unless he received a contrary opinion from the Attorney General. He said he thought an emergency clause in the new law was unconstitutional.

Gov. Donnelly, in announcing signing of the bill, said he had been told by Presiding Judge Luman F. Matthews of the St. Louis County Court that, if the bill became law, the Court immediately would lay out the county to provide additional townships.

Matthews could not be reached today. Previously, however, he has said he favored 14 to 16 townships as against a proposal by one political faction for 20 townships.

OWNER OF CHICKEN HATCHERY PAYS FINES DUE YEAR AGO

James M. Brennan, operator of a chicken hatchery at 6180 Delmar boulevard, was released from City Jail last night following payment of $600 in fines and $100 costs assessed against him more than a year ago on charges of operating a nuisance.

Brennan was arrested yesterday after a check of court records disclosed that the $700 had not been paid. Warden E. E. Hensley of City Jail accepted payment and released Brennan on advice of Judge of the Court of Criminal Correction David W. FitzGibbon.

After his arrest on complaint of city health officials, Brennan was fined $300 in Police Court but appealed to the Court of Criminal Correction. When he failed to appear in January 1944, Judge FitzGibbon raised the fines to $600. Judge FitzGibbon told a Post-Dispatch reporter that Alderman George N. Daugherty of the Twenty-sixth Ward, Brennan's attorney, called last night and said that Brennan's appeal hearing had "slipped his mind" and he did not realize the fines and court costs had not been paid. Brennan was arrested on a similar charge last Feb. 27, but failed to appear in Police Court March 26. The hearing was reset for April 16.

Deputy Sheriff Frank Burns said a check of Sheriff's office records had disclosed nine other cases of default fines, in amounts totaling $716. Arrest orders on defendants involved will be issued, he said.

U.S. PLANE, 14 CHINESE REDS ABOARD, REPORTED MISSING

CHUNGKING, April 9 (UP)—United States Army authorities sent a search plane over the Cinling mountain area today in an effort to find an American transport bearing 14 Chinese Communists, which is believed to have crashed near Sian.

The Communist leaders were on their way to Yenan for an important conference. Passengers included Gen. Yeh Ting, former Communist commander-in-chief of the Fourth Army.

Gen. Yeh recently was released from prison by the Central Government. His family was accompanying him to Yenan. He was arrested in 1940 when the first Kuomintang-Communist alliance was broken.

FUND CUTS RECOMMENDED FOR 3 FEDERAL AGENCIES

Sharp Reductions for State, Commerce, Justice Departments Asked for by House Committee.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Criticizing a "deeply entrenched . . . spending psychology" among Federal officials, the House Appropriations Committee today recommended deep slashes in State, Commerce and Justice Department funds.

It sent to the House floor a $358,825,758 bill to finance the three departments and the federal judiciary for the fiscal year starting next July 1. The total represents a 13 per cent cut from budget estimates but a $40,510,759 boost over current year funds.

By agencies the money was earmarked: $143,024,000 for Commerce, $104,783,408 for State, $95,168,250 for Justice, and $15,850,100 for the judiciary.

All but a small part of the increase went to the Commerce and State Departments, whose foreign work has been augmented by war's end.

Those two departments, too, took the major budget reductions, 18 per cent in the case of the State Department and 17 per cent for Commerce.

The committee allowed no funds at all for the State Department's separate intelligence unit; chopped its estimate for expanded cultural relations activities almost in half, and sharply pared Commerce Department requests for the Census Bureau and the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

The committee approved a State Department budget almost five times as large as the last prewar budget after hearing Secretary of State James Byrnes behind closed doors.

In explaining its rejection of the entire $4,150,326 fund requested for the department's new intelligence program, the committee said all the proposed functions "can and should be performed by the established units of the department."

SOVIET PRESS RESPONSIVE TO SENATOR PEPPER'S SPEECH

MOSCOW, April 9 (UP)—The Soviet press today gave equal attention to President Truman's Army day address and the attack of Senator Pepper (Dem.), Florida, on Secretary of State James F. Byrnes's foreign policy.

Pepper made two points in his address which concur with Soviet views. The first was his statement that the United States should not become a sponsor for British imperialism and that "this is just what we are doing at present." The second was his statement that "every time there is an international conference the British and Americans act like twins."

It appeared here that Pepper had put his finger on the root of the differences between Russia and the West—Soviet opposition to an Anglo-American coalition which was the main point of Generalissimo Stalin's reply to Winston Churchill's Fulton (Mo.) address.

AUTO DRAGS BOY 30 YARDS

Howard Egan, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Egan, 3817 Nebraska avenue, was injured yesterday when he was dragged 30 yards after a rope with which he was playing became entangled in the door of a passing automobile. The driver, Christ Wehking, 3816 Michigan avenue, told police he was driving in an alley near the boy's home, and did not notice the boy until his cries caused him to stop the automobile.

The Egan boy, who was treated at Alexian Brothers Hospital for multiple abrasions, said he had one end of the rope tied around him and was throwing the other end into the alley.

4 U.N. COUNCIL DELEGATES AT $700 LUNCHEON PARTY

NEW YORK, April 9 (UP)—James J. Lyons, Bronx borough president, today gave a $700 luncheon for United Nations Security Council delegates—but only four delegates attended.

Andrei A. Gromyko, the usually elusive Russian delegate, was one of those who drank cocktails and ate the $25 a plate luncheon. Pedro Vellozo, Brazilian delegate, Dr. E. M. Van Kleffens of the Netherlands, and temporary chairman Dr. Quo Tai-chi of China joined him at the Bronx's largest hotel.

There was plenty of room at the 58-foot table. A three-piece ensemble of guitar, violin and accordion serenaded Gromyko with five Russian marching tunes, then broke into a samba for Brazil.

Lyons said he gave the party to get delegates together for a trip to look over the Gould Foundation home four miles from Hunter College, temporary world headquarters. Lyons proposed the foundation as a U.N. annex. Not enough delegates attended, however, to make the trip worthwhile.

Fall Fatal to Woman, 87.

An inquest will be held in the death of Miss Cecilia Briddon, 87 years old, who died Sunday after suffering a fractured right hip March 15 when she fell in her home, 3808 St. Louis avenue. She was taken to City Hospital March 21.

COURT ORDERS DISSOLUTION OF MATCH CARTEL

American, Swedish and British Concerns Consent to Decree in Anti-Trust Case.

NEW YORK, April 9 (UP)—A cartel which the Government charged was formed by dominant American, Swedish and British match producers to control the world manufacture and distribution of matches, was ordered dissolved today in a final judgment entered in United States District Court.

The judgment ended an anti-trust suit in which the Government charged that the late Ivar Kreuger, Swedish "match king," inspired the cartel and that the match trust successfully suppressed the manufacture of the so-called "everlasting match," described as a match that may be struck several thousand times before it is consumed.

Companies Consent to Decree.

The defendants—nine companies and five individuals—consented to the judgment, under which they were forbidden to divide the world market in matches, restrict production or fix the prices of matches, match machinery and match chemicals.

The corporate defendants were: The Swedish Match Co., the world's largest producer of matches; Diamond Match Co., of New York, largest producer of matches in the United States; Universal Match Corp. of St. Louis; Ohio Match Co. of New York; B-F-D Co. of New York; Lion Match Co., New York; Transamerican Match Corp., New York; New York Match Co., Inc. of New York; and the William Gordon Corp., a personal holding company of William A. Fairburn of Ojai, Calif., president of Diamond Match and also a defendant.

Wendell Berge, Assistant United States Attorney General, said the cartel, formed at the turn of the century, divided the world into non-competitive markets.

Referring to the "everlasting match," Berge said it had been successfully produced and sold in Holland and Switzerland in the 1930s until the defendants conspired to suppress its manufacture.

License, Royalty Free.

The judgment requires holders of existing re-ignitable match patents to issue royalty-free licenses to anyone desiring to produce "everlasting matches."

Although not listed as a defendant, the British firm of Bryant & May was said in a Justice Department statement to have "entered into a conspiracy" which "successfully suppressed the manufacture of everlasting matches." The Justice Department was unable to serve the British firm with papers in the case.

President A. H. Rosenthal of Universal in a statement said his company had never been in any cartel and that the consent decree merely carried out the company policy of co-operating with the government.

The Swedish companies declared that entry of the decree did not constitute an admission that any of the group had violated the anti-trust laws.

LOTTERY CHARGE WARRANTS FOR 3 MEN TO BE SOUGHT

Warrants charging three men with establishing a lottery will be sought today following their arrest last night by detectives of the police gambling squad.

Police said one of the men, who identified himself as Bernard A. Ryan, 5744 Janet avenue, Jennings, admitted he was owner of the "Gold Bond" and "Jo Lewis" lotteries. He was arrested after detectives found 120 policy ballots and 40 sheets recording bets in his automobile, as he was sitting in the car in the 1000 block of North Nineteenth street.

The two men with Ryan were arrested also.

DEATH FOR CHINESE PUPPET

SOOCHOW, China, April 9 (AP)—Miao Ping, former vice president of the legislative council of the puppet Nanking Government, was convicted of treason by the Kiangsu high court today and sentenced to death.

Equipment Worth $735 Stolen.

Precision tools and welding equipment valued at $735 were taken from the plant of the St. Louis Excelsweld Co., 2100 Mullanphy street, some time during the weekend, it was reported to police yesterday by the owner, Charles Pluchinski, 5834 Saloma avenue. A padlock on the front door had been forced to gain entrance.

BUYS 6 SUBMARINES AS JUNK, EXPECTS PROFIT OF $615,000

MIAMI, Fla., April 9 (AP)—Capt. Thomas H. Newman, one-time Pennsylvania coal miner and Florida deep-sea fisherman, said yesterday he has purchased six United States Navy submarines for $40,000 and figures he had a net profit of at least $615,000 on the deal.

Newman said there was $55,000 worth of scrap lead in the submarines' batteries alone, and that the 12 Diesel 400 horse-power engines were worth $50,000 each or a total of $600,000.

Seventh Naval District headquarters here confirmed that the submarines, built between 1914 and 1916 at an estimated cost of $1,500,000 each, were sold at Key West as "obsolete and scrap." They were believed to be the first such underseas craft sold to the public.

Newman said he and his partner, M. D. Scott, Miami junk dealer, planned to scrap four of the craft, which had been stripped of periscopes, instruments, guns, torpedoes and other equipment, and would put the other two on exhibition on the Miami bay front.

JUDGES PLAN 'CRACK DOWN' ON 'CORRIDOR' ATTORNEYS

Police Judges Joseph B. Catanzaro and George J. Grellner, incensed over complaints of citizens that they have been solicited by attorneys and bondsmen in the corridors of Municipal Courts building, announced today they would "crack down hard on such illegal practices."

The judges said, after a meeting, that they would seek affidavits from future complainants and present the evidence to the prosecuting attorney for criminal action and to the bar association for possible disbarment of the attorneys involved.

Judge Catanzaro termed the offending attorneys and bondsmen "leeches and vultures." He said that if persons charged with police court offenses, particularly traffic offenses, would come directly to the court, they would probably fare better than if they had one of the "corridor" attorneys.

KURDISH ATTACKS REPORTED IN IRAQ; TROOPS ARE SENT

Fighting Said to Have Occurred in Area Near Turkish and Iranian Frontiers.

By GEORGE PALMER

KIRKUK, Iraq, April 7 (Delayed) (AP)—This oil-field town in northern Iraq has been the scene of unusual military activity for the last two days, with Iraqi troops arriving on special trains.

The first contingent of soldiers pulled into the station yesterday. Additional units arrived today and drove off in long columns of commercial busses. The troop trains were composed of passenger coaches and military equipment.

There was no announcement as to the ultimate destination of the troops, but it was learned that at least two brigades had been deployed near the Iran frontier within the last few days.

Reports of Kurdish Attacks.

At Sulaimanya, 60 miles east of Kirkuk, Kurdish sources said that Barzani tribesmen of Mullah Mustafa last week attacked two Iraqi police frontier posts near the junction of the borders of Turkey, Iran and Iraq. The reported receiving word that attacks on Kanirash and Shirwani Mazn near Girdi began about a week ago and that wounded Iraqui soldiers had been taken to Erbil.

About 2000 Iraqi troops have been deployed around Erbil from the south, and the Kurds said they believed an order had been given for all Iraqi armed forces to be moved north into Barzani territory by mid-April.

Meanwhile, a prominent Kurdish spokesman said in an interview that "what we need is to have a United Nations committee come out here and investigate the conditions, hear our complaints and study Kurdish problems impartially."

The spokesman, who said that if his name were used he would be penalized and discriminated against, asserted that an organized nationalist movement in three leading Kurdish areas—Iraq, Iran and Turkey—had been suppressed and discouraged by the central governments of those nations through treaties and agreements.

He said the Kurds in Iraq could not appeal directly for a United Nations inquiry since "we are controlled by the Iraqi Government." He added that "Kurds of the north holding certain types of positions in the community who have openly expressed their feelings in the past have been quickly transferred to posts in the south."

The spokesman also expressed distrust of big-power conferences and said that "until about a year ago America was the best-loved country in the world. Up to that time we knew she had no political aims abroad. But today the Kurds are just as suspicious of Americans as of other peoples regarding secret agreements."

APATHY TO PRICE CEILINGS CALLED INFLATION FACTOR

W. H. Bryan, District OPA Head, Cites Rise in Violations — Urges Support of Public.

A growing attitude of indifference to price ceilings on the part of both consumer and retailer is leading to inflation, William H. Bryan, district OPA director, said today.

He pointed out that violation of the ceiling prices has become widespread in the sale of almost all food items, as well as wearing apparel.

In March, he said, 51 of the 58 cases referred to him by the St. Louis and St. Louis county price control boards for settlement by administrator's claims involved violations of price ceilings in the sale of food items.

He cited the increase in the number of cases referred by the panel boards for settlement as an example of the growing indifference to price regulations.

Bryan gave figures showing the number of such cases rose from 13 in January to 42 in February and 58 in March. A similar situation exists in the other counties of this district, which includes the eastern two-thirds of Missouri, he added.

Threat of Small Overcharges.

"It is a much worse condition," he said "for a general overcharge of a few cents to be made on such items as foodstuffs and clothing which have a wide sale than for an overcharge of $500 to $600 as, for example, on automobiles, which have a limited number of sales.

"As far as inflation is concerned, small overcharges on a large scale are more harmful."

Bryan said the assistance of the public is needed in maintaining price control and preventing inflation. He urged consumers to notice if food stores, particularly, have posted their ceiling prices as required by law and if the ceilings are observed.

Action Against Retailer Here.

The OPA has referred to United States Attorney Harry C. Blanton for criminal action the results of its investigation relating to overcharges by a North St. Louis retailer in the sale of meat. It is the first time such action has been taken against a retailer in St. Louis.

The retailer was found to be charging over-the-ceiling prices amounting to 48 per cent on hamburger, 25 per cent on T-bone steaks, 15 per cent on pork chops and 32 per cent on sliced ham.

PAIR QUESTIONED IN MURDER OF ALICE SHYROCK

told him later she had found Alice crying in a restroom in the tavern, but Alice refused to tell the other girl why she was upset.

Kempfer and Margaret Mae waited with the Shryock girl for a bus. The soldier said he saw her get on a Wellston-Overland bus, then he and the other girl took a taxicab to the St. Cin home.

Report on Indiana Youth.

A report from the Indiana State Highway Patrol on the movements of a youth who wrote love letters to Miss Shryock indicated he was at work as a clerk in a grocery at Charlestown, Ind., last Wednesday and Thursday. The girl apparently was murdered early Thursday morning and was last seen by her parents at about 5 p.m. last Wednesday when she went to a motion picture show over their objections.

Her father, John E. Shryock, a contractor, testified yesterday at a coroner's inquest that the youth in Charlestown had written a threatening letter to his daughter. He told a Post-Dispatch reporter the young man had said, "If I can't have you, nobody else will."

The Indiana youth told highway patrolmen that he and the girl "went together" while she and her family lived there. He said they were not married, although in one of his letters he had addressed her as his wife. In a recent letter, he said, the girl wrote that she had "found someone else," indicating she wished to break off any understanding they had.

Friends Questioned.

Deputy sheriffs continued their investigation of the vacant lot adjacent to the Shryock home and of the scene near the lake where the body was found. They said they would continue to question friends and acquaintances of Miss Shryock in an effort to obtain a lead.

It was on the vacant lot near her home, officers believe, that the girl was attacked. From there, they assume, she was taken in an automobile to the field near the lake and dragged for about 60 feet to the spot where her body was found.

Lily Pons Held Hour by Police.

PARIS, April 9 (AP)—The Paris Evening Press said Lily Pons, French-born American opera star, was held at the suburban Le Vesinet police station for nearly an hour yesterday for certification of her identity papers. The newspaper said Miss Pons and friends with whom she was lunching attracted the attention of police by the number of automobiles they were using in fuel-short Paris. All were released afterwards.

RUSSIA REVISING BALKAN INDEMNITY

LONDON, April 9 (UP) — A sweeping revision of the Soviet Union's reparations demands against the Balkan nations was reported today concurrent with arrangements for the Big Four conference in Paris late this month.

Bucharest reported that Russia had granted Romania a number of concessions easing the provisions of that country's armistice terms and enabling the Romanians to get their war-staggered economy on a more stable basis.

Budapest announced a Hungarian-Soviet agreement covering Hungary's reparation installment for 1946. The Hungarians attested their willingness to meet war damages of their making insofar as the inflation-ridden country is able.

The Moscow radio previously said Hungary had signed an agreement to pay Czechoslovakia $300,000,000 in reparations. Czechoslovakia in turn will pay Russia $200,000,000 out of the reparations and Yugoslavia $30,000,000. Payment will be in agricultural and industrial products.

(Premier Ferenc Nagy of Hungary arrived in Moscow today. A British broadcast said Nagy's trip was made in connection with peace negotiations.)

Informed sources in Bucharest said Russia, under a new agreement, extended Romania's time for paying reparations from six to 12 years. A ceiling was placed on payments for subsistence of Soviet troops in Romania. These payments heretofore have had no specified limit, making it impossible to draft a workable Romanian budget.

The armistice called for Romania to pay Russia $300,000,000 over six years in oil, corn, timber, shipping and machinery. The Romanians were reported to have told Premier Stalin that they could carry out the obligations only by further upsetting an already unstable economy.

U. S. OFFER TO JOIN WITH ARGENTINA IN HEMISPHERE PACT

of Axis influences which have threatened the security of the inter-American system."

Byrnes said under those conditions the United States would "welcome" Argentina's participation in the Pan American defense treaty.

Previously the State Department, in refusing to participate with Argentina in a treaty-making conference, had charged that the military government headed by Gen. Edelmiro Farrell had paid only lip service to its pledges to deport Nazi agents, liquidate Nazi holdings and assets and eliminate Nazi propaganda activities.

Under the new arrangement, Col. Peron's government will be given a reasonable time to fulfill the promises Argentina made at the Chapultepec conference in Mexico City early in 1945.

The decision to give Argentina another chance provided the second concrete indication within a week that the United States is relaxing its tough policy toward that government in the wake of Peron's smashing victory in the presidential election.

To speed the day when a mutual defense pact can be acted on by all the 21 American republics, the United States suggested the Pan American Union Governors appoint a committee, at their next meeting, to co-ordinate five proposed defense treaties into a single document.

"In due course" this document will be presented at the Rio de Janeiro conference. However, the United States asked that the conference not be convened until Peron's new government has demonstrated its willingness to join the Western Hemisphere's anti-Axis security accord. Peron is scheduled to take office June 20.

Reference to "Blue Book."

In making public its proposal, the State Department said that some American republics "entirely agree" with a recent United States "blue book" criticizing the Argentine Government for failure to act against Axis interests. It did not disclose how many disagreed but said that some replies "emphasized the changed position resulting from the recent election."

In Buenos Aires, it was announced that final election returns showed Peron received 1,474,447 votes compared with 1,207,359 for his Democratic Union opponent, Dr. Jose Tamborini. Peron was elected for a six-year term.

Gromyko Resumes His Place As U.N. Council Reconvenes

sented conflicting views. One unidentified cabinet member said Qavam would agree to dismissal. But Prince Mozaffar Firouz, Iranian propaganda minister, said it was "entirely a Security Council matter."

At Ala's hotel, a spokesman said the entire Iranian delegation was packing to leave for Washington.

Polish Notice on Spain Issue.

Polish Ambassador Oscar Lange informed Trygve Lie, U.N. secretary general, that within the next few days he would ask that a "situation . . . due to international frictions resulting from the existence and activities of the Franco regime in Spain" be placed on the agenda of the Security Council.

The U.N. press office, in announcing the Polish notice, said the brief letter was received last night at Lie's headquarters. The Polish note followed previous advices from Poland that it would seek to have the U.N. take action against the Spanish government.

Gromyko attended an Iranian cocktail party given by Ambassador Ala yesterday. He shook hands cordially with Ala. The two were accompanied by their wives who took part in the friendly exchange.

The official U. N. English translation of Gromyko's demand was released last night—the text having been first broadcast Sunday by Moscow. The translation of his letter differed only slightly in phrasing from the broadcast version. The letter said Russia and Iran had agreed on a means of settling their affairs, and that the Council in deciding last week to keep the case on the agenda until May 6 took an "incorrect and illegal" action.

The Russian move was unexpected and other Council members, including Stettinus, had to ask their governments for instructions. At a news conference in Washington late yesterday Byrnes did not disclose what if any instructions had been given Stettinius.

He indicated, however, that while the United States would be willing to examine the Soviet demand, it held the view that the Iranian case should not be dropped until May 6. Byrnes himself had led the fight for that policy and suggested that date to the Council last week. He has felt the Council should keep its hand on the situation until all Russian troops are out of Iran and should receive formal reports from Moscow and Tehran on the settlement.

SOVIET PLANES DROP THANKS TO IRANIANS

TEHRAN, April 9 (AP)—The newspaper Ettelaat reported tonight that the Russians had begun th eevacuation of Tabriz, capital of Azerbaijan, and that the camps there were being occupied by troops of the self-proclaimed autonomous Azerbaijan Government.

By SA'I SOUKI

TEHRAN, April 9 (UP) — Red Army troops led by a military band evacuated Resht, 150 miles northwest of Tehran near the Caspian Sea, while planes showered farewell pamphlets on the Iranians, newspaper reports said today.

A dispatch in the Journal de Tehran reported the Russian planes dropped messages thanking the Iranian people for their hospitality during the last four years and expressed confidence in Soviet-Iranian friendship.

"Soviet soldiers defended, thanks to their sacrifices, the liberties and freedom of both large and small nations, including Iran," the pamphlets said.

(An Associated Press dispatch from Tehran said Gen. Hassan Arfa, former Iranian chief of staff who was replaced after Prime Minister Ahmed Qavam took office, had been arrested in the Iranian capital on a charge of "subversive activities against the government." Observers have termed him "unsympathetic" toward Russia.

(Arfa recently was reported in Hamadan. Rumors have persisted here for the last few weeks that he was connected with a "rightist organization," said to be moving arms and supplies to Zolfaghari tribesmen opposing the Azerbaijan rebel troops near Zenjan.)

Companies of Iranian gendarmes were reported taking over towns and villages evacuated by the Russians along the southern and southwestern shores of the Caspian sea. Three companies of gendarmes, one of them motorized, are stationed at Sari in Mazanderan province.

The journal de Tehran said the Russians began to evacuate the entire province of Guilan on the southwestern Caspian coast two days ago. Iranian officials were instructed to take over the Kazvin and Gorgan airfields after the Russians gave notice that they had evacuated them. The Soviet garrison at Resht, 10 miles inland from the Caspian, was reported headed northwestward to the port of Pahlevi, where Red Army troops have been embarking.

Newspapers printed the recent exchange of friendly messages between Qavam and Premier Stalin, previously broadcast by the Moscow radio, and a similar message from Qavam to Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

(Molotov's reply, recorded from the Moscow radio in London, disclosed that economic discussions were in progress between Russia and Iran. They started during Qavam's visit to Moscow.)

IZVESTIA SAYS U. N. VIOLATED CHARTER

LONDON, April 9 (AP) — The Soviet Government newspaper Izvestia said today that the United Nations Security Council, by retaining jurisdiction of the Russian-Iran dispute, "broke the charter of the United Nations organization."

Izvestia, quoted in a Moscow broadcast heard here, repeated the views expressed yesterday by the Communist party organ Pravda and declared that a bilateral agreement between Russia and Iran vindicated the Soviet policy and would "strengthen international peace and security."

Izvestia said "progressive circles and the press" in Iran had received news of the agreement "with great satisfaction." It quoted Iranian newspapers as saying the "agreement carries a hard blow against war mongers and reactionary elements, since it takes out of their hands their most important weapon of propaganda against the Soviet Union."

Izvestia said the Security Council had no right to consider the question, because Soviet-Iranian relations did not "contain one grain of that threat (to international peace) which is mentioned" in the charter.

The placing of the question before the Security Council, it said, "was actually in part called forth by a tendency of Iranian reactionaries not to allow a definite solution of Soviet-Iranian relations and to reap advantage from artificial aggravation of relations between the Soviet Union and other great powers."

the three processes used in the Government nuclear material plants may total about $252,000,000.

(The United Press said a "reliable source" had disclosed that the United States was spending $400,000,000 a year to manufacture and improve atomic bombs and find new military and civilian uses for atomic energy. The informant said most of the money was coming from the President's special war funds.)

Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, chief of the Manhattan district, has told the committee that the bare monthly cost of operating the diffusion plant has run about $6,000,000 a month. Another witness before the committee, August C. Klein, engineering manager for a large construction firm, Stone & Webster, submitted a table showing that in addition to the $6,000,000 cost for the diffusion plant the electro-magnetic process ran about $12,000,000 and the metallurgical process $3,500,000.

Groves has estimated the cost of research and construction for the electro-magnetic plant at $350,000,000, of which $33,000,000 was spent at various private plants and universities. The cost of the metallurgical process project he estimated as the same as the expenditure for the electro-magnetic plant.

Research and construction for the diffusion plant he placed at about $545,000,000, of which $45,000,000 was spent on research at plants and universities.

The total over-all expenditures on the atom project from its inception to production of the first three bombs, has been placed at more than two billion dollars.

EARLY BREAKUP OF ICE IMPEDES ARCTIC MANEUVER

By DAVID M. NICHOL

EDMONTON, Canada, April 9—The earliest Spring ice breakup in the history of the Northwest is complicating the successful completion of the last lapse of the Musk Ox Expedition, the Canadian army's Arctic trek.

The 10 snowmobiles of the expedition now are making their way across the ice of Great Bear Lake. Ahead of them, however, lie crossings of three major rivers and a number of uncharted and unmapped smaller ones.

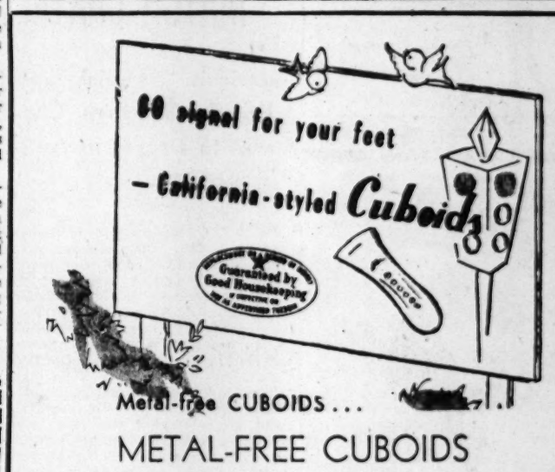

Originally, the Musk Ox schedule was arranged to bring the men and machines to the rivers a full 10 days ahead of the earliest known breakup. This year's mild spring has upset the entire program. Lt. James Kroll of the Canadian navy has been making a reconnaissance of the river areas. If possible the force will cross the rivers on rafts, constructed from timber available locally. Meantime, rubber rafts are being prepared for shipment north by the Canadian army.

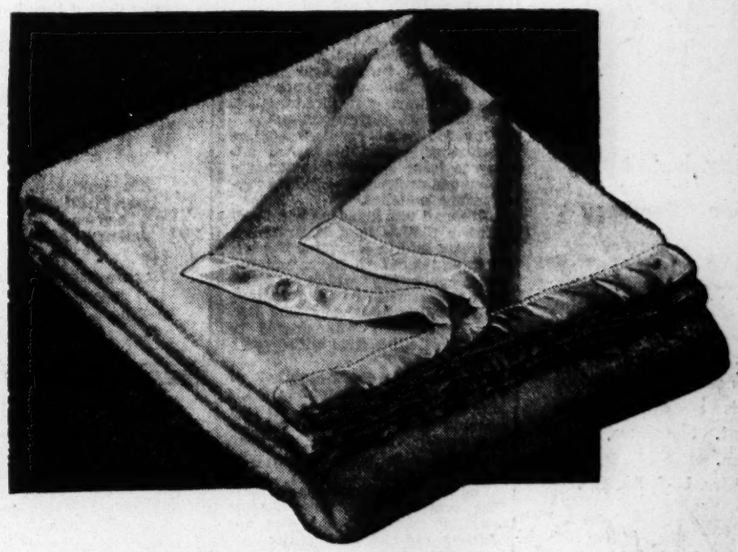

The men of the moving force, after eight weeks on the trail, are reported to be in better spirits than had been expected.

UNRRA REPORTS 4,000,000 CHINESE FACE STARVATION

SHANGHAI, April 9 (UP)—An UNRRA survey reported today that about 4,000,000 Chinese face death by starvation unless immediate action is taken to save them.

The survey reported that 30,000,000 Chinese already are down to the starvation level, including several million in Hunan province, once the "rice bowl" of China.

The report said that famine conditions of "almost unprecedented severity" prevail due to the war and adverse crop conditions. "Unless the world food deficit is improved overnight," the report said, millions of Chinese would die.

OFFICIALS SEEK WAYS TO BOOST REVENUE OF CITY

Mayor, Others Confer—See Rise in Expenditures — Payroll Tax Move Discussed.

Ways and means of increasing city revenue so as to take care of an expected rise in expenditures, particularly for rubbish collection, in the coming fiscal year, were discussed by Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann and several other officials today.

The Mayor, who is preparing his budget message for the opening meeting of the Board of Aldermen's 1946-47 session next Tuesday, conferred with City Counselor George L. Stemmler, Associate City Counselor Forrest C. Ferris and Alderman Charles G. Kratovil, chairman of the board's Ways and Means Committee.

Among a dozen or more methods of possible revenue increase discussed, the Mayor said, were a proposal for the city to increase its tax rate by the two cents which the state is lopping off its rate, and another for a municipal tax on payrolls.

Cost of rubbish collection has been estimated at $1,500,000 a year, plus an initial outlay of $2,000,000 for equipment. Possible salary increases for city employes are another headache facing city officials.

Record breaking collections of property and cigarete taxes during the fiscal year recently ended were reported today by city Revenue Collector Richard E. Gruner and License Collector Frank A. Britont.

Property taxes for 1945 collected up to last March 4 totaled $26,681,066, compared with $26,381,694 in 1944 taxes received at the same time last year, Gruner said. Of the total, $23,280,907 represented real estate and $3,400,159 personal property taxes. Real estate tax collections amounted to 95.36 per cent of the levy, personal property tax collections 88.32 per cent of the levy, both of these percentages also being records.

Collections of the 2-cent-a-pack cigarette tax totaled $1,458,000 for the year, Britton reported. Collections last month amounted to $150,000, the largest since the tax was re-enacted in October, 1943.

Collections from all sources by the license collector's office in the fiscal year amounted to $9,430,000, an increase of $500,000 over the previous fiscal year and a $2,000,000 increase over four years ago, Britton said.

Cigarette tax collections in the fiscal year nearly doubled the anticipated revenue from that source when it was re-enacted, Britton pointed out. He estimated the revenue will continue at about $1,500,000 a year now that the cigarette shortage is only a memory.

SEAPLANE BASE FAVORED, OPPOSED AT HEARING HERE

Establishment of a seaplane base at the foot of Market street by the Petty Marine Flying Service, approved by the Board of Public Service and the Civil Aeronautics Administration, was indorsed today by several river boat operators as a means of "boosting river business," at a heading before the District Engineer at the Federal Building.

Col. L. B. Feagin, district engineer, said records of the hearing would be submitted to the War Department for consideration. The War Department must approve creation of any obstructions to river traffic. Representatives of the Federal Barge Lines, the Mississippi Valley Barge Lines and the Streckfus Steamship Line opposed the establishment between Eads and MacArthur bridges as a hazard to river traffic, but said they were not opposed to a base established elsewhere on the river.

Charles N. Drake, president of the River Transportation Co., expressed the sentiment of river men favoring the establishment when he said, "It would be very handy for a river man who needed to catch a boat a hundred miles or more away. He could be put aboard without having to go through the jungles—and if he needed to leave the boat, he could just radio and in a short time a seaplane would take him to town."

MAN FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

The body of William A. Cook, 52 years old, was found on the floor of his attic quarters at 2617A North Eleventh street by police yesterday. There was a bullet wound in the neck and a .38 caliber revolver lay near his right hand.

Police investigated at the request of his niece, Mrs. Emma Ray, 2210 East Twenty-first street, Granite City, who was worried because she had not heard from him in several days. She said he had been despondent since the death of his wife a few months ago.

FARMERS UNION HEAD DENIES PART IN THIRD PARTY PLANS

DENVER, April 9 (UP)—James G. Patton, president of the National Farmers Union, last night disclaimed any part in the movement to form a third political party.

Patton, explaining his part in sponsoring a week-end conference at Chicago of farm and labor leaders, where formation of a third party was discussed, said he did not attend the conference and did not take part in the third party movement.

"I have been in Denver the past week," he said. "I recently agreed to be a sponsor of a call for a meeting to discuss issues in Chicago, but I am certainly not a participant in any third party movement, which I cannot at this time believe would be effective."

Reversible Traffic as Proposed Here Is Success in Washington

No Increase in Accidents When Rush-Hour System Was Installed at Capital Nearly 10 Years Ago.

By RICHARD G. BAUMHOFF
A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 9—If the experience of crowded Washington with a system of rush-hour reversal of traffic movement on three main thoroughfares is any criterion, St. Louis should have no difficulty with drivers over the reversible movement scheduled to become effective on its Chestnut-Lawton route, between Fourth street and Grand boulevard, next August.

In fact, the system of automatic signals and signs designed by the St. Louis city traffic division to control the change should give more effective protection than the Washington system.

There was no increase in the traffic accident rate on the streets affected here, either at the time the arrangement was installed nearly 10 years ago or in the interval since, M. O. Eldridge, acting director of traffic and vehicles of the District of Columbia, told the correspondent. He recalled that the plan was given wide publicity at the beginning.

Likewise, there have been few arrests, even at the start, for violating the one-way regulations. Taking the correspondent over the busiest of the three thoroughfares at the hour for the change to accommodate outbound evening rush movement, he showed how traffic there seemed to disappear for a few minutes. After the normal middle-of-the-day movement, there was a lull, then suddenly an outward rush.

Traffic Capacity Rises.

The system greatly increases the traffic-carrying capacity of the streets and also enables automobiles to proceed more rapidly and smoothly, with fewer stops for red lights. While figures were not available, he said it had been found that the one-way rush-hour system made it possible for each of the streets to carry considerably more traffic than under normal two-way operation. Even casual observation demonstrated the accuracy of these findings.

All three of the streets are in the Northwest quarter of the capital, leading north to city and Maryland suburban residential districts. Like Chestnut-Lawton in St. Louis, they run largely through a section inhabited by Negroes, and generally their roadways are of about the same width as Chestnut-Lawton, or even narrower.

They are Sixth street, between D street and Florida avenue, about two miles; Twelfth street, between Massachusetts avenue and Florida, two miles, and Thirteenth street, between Logan Circle at P street and Arkansas avenue. Sixth is the most important, starting from a point near the municipal center in the Capitol end of the city.

Unlike the Chestnut-Lawton plan for St. Louis, which make that route one-way at all times, merely reversing the direction of flow to handle only westbound traffic between 3 and 7 p.m., the Washington streets handle ordinary two-way movement outside of the rush periods. This variation does not, however, upset the principle involved—an outright, virtually instantaneous reversal of movement in given lanes at a set hour. The one-way movement here is southbound between 7 and 9:30 a.m. and northbound between 4 and 6:30 p.m., except that Twelfth street remains two-way in the morning.

Simplicity of Signs.

The most surprising feature of the Washington arrangement is the relative simplicity and inconspicuousness of the signs. Whereas it is planned to put automatic signals at every intersection on the Chestnut-Lawton route in St. Louis, there are numerous fairly busy crossings here without such protection. The automatic signals that are in service here are of the conventional red-green-stop-go type. During the one-way periods, the signals continue to show green intermittently in the direction against the movement of traffic.

City Traffic Engineer Tom Watts Jr. of St. Louis has devised a plan whereby signals would show continuously red, with a warning to turn off at the next corner, for any drivers who set out in the wrong direction.

Washington, in spite of its heavy and difficult traffic, relies largely on drivers to police each other, and it is obvious that they do so by vigorous hornblowing to warn those inadvertently heading wrong.

The correspondent didn't see a single motorcycle or crossing cop on the three one-way thoroughfares as the evening rush reached its peak. They are sent out only if accidents rise above the normal rear-end collisions at signal corners.

On Twelfth, flashing red neon "one-way" arrows are turned on automatically at the crossings for the evening rush. On the other streets there are pairs of yellow arrows, pointing in opposite directions, with the appropriate hours marked, distinctive from the type used on permanent one-way streets.

During the one-way periods on the three thoroughfares the stop-go cycle of signals is changed automatically, so that there are longer periods of green and shorter of red. This helps eliminate congestion, as driving at a consistent speed of about 25 miles an hour in these periods usually enables a driver to go the whole distance without a stop. Parking is prohibited on the left side of the street during one-way periods.

Acting Director Eldridge is an advocate also of permanent one-way streets, laid out in parallel pairs handling opposite directions. Washington has about 20 of these of important character, running both north-south and east-west.

FIRST SOLDIER FAMILIES SAIL FOR EUROPE APRIL 18

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The first families to join American troops in Europe will sail from New York aboard the Army transport Thomas H. Barry on April 18.

Announcing this today, the War Department said the vessel would be followed at four-day intervals by the Henry Gibbins and the George W. Goethals.

A total of 1446 women and children are scheduled to leave in this first consignment. Among them will be the wives of Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, deputy military commander in Germany, and Gen. Mark W. Clark, head of military government in Austria. Only 24 enlisted men applied for transportation for their wives to go over in April.

All three ships are bound for Bremerhaven, Germany.

"Let's Clean Up!"

Let father fume to the high heavens, the time is now: Cleaning up the house and yard can wait no longer. April 8-20 are Clean-Up, Paint-Up days in St. Louis, so let's do something about it. We can clean up our back yard, that filthy basement, that catch-all garage, that musty attic. We can dust off the screens, straighten up the furnace room. And gad, paint, too? Yes, father, we can touch up that poor old fence, brighten up the flower boxes, varnish a dull floor. We can wage war, see? We can blitz every speck of dirt around us, for real cleanliness is the only way we'll ever get rid of rats and such. Yes sir, we can make our St. Louis clean as a whistle, so let's get busy pronto!

CIO UNION VOTES ON PACT IN AMERICAN TOBACCO STRIKE

PHILADELPHIA, April 9 (AP)—A labor-management agreement ending a 176-day-old strike at the American Tobacco Co. was to be presented to 700 CIO workers today.

The agreement provides a general wage increase of 12 to 15 cents an hour to all workers, maintenance of membership, check-off of dues and a non-discrimination clause.

22,000 NON-MINERS IDLE IN COAL STRIKE

Negotiators Meet Again in Effort to Agree on Contract for 400,000.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., April 9 (AP)—Non-mining unemployment stemming from the nine-day-old coal strike has reached 22,000. Negotiators met in Washington again today on the problem of a new contract for 400,000 AFL-United Mine Workers.

Two United States Steel Corp. subsidiaries, Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. and National Tube Co., reported layoffs totaling 13,000 in the Pittsburgh area. Carnegie-Illinois said the coal shortage made 2000 others idle in Chicago plants. At least 7000 were idle in trucking concerns, small steel fabricating plants and coal-carrying railroads.

Pennsylvania's coal fields continued quiet but pickets appeared in West Virginia yesterday. A band of more than 200 UMW members, moving in a motorcade through unorganized districts of Preston county, closed 22 non-union mines.

Several independent mines in Utah promised to discontinue work beginning Thursday in cooperation with the striking miners. Public schools in Provo, Utah, were closed for the fourth day as the strike cut down production of illuminating gas from the Columbia Steel Co. coke ovens at Irton.

The United States Employment Service announced it would establish four additional registration offices in Pittsburgh by the end of this week to care for unemployment resulting from the coal strike. It was stated other offices would be set up as needed.

There was no indication a total layoff in steel was likely, unless the mine strike should continue into May. Some large companies, like Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., have not yet been forced into production cuts.

United States Steel Corp. subsidiaries are still turning out slightly better than 50 per cent ingot production and expect to maintain that level at least through this week.

DISCHARGE OF MEN IN ARMY GROUND FORCES SPEEDED

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—A two-and-a-half-month speedup in discharge for Army ground forces enlisted personnel was announced yesterday by Gen. Jacob L. Devers, commander of the ground forces.

Beginning yesterday, all ground forces enlisted men eligible for discharge by June 30, will be moved to separation centers for release as rapidly as possible. Personnel returning from overseas who are eligible for discharge by June 30 are being sent immediately to separation centers.

There will be some exceptions in the case of specialists in the replacement and school command, who will be retained while replacements are being trained. But even these will not be held beyond May 1.

The suit of George Greene for $100,000 damages from Edwin A. Lowall, secretary of the Egyptian Tie & Timber Co., for alleged alienation of the affections of his wife, has been settled for $2000 and court costs, Taylor R. Young, Greene's attorney, said today.

Trial of the suit had been scheduled to begin today before a jury in circuit court. Greene, a linotype operator for the St. Louis Daily Livestock Reporter, National City, Ill., alleged that Lowall had become attentive to Mrs. Thelma Greene as soon as Greene entered the Navy three years ago. Mrs. Greene, 1107 North Drive, Kirkwood, was secretary to Lowall, who filed an answer denying the allegations.

PENICILLIN OUTPUT TRIPLED, STREPTOMYCIN STILL SCARCE

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The penicillin production rate has tripled since December, the Government reported today, but there is still only meager output of a companion drug, streptomycin.

The Civilian Production Administration estimated the April supply of penicillin at approximately 2178 billion units, compared with about 737 billion five months ago. This increase, together with a decrease in domestic requirements, has made it possible to fix export allocations at a "new high level," CPA said.

Production of streptomycin, CPA said, still is too low to meet even military requirements. Despite this, 32 per cent of the April supply has been allocated for civilian and research purposes, the agency said.

Jewish Orphans to Palestine.

HAMBURG, April 9 (AP)—The first group of Jewish orphans from Nazi concentration camps to receive immigration permits for Palestine left Hamburg for the Middle East today. The 115 children, from 6 to 16 years old, were liberated from Belsen camp a year ago. Their parents were killed in various Nazi execution camps.

VOTING TOO EARLY CHARGED IN BITTER EAST SIDE PRIMARY

St. Clair County Candidate Complains—Six Disturbances Reported.

A charge of irregularities in an East St. Louis precinct and disturbances at six other East Side polling places were reported today in the primary elections in St. Clair county.

The charge of election fraud was made by Thomas Hurt, Negro, candidate for the Democratic committee from Precinct 84, who told a Post-Dispatch reporter he found people voting in the precinct polling place, 1841 Baker avenue, at 5:30 a.m., a half hour before the polls were to open. He said only three of the four election officials were present at the time.

The charges resulted in a fist fight between Hurt and his opponent, Eddie Lee Nelson, Negro, incumbent. Police were called but no arrests were made. Police also received reports of disturbances in five other precincts.

Outside of the 19 East St. Louis Negro precincts, where bitter committee races are being held, voting was light and not more than 20 per cent of the county's 110,000 voters were expected to cast ballots.

30 PERSONS KILLED IN SAIGON BY ARMS DUMP EXPLOSIONS

SAIGON, French Indochina, April 9 (AP)—A military spokesman estimated today that 30 persons were killed yesterday in explosions of a large French ammunition dump at the outskirts of Saigon.

The blasts continued for almost 24 hours, ending in mid-afternoon. The dead were French military personnel and civilian guards.

G.M.&O. STOCKHOLDERS FAVOR ACQUISITION OF ALTON LINE

Acquisition of the Alton Railroad was approved yesterday by 77.32 per cent of the stockholders of the Gulf, Mobile and Ohio Railroad Co., it was announced at Mobile, Ala., where the annual stockholders' meeting was held.

Balloting on the purchase was by a mail vote in which the St. Louis and San Francisco Railroad, owner of one of the larger blocks of stock, declined to vote its shares.

The Alton operates from St. Louis to Chicago and Kansas City, while G. M. & O. runs from St. Louis to Mobile and New Orleans. The merger, which still must be approved by Alton bondholders, would create a new Great Lakes-to-Gulf rail route.

The plan provides that holders of Alton refunding mortgage bonds will receive $22,675,000 in G. M. & O. general mortgage series income bonds and 327,787½ shares of no par common stock.

The G. M. & O. charter was amended to provide for issuance of the additional stock. The merger already has the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission and United States District Judge John P. Barnes of Chicago, in charge of Alton reorganization proceedings.

You Can Help Prevent Another World War

▸ Man's greatest single step toward unity and peace is the UNITED NATIONS ORGANIZATION.

▸ But today there are hungry millions in Europe—and hungry nations, like hungry individuals, become selfish and desperate. Where there is hunger there can be no unity or peace. Hungry and desperate people, despising their lot, will follow tomorrow's dictators. Violence, revolution and wars are born of empty stomachs.

▸ We must help these people. Common decency demands it—world peace and progress depend upon it. If we fail to help enough and in time, those who suffer will not forget our empty promises.

▸ Democracy is on trial throughout the world. If we send food now, we will demonstrate the moral, spiritual and material might of America; we will help lead the way to peace.

▸ As a witness to scenes of starvation in Europe, I can assure you that for many our help is already very late. As a manufacturer of food, I can tell you that the greatest reserve from which starvation can be halted is in the United States.

▸ What can each of us do about it?

▸ Follow the food-saving suggestions of the President's Famine Emergency Committee below. Your savings plus the savings of millions of other Americans will go far to meet our pledge of food to Europe.

▸ Write your Congressman and ask him to use every means at his disposal to speed shipment of food to Europe.

- Never waste bread. Make three loaves do the work of five.
- Serve potatoes more often. Try potato pancakes, potato soup and potato salad.
- Substitute fruits and other desserts for cakes and pastry.
- Serve oatmeal often. One serving equals two slices of bread in food value.
- Serve open-face sandwiches and pies.
- Use less wheat cereals and other wheat products.
- Save and re-use fats and oils.
- Serve fewer fried foods.
- Salvage all fats that can't be re-used and turn them in to your butcher or grocer.
- Use fewer oil dressings—more boiled dressings for salads.

GUARANTEE FOR PRE-FABRICATED HOMES RETAINED

Senate Refuses by 3-Vote Margin to Cut It From Veterans' Housing Bill.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (UP)—The Senate by a three-vote margin today turned down a proposal to cut from the emergency veterans housing bill a provision for Government guarantee of a market for prefabricated houses.

The vote was 38 to 35 against an amendment sponsored by Senator Homer E. Capehart (Rep.), Indiana, to strike out the guarantee.

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Proposed Government guarantees of a market for prefabricated houses was attacked today as the Senate returned to work on emergency housing legislation.

Senator Taft (Rep.), Ohio, called it "the most doubtful provision" of the whole bill and one that ought to be taken out.

"The program calls for 850,000 prefabricated houses and a guaranteed market for 200,000," he said. "Some manufacturers would get a guarantee and some would not."

The chief points of controversy are the guarantee provision and the amount of money to be allowed for building material subsidies. The administration asked for $600,000,000 but Senator Capehart (Rep.), Indiana, has proposed that this amount be cut in half.

An appropriation of $253,727,000 for an additional 100,000 veterans housing units was approved finally by the House today and sent to the White House. The Senate approved the bill yesterday.

The action increased to $410,000,000 the recent appropriations for conversion of war housing and army barracks to dwellings and apartments for veterans. About 202,000 units will be provided.

Lumber export quotas were reduced 20 per cent today because of the pressing need for new houses in this country.

The Civilian Production Administration announced that only 179,200,000 board feet of lumber may be shipped abroad in the next three months, as compared with 225,000,000 board feet in the January-March quarter.

PLEA FOR 6 PCT. INTEREST DENIED ON TNT PLANT FUND

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals, in a decision handed down here today, held that property owners in the Weldon Spring area in St. Charles county were not entitled to interest at 6 per cent or any other rate on the money due them from the United States Government as payment for their land acquired by the Government for the TNT plant.

This ruling sustained one made by District Judge Rubey M. Hulen, and reversed decisions of District Judge George H. Moore, who ruled a year ago that the property owners were entitled to interest at 6 per cent from the time of the taking of their land until payment; and District Judge Richard M. Duncan, who made a similar ruling last June.

United States Attorney Harry C. Blanton appealed from the Moore and Duncan rulings. The issue of interest arose after the United States Supreme Court ruled that the property owners were entitled to prices named in option contracts, negotiated with them by R. Newton McDowell, Kansas City contractor acting as Government purchasing agent. The contract price upheld by the Supreme Court was $1,521,232, whereas the sum paid into court by the Government as a fair value of the property sought was $501,703. The interest claim was estimated as amounting to more than $250,000.

GIRL KILLED IN HOTEL PLUNGE FROM ARMY OFFICERS' ROOM

SAN FRANCISCO, April 9 (UP)—An Army lieutenant told police that a young woman found dead today on a pipe above a fourth balcony leaped from the window of his room on the seventh floor of Hotel Whitcomb.

Lt. Henry A. Blankenship of Atlanta, Ga., said he found the woman in his room when he woke up Monday morning. He shared the room with Lt. Steven Ondrusek, Binghamton, N. Y.

They were out drinking all day Monday, he said, and returned late last night. He identified the woman, about 22 years old, as Virginia Hepburn, Lindsay, Calif. She was clad only in panties.

"This morning she went to the window and said, 'I am going to jump'," Blankenship said. "I thought she was kidding, but she jumped. I became frightened and left the hotel."

"...meets all requirements"

Mr. C. A. Rhodes, owner of Lakeside Greyhound Kennels, Route # 1, Joplin, Missouri, says: "I have never had a dog food that starts my puppies on as sturdy growth as Kellogg's GRO-PUP. It meets all requirements in my kennel as a basic food for dogs of all ages."

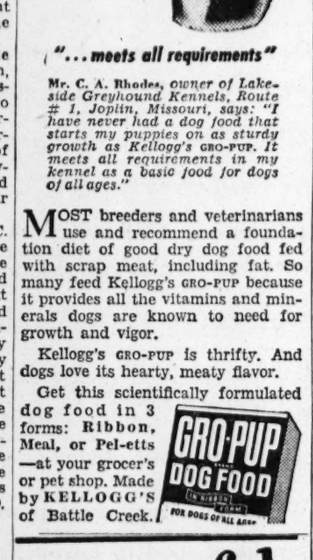

MOST breeders and veterinarians use and recommend a foundation diet of good dry dog food fed with scrap meat, including fat. So many feed Kellogg's GRO-PUP because it provides all the vitamins and minerals dogs are known to need for growth and vigor.

Get this scientifically formulated dog food in 3 forms: Ribbon, Meal, or Pel-etts—at your grocer's or pet shop. Made by KELLOGG'S of Battle Creek.

OUR ARMED FORCES—I

Word 'Defense' No Longer Applicable in Era of New Weapons, Eliot Says — Primary Security Element Must Be Air Strength.

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles dealing with the armed forces of the United States—their strength, organization, missions and their relation to national and world security.

By MAJ. GEORGE FIELDING ELIOT

(Copyright, 1946.)

THE present period of transition from victorious war to established peace is one of special trial and difficulty for the armed forces of the United States.

They are beset on every hand by elements of novelty and of uncertainty.

They face tasks which are altogether new. Never before has the United States been compelled to assume the tremendous responsibilities of world leadership, of being at one and the same time the most powerful military nation in the world and the principal pillar of a world-wide organization for the maintenance of world peace and security.

Yet at the very moment that these responsibilities must be shouldered, the armed forces must also face the task of recasting their whole organization, their plans and their thinking, to meet the exigencies imposed on them by the new weapons which the war has brought into existence, weapons which drastically affect the making of war in the future and the maintenance of security against war.

These responsibilities are heavy. They cannot be borne by the armed forces alone. They must be shared by all of us. There are certain fundamental principles which every citizen should understand, if we are ever to have the secure, peaceful world for which we fought this war and made so many sacrifices.

First, we should forget the word "defense." There is no longer any such thing as national defense. The only defense, as Gen. George Marshall has said, is in the power of attack. For the present, at least, the basic contribution which military power can make to our security and to the security of the world is offensive power so great that no one will dare to challenge it.

Second, the primary element in that offensive power must be air power. It can hit first, it can reach farther, and it can strike heavier blows than any other form of power. Time, reach and destructive potential are of vital importance—not only in the winning of a future war which we hope will never be fought, but in the consideration of others who may at some future time weigh the chances of peace or war.

Third, for the present the maintenance of an unchallengeable air power requires (1) the command of the sea, in order to have access to outlying bases and strategic mobility to move our air power wherever we may need to send it; (2) sufficient ground forces to protect the bases and communications of our air power from any form of land attack.

These principles are generally accepted. There are differences of view as to the strength, type and equipment of the forces necessary to implement them, but these differences really lie within comparatively narrow areas, and relate to immediate needs rather than to future objectives.

Latitude for Leaders Urged.

Many of these differences arise from the extremely difficult conditions of the postwar period, in which the armed forces are carrying out a tremendous demobilization program, including not only the return of millions of young Americans to their homes, but the disposal of billions of dollars worth of surplus property, at the same time that they are trying to establish the firm foundations of the permanent military establishments of the future.

It should be clear that they must, for the present, be allowed a considerable degree of latitude in this respect. In the fighting of a war, the objective is clear. You know what you are trying to do. You can form a reasonable estimate of what you need to accomplish your objective. But in facing the problems of maintaining peace in a chaotic, uncertain world, with new weapons and new political conditions, there can be far less certainty. Your ultimate objective may be plain enough, but the amount and kind of means you will need to accomplish it cannot be defined with any certainty. Under such conditions all that any man, however wise and experienced, can do is to make sure that he has enough to meet any contingency. This may well mean that he asks for too much, from the viewpoint of strict economy.

Put it this way. If we now spend more on our armed forces than future events prove that we need have spent, we shall have wasted money. If we do not spend enough, we may bring about the collapse of the world's hopes for peace by not being strong enough to support those hopes, and we may in the end bring about the destruction or enslavement of this nation.

The immediate need is for the maintenance of a position in readiness: A position in which we can deal with immediate problems by established and proved means, while carrying on research and experiment both in the military and in the political fields to determine the size and character of our future needs.

Our armed forces must continue to be the servants of our people. No man in high place within them has any other desire. But military advice and military considerations must be given a far more prominent and assured place in the formulation of national policies than ever before.

The penalty for failure or carelessness in this respect has hitherto been heavy, but we have been able to pay because we have always had time to rectify our errors. This will never be the case again. Our next mistake in this field may well be our last.

During this period of political, military and scientific uncertainty our first military consideration must be to have enough power. Later on, as the outlines of the future become more sharply defined, and as the confusions of the postwar period subside, we can make suitable reductions and rearrangements. But unless we are to throw away this victory as we threw away the last one, we dare not mortgage the future now—either in the name of a false economy or a bad guess.

Survivors Re-enact Malmedy Massacre

MATTER OF FACT

Stassen's Careful Gamble

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

Copyright, 1946

WASHINGTON.

THE amiably mendacious claims of Republican unity have been filed and forgotten in the newspaper morgues. Representative Carroll Reece of Tennessee, an amiable, stodgy Old Guardsman who belongs to Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, but will not admit it, has been safely installed as chairman of the Republican National Committee. It seems like a pretty good time to examine what is happening to the Republican party.

What is happening to the Republican party, if anything at all is happening to it, can be summed up in two words: Harold Stassen. This solid, serious, youngish man is doing one of the strangest things ever attempted in the history of American politics.

He is actively running for the presidency of the United States more than two years before his party's nominating convention. That is odd enough. Odder still, he frankly admits what he is doing, which violates all the wormeaten political rules against getting out on limbs. Oddest of all, the least important part of his candidacy is his public effort — the speeches, the appearances, the hand shaken and the right words said. The more important part, hitherto undisclosed, is the patient, effective, nation-wide effort of organization on which the Stassen candidacy is really founded.

The Organizer.

Stassen is trying to organize himself into the White House. If he succeeds, he will reorganize the Republican party as a sort of incidental by-product of his ambition. It will be difficult, but it is the only practical approach when the Republican Old Guard, who must be beaten in the convention, are already telling one another that any reasonably well laundered, suitably stuffed shirt can beat Truman in a walk in 1948.

Stassen is not prepared to unveil all that he has accomplished to date, but it can be said that his accomplishments as a political organizer are already respectable. Among the more modern-minded business men, starting in his home state and spreading outward to New York, Chicago and other centers, he has acquired exceedingly solid financial backing. He has won friends in existing Republican organizations in states ranging from Massachusetts to California, as was indicated by the widely distributed support for his candidate for the party chairmanship, John W. Hanes. In other states, where the existing organization is irrevocably committed to the Old Guard, he is preparing eventually to challenge its power.

A Professional Job.

The whole job is begin done in a highly professional manner, with local polls taken to test relative strengths of various Republican candidates, skeleton organizations already established where needed, and money distributed as it may be required. It is necessary to be professional, for Stassen actually plans to support a certain number of like-minded men as candidates for the House and the Senate this summer, and to make these House and Senatorial races the real test of his candidacy for the presidency. That is the kind of man Stassen is — at once a patient, careful, clear-thinking organizer, and a man who can gamble boldly when it is necessary to do so.

The comparison with Wendell Willkie suggests itself, for Willkie gambled greatly on the Wisconsin primary in 1944 — and was beaten. But what beat Willkie was a bad gamble and a total lack of organization, and that is precisely what Stassen is determined to avoid. He thinks he must take the risk of openly backing his own congressional candidates, because without some such demonstration of strength on his part he could never overcome the present lead of the Old Guard Republicans. Having made this bold decision, he is doing his best to improve the odds in his favor by hard, even plodding work.

Humpty-Dumpty.

Stassen counts a little less than a third of the party organization as for him today, and if his gamble succeeds, he believes he will eventually get a little more than a third more, giving him a clear majority by convention time in 1948. He uses the current cliche, calling himself a liberal Republican. But what will happen to the Republican party if he succeeds will not, of course, be a conversion to liberalism. Instead, the party will be transformed into a truly conservative party, dedicated to reasonable, gradual change, led by men with a literate, informed viewpoint on world and national affairs. It cannot be said to be such a party while a large part of its organization is still controlled by men such as Joseph Pew of Pennsylvania, whose political principles consist of a wild desire to put Humpty-Dumpty back on the wall again.

Between these men and Stassen, the fight will be dramatic. The real leader of the Old Guard is Senator Taft, who is just as able, just as industrious and just as astute an organizer as Stassen is. Taft has already lined up every Old Guard organization for his candidate, Bricker, who comes last in every poll of popular strength, but can be relied on to do what the organizations want. He even has the costly Southern convention vote sewed up now, if this precious but volatile commodity can ever be regarded as truly sewed up. And if Bricker does not go over, and Thomas Dewey is re-elected Governor in New York, the Republican Old Guard can always switch to Dewey. In short, Stassen has a long way to go. Yet it would be foolish, today, to predict that he will not reach his goal.

Bavaria Takes Lead in Nazi Purge; Trial of Million to Start in 2 Weeks

By EDWARD P. MORGAN

The Chicago Daily News—Post-Dispatch Special Radio. Copyright, 1946.

MUNICH, Germany, April 9.

BAVARIA, the place where Adolf Hitler got his start, may become the first province in western Germany to purge itself of Nazis. Whether this purge can have any lasting effect on Bavaria's historic position of political reaction remains to be seen, but it is going to throw the province into healthy turmoil for the time being.

Bavaria is taking the lead in applying the new American zone de-Nazification law, which provides that the Germans themselves must finish the job which the military government started.

There are two reasons for this. One is Bavarian de-Nazification Minister Heinrich Schmitt, a Communist, and the other is his assistant, a Social Democrat named Arthur Holtermann.

Millions Facing Trial.

Schmitt, a pleasant-faced man, who likes to wear coral-colored shirts and who vibrates with energy like a diesel engine, had much to do with writing the zonal law. Between them, he and Holterman already have worked out a system of 200 courts to handle the cases of 1,000,000 Bavarians, who, they estimate, will be affected by the law.

"If we need more courts we will create more," Schmitt said in an interview. "We want to finish the whole job in 18 months, and I think we can."

The first trial is scheduled to start within a fortnight. Schmitt is interested in speed not only for efficiency's sake, but so that the people involved can know definitely where they stand.

The law provides specific penalties ranging from loss of certain civil rights to a maximum of 10 years' imprisonment, depending on how active a Nazi the defendant was. The courts are given pretty wide discretion in individual cases, however, and on how intelligent they are hangs the success or failure of the purge. As observers have pointed out before, the Germans as a whole have shown no inclination to be tough on themselves or to assume general responsibility for the blighting era of Nazism.

Three-Party Courts.

Schmitt and Holtermann are obvious and encouraging exceptions, but there are too few men like them in Germany today. In their program they are bucking stiff odds of political and religious reaction. Each court they have established consists of representatives from each of Bavaria's three main parties, the Christian Social Union, the Social Democrat and the Communist, but they are getting little co-operation from the first of these, which is Catholic and Bavaria's biggest party.

Schmitt, incidentally, favors fusion of the leftist parties, but is against Berlin Communist Willy Pieck's policy of inviting nominal Nazis into the party without putting them through a rigorous probationary period.

Move in Senate To Cut Fund for Kilgore Group

Bridges Would End Committee Study of Reich Capacity for Future War.

By JOSEPH HANLON

A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 9.

FUNDS of the Kilgore committee, which has been investigating elimination of German resources for war, would be drastically curtailed if the Senate adopts the recommendation of its Committee on Audits and Accounts.

The Military Affairs Committee, of which the Kilgore group is a subcommittee, asked for $57,000 for use of the subcommittee during the rest of the year. The Committee on Audits and Accounts cut this to $18,000. There is some sentiment among Republicans for abolishing the Kilgore Committee without giving it that much to wind up its work.

Headed by Senator Harley M. Kilgore (Dem.), West Virginia, the subcommittee is properly designated as the Subcommittee on War Mobilization. In the view of many Washington observers who have followed its activities it has been among the most useful of the Senate's investigating bodies.

A group led by Senator H. Styles Bridges (Rep.), New Hampshire, is, however, opposing any further appropriation to the Kilgore Committee. Bridges, a member of the Military Affairs Committee, argued that its work was "finished," that much of its activities have been beyond the scope of the mandate which created it, and that it has no powers to carry on the program laid out for it this year.

Home-State Politics.

Involved in the controversy is a bit of West Virginia politics. Senator Chapman Revercomb (Rep.), West Virginia, is a member of the six-man subcommittee, but has taken little part in its activities and would be glad to see it abolished. Revercomb has no enthusiasm for the prominence which the committee's work has occasionally conferred on his Democratic colleague from West Virginia.

Established in 1942 to investigate factors bearing on war mobilization, the Kilgore Committee has concentrated on three major fields of inquiry—the structure of war agencies; the relationship be-

Lord Cecil Says Britain Will Keep League Mandates Until New Arrangements Are Made

Tells Geneva Meeting That Future of Palestine Awaits Anglo-American Committee's Report—U. N. Trusteeship Planned for 3 African Territories.

GENEVA, April 9 (AP).

VISCOUNT CECIL told the League of Nations' final Assembly today that Britain would continue to retain its mandates over Palestine and its African territories until "fresh arrangements" have been made.

Speaking "on the part of the British Government," the 83-year-old Lord Cecil, one of the League's founders, said that two of Britain's original six mandates—Iraq and Trans-Jordan—have become independent states.

In addition, he said, Britain has agreed to place Tanganyika, Togoland and the Cameroons under United Nations trusteeship, "subject to the negotiation of satisfactory terms of trusteeship."

"The future of Palestine cannot be decided until the Anglo-American committee of inquiry have rendered their report," he added, "but until the three African territories have actually been placed under trusteeship and until any fresh arrangements have been reached in regard to Palestine . . ." it is Britain's intention "to continue to administer those territories in accordance with the general principles of the existing mandates."

Lord Cecil said the United Nations may succeed where the League failed because the San Francisco charter provides "overwhelming force to crush aggression."

"The discovery of atomic energy and other scientific discoveries will make any future wars infinitely more disastrous than those we have endured," he said. "Believe me, there is no safety except in peace."

Lord Cecil declared that "aggression, wherever it occurs and however it may be defended is an international crime," and that it was the duty of every peace-loving state to resist it and "employ whatever force necessary to crush it."

The venerable British delegate received tumultuous applause when he said the League failed "solely because member states did not genuinely accept the obligation to use and support its provisions."

Had it not been for the "great experiment" of the League, however, the United Nations could never have been established, he added.

Alief Egeland, South African delegate, told the assembly that South Africa will ask the next United Nations Assembly for permission to administer her mandated German Southwest Africa as an integral part of the Union of South Africa.

Meantime, he said, South Africa will continue to supervise the mandate as it has for the past six years.

Chairman Luis Moreno Quintana of the Argentine delegation and his colleagues were absent from the morning session, awaiting instructions from their government. The Argentines walked out yesterday after their failure to obtain a vice presidency in the election of officers.

HUNGER STRIKE BY JEWS ON SHIP IN ITALIAN PORT

LONDON, April 9 (UP) — The Exchange Telegraph reported from Rome today that more than 1000 Jews began a hunger strike on an Italian steamer in Spezia harber on protest against repeated delays in the departure for Palestine.

The agency said some of the passengers sabotaged the ship's engines because they feared they were being sent to some destination other than Palestine.

THE GERALD SMITH AFFAIR

The Veterans' Case

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

What does it take to make a newspaper wake up and face reality—that while we've licked Fascism in the greater part of the world, it is still alive and kicking so long as we allow hate-mongers such as Gerald L. K. Smith and Arthur Terminiello to spread their poison?

Newspapers make the same mistake as those who chose to defend Hitler's free speech and dismissed his ranting as babbling that would die from lack of attention.

Can it be that the Star-Times and the Post-Dispatch have so soon forgotten the terrible lessons of the war? I feel that this must be true when I read the editorial statements: "He (Smith) might be less effective if more generally ignored" (Star-Times), and "The veterans were guilty of an intolerable action" (Post-Dispatch).

The veterans who picketed and protested the Gerald Smith rally took another attitude. Through militant but orderly action, they demonstrated that they were not going to let a new Hitler arise in America unchallenged.

Is it not ironic and alarming that, following these demonstrations, the two papers found themselves in the Smith camp aligned against the veterans, echoing the hate-monger's charge that his constitutional rights of free speech and assembly had been violated?

It is also alarming that the newspapers, through injudicious use of sensational headlines and pictures, created the false impression that veterans used violence to achieve their ends in exposing Smith and disrupting his meeting. As an eyewitness I can say that this was far from the truth. The newspaper distortions have done more than anything else to support Smith's contention that he was right and that the veterans were Communist hoodlums and puppets.

One crying example of this distortion was the news coverage of the first meeting. One headline screamed: "Veterans Storm America First Rally—Meeting in Uproar and Fists Fly" (Post-Dispatch), while buried in the seventh paragraph of another story is a statement that the veterans could not have been involved in the fracas because "they were all on the platform at the time" (Star-Times).

The same sensational treatment was accorded stories concerning the picket line. Pictures and headlines featured arrest and violence while buried in the text of the story was the statement: "Most of the pickets remained in their lines in orderly fashion" (Star-Times).

The predominantly orderly character of the demonstration is all the more surprising because it might be expected that ex-soldiers who had come up against Fascist bayonets would want to use more violent methods than picketing and persuasion, cat-calls and scorn. Certainly the provocation of a straight-armed Nazi salute, given by at least one person in the audience, would not be treated so mildly in many parts of the globe.

I think the Star-Times and the Post-Dispatch owe the veterans apologies for their snide editorial remarks and distorted news coverage, and owe their readers a more constructive antidote for Smith's poison than an attack on those who oppose him.

LARRY NORTHWOOD,
Chairman, Washington University
American Veterans' Committee.

Defies Us

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Being one of the veterans who tried to break up the meeting, I now doubt you really mean everything you proclaim in the Post-Dispatch Platform.

Do you want a veteran who saw action, who saw his comrades killed, Christians and non-Christians, Catholics, Protestants, Jews and of other religions, who saw the result of Hitler's rule in Europe where people of all races and religions were persecuted, just to ignore Smith and his Nazi stooges while they are inciting race hatred?

Freedom of speech is very nice, but did Lohbeck and his like fight for that freedom? No! They were here spreading poison and preparing for another war against true Americanism.

I defy you to print this letter. Or perhaps you are afraid that St. Louis Nazis will not buy the Post-Dispatch any more.

HERMAN MARKOVITZ.

Two Fallacies

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Your editorial, "Freedom for the Thought We Hate," contained some good common sense, which is a radical departure from most of the previous Post-Dispatch editorials.

Those who would forcibly shut the mouth of Gerald Smith are wrong in two respects. First, to deny Smith and his group of hate-mongers freedom of speech would be the entering wedge of denying other minority groups that privilege. With the exception of advocating overthrow of the United States Government by force, freedom of speech cannot be qualified.

Second, unless Smith and his group are exterminated (which no rational person would advocate), they will flourish more under restriction and persecution than they would if ignored. Had it been unmolested, Communism would not have reached its present proportion in this country.

ROBERT MOORE.

Our Duty in Asia

The misery of Asia's rebellious millions is a serious challenge to President Truman's "universal foreign policy" enunciated in Chicago. In America there is a promise of peace and freedom, but in Asia there is the fact of war and colonial domination. Here, "Give us liberty or give us death" is a historical allusion, but 10,000 miles away, it is a living slogan that has caused more deaths than liberty.

Mr. Truman said that our policy is "to remedy the conditions that made it possible for Japan to turn upon her neighbors." What were those conditions? Primarily, they were restlessness and frustrated rebellion, in an Asia weakly held by foreign rulers. Yet, as today's Mirror of Public Opinion shows, foreign armies are trying to restore those same conditions today, and we are implicated.

The United States is implicated because it led Asia from Japanese misrule, but dropped the responsibility there; because it withdrew its army, but still furnished weapons for the assault upon peoples fighting for freedom; because America has been the hope of these peoples, a symbol and promiser of freedom by the Atlantic Charter and by its record in the Philippines, yet now the hope and promise and even our prestige are waning across the Pacific.

America's immediate concern is, or should be, the Philippine Islands. Within three months, the Filipinos will be free. But that may be an empty independence. High Commissioner McNutt states that the islands "are the most devastated land in the world." Our responsibility and gratitude toward a people that fought for us demand that we repair this devastation, and provide the Filipinos with some sort of prosperity to support their freedom.

What have we done about this? For months the House Insular Affairs Committee neglected a Senate measure to pay Filipinos for less than half the damage they suffered in fighting Japan. Four days ago, the committee finally approved the bill. A few days earlier, the House itself had passed the Bell measure, which would allow eight years of free trade with the islands, followed by gradually steeper tariffs.

Even when these bills are passed, after the long delay, our books will not be clear of the debt to the Philippines. These measures would do little more than restore the status quo of Filipino economy. That was an insufficient, semi-feudal economy, resting largely on free trade with America. It did not promise economic survival to a people who hope to be free.

So our duty to the Philippines is not just restoration. It is a matter of establishing economic independence for a nation which has been our dependency. It is a matter of providing further money and credit, and expert economic advice, for a thorough job of renovation. For, as Mr. McNutt has said, "The act of granting independence will be a savage mockery unless we implement our political generosity with effective economic assistance."

Our conduct toward the Philippines will be justification for our foreign policy elsewhere in the Far East. It will be the means of reviving our crumbling prestige which, as the Mirror says, is "a crucial political fact in Asia today." Upon that basis, the United States will have the right to raise the colonial question with the colonial powers, in UN, and every time those powers seek the financial and political support from us which they must have.

Then our universal foreign policy may assume something like reality. Otherwise, if we fail in the Philippines, and if we accept imperialism elsewhere, Mr. Truman's statement on the Far East will remain just six paragraphs on paper to millions of Asiatics who cannot read it, and would not believe if they could.

In Defense of a Sand Trap

A Massachusetts golf club greenkeeper is making war on the traditional sand trap because, he says, "Just keeping these things raked takes a man half a day." But he forgets that the sand trap provides some of golf's richest moments. Just keeping the traps plowed up takes a duffer half a day. The trap is a test of ability, ingenuity and profanity. Some dubbing Dante ought to rise to poesy for his fairway purgatory, for if he cannot exactly swear by the sand trap, at least he can swear at it.

Smith's Right to Speak

Two veterans express in the letter column today an aversion to Gerald L. K. Smith and his followers. They speak for millions who have risked death to fight his Fascist prototypes in Europe and Asia. For the third time, however, and for reasons partly stated in Robert Moore's letter, we assert that their aversion has led to an intolerable act.

To say that the newspapers distorted the story of their effort to break up Smith's meetings last week is to ignore the fact that they did march in; they did attempt to intimidate; their act, no matter how well-disciplined, was disorderly. It would no doubt have led to a riot if members of the audience had resisted it.

Mr. Northwood is not logical. If Gerald L. K. Smith is so grave a menace, breaking up his meetings is piking protection. Logic on that premise would advocate sterner measures.

It is also illogical to argue that democracy can fight Fascism by Fascist methods and remain democracy. Make no mistake, the veterans' march into Kiel Auditorium is sickeningly reminiscent of the late German-American Bund. It is also a tactic used by the Ku Klux Klan and reactionary World War I veteran groups against meetings of liberal and progressive organizations.

Is Mr. Northwood willing to give right-wing groups equal liberty to break up his meetings? Does he propose a general tradition of intimidation and potential violence?

Little though Gerald Smith deserves the traditional American freedoms, we cannot destroy his freedom without wounding the institution of freedom. The slower, then, but constructive attack is to let him sing his hymn of hate and then laugh or scorn his following down to the hereditary crackpots.

Most constructive of all, progressive veteran organizations should work to create such an order of peace and prosperity and social justice that Gerald Smith will become a curious sort of comedian without an audience. The opposite course of intimidation is wasted effort. It is tragically wasted, because those who use totalitarian tactics become suspect of totalitarianism. Do the Auditorium marchers know that some are already calling them Communists?

We honor the quality of these veterans' feelings, but they have let feelings run away from good sense. Until sense returns, Smith will chuckle for the free build-up they give him. If he cannot make himself important, some of his enemies seem bent on doing it for him.

War Aims Are at Stake

Suppose that a year ago today, with the Ninth Army just past Hanover on the drive to Berlin, with Gen. Clark's forces still battling through to Rome and GIs continuing the rugged struggle for Okinawa, Congress had been quibbling over renewal of the Draft Act, due to expire in five weeks. An uproar from all over the nation against shutting off replacements would have shaken the Capitol dome in Washington, and laggard lawmakers would have been forced into action, regardless of their political fears.

Now that the shooting war is over, many Congressmen may not recognize the parallel between such a hypothetical situation and the present state of affairs. It would be a serious mistake, however, to assume that the war is over for good. It will not be actually ended until the militarists who made World War II are permanently subdued, and the last spark of war-mindedness is educated out of their peoples. And, as many dispatches from Germany and Japan prove, those objectives are still far from realization.

Gen. Eisenhower warned against the delusion in his testimony yesterday urging extension of the Draft Act. "If we pretend that the war is over the second that the shooting stops," he said, "we are likely to lose the aims and purposes for which we made the sacrifice of war." He went on to reiterate that expiration of the draft would leave the Army short of its minimum needs for control of our defeated enemies.

If Congress persists in haggling, and the Army finds itself short of men, how will the "aims and purposes for which we made the sacrifice of war" be realized? The answer is, They won't be. Even to consider a policy that would mean abandoning those aims and purposes would have brought a storm of contempt and scorn from the whole country a year ago. Though there is no shooting on Okinawa or on the road to Berlin today, those aims and purposes are nevertheless in danger, and they cannot be realized without extension of the draft.

Will Congress dare surrender so weakly in the struggle to attain the war aims for which so many Americans gave their lives?

Two Anti-Housing Attacks

Senator Capehart, the reactionary Indiana Republican, wants to cut incentive subsidies under the Wyatt housing program from the proposed $600,000,000 to $300,000,000. The program, says he, could make a start and then come back to Congress if it needs more money.

It must be perfectly obvious to Mr. Capehart that he is proposing to limit the program to one year instead of two, and that the housing shortage cannot come out of the high-acute stage in less than two years. What he evidently means, therefore, is that he hopes either to weaken the program by chiseling it now or to find a reactionary temper which will kill it after one year.

To similar effect, Senator Taft wants to deny subsidy guarantees to new building materials. Wise as Mr. Taft is in co-sponsoring the progressive Wagner-Ellender-Taft long-range slum clearance bill, he is neither wise nor progressive here. The housing emergency, like the earlier munitions emergency, cannot be surmounted in time by conventional materials and methods. Sincere though his opposition may therefore be, he is singing the materials-producer lobby's song. Certainly that lobby deserves no deference. It has had its day in the sun and abused it away. Several of its member industries have been convicted repeatedly for conspiring to hold prices high and to shut out rival new materials.

Furthermore, before any Senator comes out against new-industry subsidies in general, let him first examine his positions on tariffs, the disposition of Government aluminum plants, the subsidies which farmers are guaranteed for more than two years to come, the improvement of rivers and harbors in his own district. In comparison with some of those, the degree of Government help to an industry under the Wyatt program is the very height of modesty.

Cart Before the Atomic Horse

The problem of atomic control is getting too much emphasis, says Robert Strausz-Hupe, political science professor at the University of Pennsylvania and author of several books on world affairs. If there are reasons for war, he goes on, then men will find the weapons with which to fight. So, if the economic and political causes of war are eliminated, atomic energy, in his view, will become a "subsidiary issue."

While it is vitally important for mankind to eliminate the economic and political causes of war, Prof. Strausz-Hupe has that cart a long way ahead of the atomic horse. Eliminating the causes of war is a task of long-run magnitude.

There simply isn't time to devote all attention to that problem of the ages while atomic destruction runs wild and uncontrolled. Work can be pushed on the basic issue, as the UN is dedicated to do, and all humankind will wish the delvers well. But meanwhile, the pressing, immediate, crucial, life-and-death problem is that of atomic control. If war breaks out before it is solved, then universal catastrophe is in prospect. But if a feasible plan for managing this devastating force is evolved, then mankind can turn with more assurance and greater hope to the age-old problem of curbing war itself.

A plan of high practicability and sound common sense has just been worked out by the State Department Board of Consultants; its full text was published in this newspaper last Sunday. The terms for international control of the dangerous phases of atomic energy therein proposed are concrete, specific, demanding serious discussion in the world's forum.

Representative Voorhis of California, appearing on the same broadcast at which Prof. Strausz-Hupe made his strange criticism, indorsed the world authority idea which the consultants offered. Certainly this is a far more promising suggestion than continuance of the prolonged quest for world reform, while the atomic bomb race continues, as the political scientist suggests.

BETTER TAKE HEED

The Growing Revolt in Asia

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Bitter struggle for independence is under way among colonial peoples of the East, writer says; they fight against odds but without compromise; nationalists once accepted Atlantic Charter promises; now they are losing faith in United States as advocate of freedom.

Harold R. Isaacs, Former Correspondent in Asia for Newsweek, in Harper's Magazine

Across Asia, with anger and bitterness and in defiance of great odds, subject peoples are again struggling for independence. And they mean independence. Not trusteeship or self-government or dominion status but independence.

For Indians, Burmese, Annamites, Koreans, Indonesians, the basic issue is simple: to submit no longer to any foreign rulers. They are intent upon becoming their own masters. Their determination cuts across all the arguments and counter-arguments, all the ifs and buts and howevers.

"I'm sick of being told that we're not 'ripe' for self-rule and that we'll only make a mess of things," a young Annamite told me in Hanoi. "Are the French, of all people in the world, 'ripe' enough to rule even themselves? Can we possibly make more of a mess of things than all the rulers of the world have already made?"

Everywhere the impulse is the same. I remember a day I spent in the Korean countryside talking to farmers and small village shopkeepers. There was a tall farmer named Yoon who held his round-faced, black-eyed son in his arms against his spotless white jacket. "What do you want?" I asked.

Koreans Erupt in Anger

He smiled. "Better living" was the way the interpreter phrased his answer. I asked him what that meant. "It means good crops and good prices," he said. "It means getting our young men back from the Japanese forced labor gangs. It means getting a government of our own."

Farmer Yoon knew exactly what he wanted. But Korea was partitioned and the divided country placed under Soviet and American military occupation and Military Government. The gloss wore off and when the Moscow Conference offered nothing more than continued partition and a five-year "trusteeship," Koreans erupted in anger.

Down in Indo-China the Annamites have carried the same determination to the battlefield. When the Japanese collapsed under American blows, the French moved to regain their power. The British, using Indian and Japanese troops, helped the French win a foothold on the Saigon peninsula.

The Annamites, who had proclaimed their independence and set up their own government as the Republic of Viet Nam, resisted with a sprinkling of modern weapons, with ingeniously devised bows and arrows and muzzle-loading rifles and incendiary torches and homemade grenades. Little reported now, this war goes on.

Familiar Slogans in Java

Across Batavia's walls and houses and public buildings, the Indonesians had scrawled slogans to greet the arriving occupation troops. They had expected these to be American and they drew their phrases from the American lexicon: "Government for, by, and of the people . . ." Or: "Give us freedom or give us death!"

The occupying forces turned out to be British but the effect was not wasted. "Your damned American revolution is still giving us trouble," one weary British officer said to me.

In Batavia sat the British, harried and defensively righteous; the Dutch, sullen and uncertain and bolstered only by their violent and savage Eurasian and Amboinese mercenaries.

In the hinterland, while evacuating internees, British forces were clashing constantly with the hated and feared "extremists." Repeatedly Japanese troops, operating under British command, were thrown into the local battles. The Dutch seriously argued that the docile Javanese had suddenly gone mad. Queen Wilhelmina was offering confederation. But the Indonesians did not want to confederate. "Merdeka" was the word now, independence!

America's Part in Imperialism

The United States is fully party to the Allied policy of restoring the imperial status quo ante in the colonies as a prerequisite to any "reforms." Until January, the United States was formally associated with all operations conducted by Lord Louis Mountbatten, and in these actions the United States was represented by great stores of lend-lease weapons freely used against colonial insurgents.

Nor is Russia any less engaged in the responsibility for the guiding top Allied policy in which it shared. Not until it suited its maneuvers at London late in January did Russia abruptly raise the issue of Indonesia while remaining notably silent on the subject of Indo-China, because it is more interested in detaching France from British influence than it is in the fate of the Annamites.

By commission or by omission, all the powers are joined in the effort to dam up somehow the nationalist flood in Asia rising in the wake of this war just as it rose in the wake of the last.

Sympathy But Not Support

The nationalists in these countries had hoped for a different outcome. There was a certain amount of naive belief in the Atlantic Charter and the pledges of self-determination so freely bandied about during the war. But this belief was by no means based wholly on illusions.

Since the old dispensation had led the powers so close to the edge of total disaster, many nationalists believed that out of sheer self-interest the victors would agree to a drastic change.

They looked to the United States for moral and political and practical support of this position. They have not received any such support. American official statements have offered verbal sympathy with the ultimate goals of the nationalists but American action has consisted of practical support for the immediate aims of the imperialists.

The result is a growing defection from the great hope in America. A crucial political fact in Asia today is the crumbling of American prestige in the eyes of subject peoples. For with this faith may be passing the last hope of a less painful transition toward a new and more hopeful order of things.

The genius of the late Hitler never ceases to amaze. He built bonfires of the classics, but carefully preserved any document that would incriminate a pal.

Books About New Orleans In Fiction, Fact and Art

"Brave Mardi Gras," by W. Adolphe Roberts. (Bobbs-Merrill Co., Indianapolis.)
"The River Road," by Frances Parkinson Keyes. (Julian Messner, New York.)
"Voodoo in New Orleans," by Robert Tallant. (Macmillan Co., New York.)
"City of the Mardi Gras," Drawings by Harry L. DeVore Jr. and Text by Martin Yoseloff. (Bernard Ackerman, New York.)
"Dining in New Orleans," by Scoop Kennedy, and "The Bachelor in New Orleans," by Robert Kinney. (Bormon House, New Orleans.)

New Orleans has a perpetual appeal for the tourist, and this season it has cast its spell over writers as well. The titles here listed are only part of the Crescent City's current literary crop, but they are representative of what seems to be a trend.

The first, a historical novel, depicts New Orleans during the Civil War (or rather, as Southern usage insists, the War Between the States). The book's chief virtue is in its excellently drawn local background and its historical references. The hero, a gallant young Creole, lives on Royal street, in the French Quarter, and becomes a Confederate officer; the lovely heroine, of Virginia descent, serves the South as a spy. Their experiences and those of their families in the war constitute an intrinsically interesting and moving story, but the action is often forced, and the dialogue is of the stilted Victorian variety.

Another novel of the region, "The River Road," has reached best-seller status. The setting is an ante-bellum plantation house on the highway between New Orleans and Baton Rouge; the time is 1918-44; the plot is concerned with an involved family history and the problems of sugar culture. The novel is long, detailed and slow-moving, with much evidence of careful research.

More readable than many novels is the study of voodoo by Robert Tallant, co-author of "Gumbo Ya-Ya," another recent New Orleans book. Mr. Tallant traces voodoo to its beginnings in African tribal religion, describes its practice in New Orleans by "Queen" Marie Laveau and her followers and tells of its present exploitation through sale of charms and love powders to the gullible. The author attributes the hold of voodoo to mass psychology and fear, for some of its practitioners have used poisons to implement their incantations. Many grim episodes connected with this formidable superstition have been collected by the writer in study covering many years.

In "City of the Mardi Gras," Harry L. DeVore Jr. presents 50 admirable pen-and-ink drawings of New Orleans scenes. The brief texts that accompany the pictures are fine examples of compact and expressive writing. Visitors and residents alike will find the book has successfully captured the spirit of a charming city. Unfortunately, the publishers have used paper so thin that the printed lines of text show through it and mar the picture on the reverse side of the page.

The last two titles listed are essentially guidebooks, though with no concern whatever for the conventions of Baedeker. Both are brightly written, personal on occasion and gay in their introductions to the eating places and night life of a city celebrated for both.

FERD GOTTLIEB.

A Collection of O. Henry Stories

Some of O. Henry's stories are dated, and his clever plot devices have had so many imitators that they now seem hackneyed. Nevertheless, there is still high entertainment in the Old Master, and "Best Stories of O. Henry" (Sun Dial) is an excellent introduction to him. Bennett Cerf and Van H. Cartmell have chosen 38 stories from his huge output and contribute an appreciative introduction.

DOROTHY THOMPSON

Gen. MacArthur and Mr. Litvinoff

LAST Friday, in Tokyo, the Allied Council for Japan met for the first time, and Gen. MacArthur made the most drastic peace proposal of history. Coming from one of this war's greatest generals, it advocated what was proposed by this column, that all the members of the United Nations follow the example set by Japan in the new constitution, renounce the sovereign right to make war, and, logically, do away with armies, navies and air forces.

Every human being is concerned with ending war. There is the atomic bomb and all that. War, we see, has at last yielded to the law of diminishing returns. The defeated lose everything, and the victors gain nothing. The war had to be fought to prove just this: That the lesson we are trying to drive home to Germans, at Nuernberg, is for everybody.

Aggression Defined.

Everybody is disillusioned with the "peace." That can be the greatest thing that ever happened to mankind. The passion for new ways begins with disillusionment.

To stop war, we need the most comprehensive understanding of aggression. On July 3, 1933, the Soviet Union embodied a definition of aggression in treaties signed with Afghanistan, Esthonia, Latvia, Poland, Rumania, Iran and Turkey. The U.S.S.R. and these countries agreed to accept the definition of aggressor outlined in the report of the security council of May 24, 1933, proffered to the disarmament conference, by the Soviet delegation.

Under that definition, the "high contracting parties" defined as aggressor any state that commits the following acts:

1. Declaration of war against another state.
2. Invasion with armed forces of the territory of another state even without declaration of war.
3. Attack by land, naval or air forces, even without declaration of war, upon the territory, naval vessels or aircraft of another state.
4. Naval blockade of the coasts or ports of another state.
5. Aid to armed bands formed on the territory of another state and invading the territory of another state, or refusal, despite demand on the part of the state subjected to such attacks, to take all possible measures on its own territory to deprive said bands of any aid and protection.

No Ideological War.

These articles were followed by an appendix which said:

"No considerations whatsoever of a political, strategical or economic nature, including the desire to exploit natural resources, or obtain any sort of advantages and privileges on the territory of another state, no references to considerable capital investments or other special interests in a given state, or the alleged absence of certain attributes of state organization in a given country, shall be accepted as justification of aggression. Nor do the following situations allow any nation to become an aggressor: the internal situation in a given state, such as political, economic or cultural backwardness, alleged mal-administration, revolutionary or counter-revolutionary movements, civil war or disorders or strikes, or the establishment in any state of any particular political, economic or social order."

On these terms you can't make war on a state because it's Fascist, capitalist, Communist, liberal, radical, backward, conservative or anything else. You can't support armed independency or counter-independence movements, or back up secessionism or anti-secessionism, by force.

A Good Soviet Idea.

I know the Soviets broke these treaties themselves, in 1939 and thereafter. But Mr. Litvinoff had a good idea. Just get universal ratification of this definition, and armies, navies or air forces have no conceivable use. Every nation, having agreed to these principles of non-aggression, would become an aggressor the moment it built one tank or one bomber. And include in this definition of aggression, a prohibition against any state, or any instrument supported by any state, directing influence or subsidizing movements or parties within another state.

This wouldn't mean "one world." It would only mean "no war." A state could be liberal or conservative, backward or radical, and it would be no other state's business unless it started building tanks or bombing planes, and manufacturing bombs, atomic or plain.

But if no government could keep its people in chains by painting the bogy of a ring of enemies we might move rapidly toward wider freedom.

Well, it was a Soviet idea, and a good one. If the Soviets have moved toward reaction while the Western world is catching up with Mr. Litvinoff, no nation can move faster backward or forward than the Soviets, so why not forward again—and we with them?

It's amazing how friendly and tolerant everyone can be with everyone else, if none are too intimate, nor afraid of being socked on the nose. It doesn't even hurt to talk tough—if the old child's taunt holds: "Scoldings don't hurt, lickings don't last and kill me you dassn't."

MARQUIS CHILDS

UN's Search for a Home

As the fledgling United Nations prepare to meet new problems, it is preparing also to find a new place to live. The Hunter College site in the Bronx is in many ways unsatisfactory. There is no centralized office space. UN officers have taken quarters in several buildings on the Hunter campus. But no one seems to know where they are and the visitor finds himself wandering from classroom to classroom, often in a vain search for the official he desires to see.

Even if the setting were a perfect one, UN would still be faced with the problem of a temporary home. The lease on Hunter College expires May 15 and New York City's Board of Higher Education wants to reclaim the college.

Startling Contrast.

A nervous and uncertain refugee, the new world organization is looking anxiously for another location. You have the feeling that it is hanging on precariously to the right to live in this great city that is crowded as never before in the midst of a mounting boom.

The contrast is sometimes startling between the roar and the rush of the city, with its babylonian glitter, and the frail new organization seeking a place to rest. It is sometimes accentuated by small incidents.

One of the delegations occupies a number of hotel rooms in a lesser known hotel. One of the rooms was unoccupied, waiting the arrival of a diplomat from Europe. The hotel management sent up word that the room would have to be paid for in advance to make sure it would not be assigned to someone on the long waiting list for rooms.

The new site for UN that seems fairly certain of approval is the abandoned plant of the Sperry Gyroscope Co. at Lake Success on Long Island. There is more than enough office space at the Sperry plant. One of the warehouses could be converted without too much difficulty into a meeting place for the Council and the Assembly.

Geneva's Peace and Quiet.

The Long Island site has at least one of the disadvantages of Hunter College. It is 18 miles from the center of Manhattan, which would mean an even longer trip for the delegates from their living quarters. That is one thing they have disliked about Hunter—making the trip to the Bronx and then throughout the day being separated from their headquarters.

Members of some of the delegations think wistfully of the quiet and peace of Geneva in the old days of the League of Nations. Certainly, no contrast could be greater. The little city on the beautiful lake in Switzerland was sedate, unhurried. The great and the near-great who went there for the league sessions were grateful for the calm environment. There were those who believed it was too isolated in the almost pastoral setting of Geneva.

That could never be said of the temporary home that the new league has found pending the time when it will build its own home. What Wordsworth said about getting and spending and the world being too much with us never had such force as it does here today in the vast human beehive.

Bit of Housekeeping.

Mayor O'Dwyer recently submitted an executive budget calling for the expenditure in the fiscal year 1946-47 of $857,131,489. In 1910, the entire Federal Government spent only $651,000,000. That is a measure of how far centralization has gone and how extensive is the apparatus of government necessary to manage the largest city in the world.

One could wish that the welcome to UN had been a little more real. In New York are great theaters, great auditoriums, many-storied office buildings. Yet there is no space for UN except on the fringes. It sometimes seems that the city—sign and symbol of our highly centralized civilization—is indifferent to everything but its own stupendous roar.

The new organization should not be plagued with the question of a site. That is an elementary bit of housekeeping which should be settled at once. Far more pressing problems that may determine the success or failure of UN will soon be up for solution.

Spain, Greece, Indonesia, Egypt, these are only the beginning. The least the UN must have is a settled place for debate and discussion.

TOMORROW LAST FILING DAY FOR HORSE SHOW ENTRIES

Tomorrow is the last day for the filing of entries for the annual St. Louis Spring Horse Show Association, April 25, 26 and 27, at Missouri Stables arena, 5200 Berthold avenue.

Many entries already have been received and many more are anticipated, Fred J. Berkley, president of the association, said today. He said 36 classes have been established for roadsters, three-gaited and five-gaited horses, hunters, jumpers, and equitation.

William J. Cunningham of Mexico, Mo., will be judge of the saddle, harness, hunter and jumper classes, Berkley said. Entries may be filed at the horse show office at the Chase Hotel, and tickets may be purchased there and at the stables.

By JACK BALCH.

The story of a Presidential candidate on the Republican ticket who had his mind in the clouds, when it came to political idealism, but who "forgot to keep his feet in the voting booth," and therefore had to step out of the race when his ideals came up against the demands for compromise on the part of the practical politicians backing him, began a two-week run at the American Theater last night.

The play, of course, was the much-heralded "State of the Union," in a road company version, and it was written by those demon caterers to the better public tastes in theater, Howard Lindsay and Russel Crouse.

As seen last night the play proved to be a satirical comedy, with a splash of well-painted-on romance, that's in the most professional style of the commercial theater. That is to say, the satire, in the form of dozens of hard-hitting line of dialogue, is chocolate-coated, for the sake of a necessary box-office appeal, with the smoothest of production values, the canniest of play direction, and a consummate all-around excellence in the acting.

The romance is quite believeable, carrying its full quota of interest, even while it, obviously, is an addition by the authors in the interests of keeping happy the widest range in audiences.

Neil Hamilton, once of the movies, plays the part of Grant Matthews, the aforementioned Presidential candidate. Matthews, to the experienced eyes of the Republican President-maker, Jim Conover, played by James Rennie, had everything a successful canddiate should have, including a great wartime reputation as an airplane-builder and a postwar reputation as a liberal among big businessmen.

But then a flaw developed in the slick coating of the Matthews reputation. The flaw was Matthews's estrangement from his wife, played by Judith Evelyn, and his close extra-legal relationship with the owner of a string of Republican newspapers, played by Katherine Meskil.

As the President-maker explains, the American voting public likes to think of its political candidates as being happily married. Conover's problem thus becomes that of persuading the wife, for appearances' sake, to tour the country with her husband. The wife consents. The plot goes on from there, with the candidate trying to be "honest," the President-maker trying to instruct him in the art of "compromise," the wife trying to keep her husband out of the politicians' and the rival woman's "clutches," and the rival woman trying to make of Matthews a great man in the image of her own ideas of what a United States President should be.

The gist of the whole conflict is summed up in the wife's third-act outburst when she accuses her husband and his camp of thinking "of the votes in the next election, whereas I'm thinking of the safety of the next generation," or words to that effect. Big business, labor unions, New Deal hating Deep South Democrats, post-America Firsters, the voting public, and a number of well-known newspaper men come in for their share of the barbs and the fun.

Besides principals already mentioned, excellent acting jobs were turned in by Donald Kohler as a campaign manager on leave from a newspaper; Ethel Strickland as a maid; Forrest Orr as a tycoon, contributor of "silent money" to the campaign; Marion Green as a judge; Maida Reade as the judge's wife, and a number of others. Bretaigne Windust staged the play superbly. Raymond Sovey contributed some very good sets.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

INVITATIONS have been received from Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Burnes Gatch for the wedding reception of their daughter, Miss Katherine Burnes Gatch, and Joseph Albert Hellmuth on Saturday afternoon, April 27. Only the immediate families and a few close friends will attend the ceremony at 4 o'clock, while additional friends will be guests at the reception an hour later.

To date five showers highlight the social calendar of the bride-to-be. Tomorrow afternoon Miss Margaret and Miss Jeannette Rodemyer will give a dinner and linen shower at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Monroe H. Rodemyer, 5 Brentmoor park. Miss Tam Benoist, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francois B. Benoist, 4620 Pershing avenue, will give a luncheon and kitchen shower at the Junior League Tea Room April 17 and Miss Gatch's cousin, Miss Katherine Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lockwood Hill, 4931 Lindell boulevard, will be hostess at the spinster dinner and a lingerie shower April 19 at St. Louis Country Club. Yesterday afternoon Mrs. Cyril J. Costello (Julie Leahy) gave a tea and miscellaneous shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Leahy, 4944 Lindell boulevard, and Miss Martha Ann Galleher gave a luncheon and miscellaneous shower Saturday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wheeler Galleher, 7122 Maryland avenue.

Miss Gatch's attendants will be her sister, Mrs. Edward T. Powers (Olive Gatch) of New York, matron of honor; Miss Galleher, maid of honor, and six bridesmaids, the Misses Rodemyer, Mrs. George F. Hellmuth of Detroit, sister-in-law of the prospective bridegroom; Miss Marjorie Powers of Glen Cove, L. I., former roommate of the bride-elect at Sarah Lawrence College; Miss Hill and Mrs. Costello.

Mr. Hellmuth, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hellmuth, 4468 Maryland avenue, will announce his attendants later.

Gaily printed folders in two shades of green announcing "The Easter Bunnies are coming to Bellerive" have been received by members of Bellerive Country Club inviting their children to an Easter egg hunt at the club on Easter. Separate hunts for younger and older children have been arranged as well as prizes, entertainment and refreshments. The event will start at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon.

TO the long list of post-Easter brides has been added Miss Anne Harriet Blanke, who today announced plans for her wedding to William John Jenkins II, recently dischanged from the Naval Reserve, in which he was an aviation cadet. The marriage date is Saturday, April 27; the place Christ Church Cathedral, and the time 5:30 o'clock. Dean Sidney E. Sweet will perform the ceremony, which is to be followed by a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Blanke, 4 Ridgetop, parents of the bride-elect.

Miss Blanke will have eight attendants—Mrs. George Plamondon Deibel, who now lives in Lawrenceville, Ill., matron of honor; Miss Lucia King, maid of honor, and the following bridesmaids: Miss Ara Postlethwaite, Miss Lois Plowman and Mrs. C. Calvin Christy, cousins of Miss Blanke; Miss Betty Watkins, Mrs. Charles Ellaby Jr. (Anne Hardy), and Miss Betty Rickey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Branch Rickey. Miss Rickey, whose home is in New York, will come here from California, where she is visiting a sister. The bridegroom-elect, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Stuart Jenkins, 7408 University drive, will announce his attendants later.

Parties for Miss Blanke began shortly after she announced her engagement last August, and will continue until the night before the wedding. Recently Miss Postlethwaite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Preston B. Postlethwaite, gave a bridge luncheon and kitchen shower; Miss Helen Ayers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo K. Ayers, was hostess at a luncheon bridge, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Blanke, uncle and aunt of the bride-to-be, gave a family dinner.

Saturday, Mrs. Hamlett Grigg and Mrs. Robert L. Blanke Jr., cousins of Miss Anne, gave a luncheon at the Park Plaza Hotel, and tonight Miss Jane McCulloch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McCulloch, will have a dinner at her home, 6945 Kingsbury boulevard. Mrs. Philip Doisy and Mrs. Ellaby are planning a buffet dinner at the home of Mrs. Doisy's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Wayne Rupe, April 22, and two days later Mrs. William Preston Norris will entertain a group of Miss Blanke's friends at luncheon at the Park Plaza. Mrs. Norris will come to St. Louis from her home in Milwaukee for the wedding. She will be accompanied by Mr. Norris.

Mr. Jenkins's parents will give the rehearsal dinner April 25 at Missouri Athletic Club and April 26, the night before the wedding, Miss King and Mrs. Deibel will give the last party, also a dinner, at the home of Miss King's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hopkins King, in the St. Louis Country Club grounds.

Mr. and Mrs. John Allan Love of Whitestone, Ladue road, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Nathalie Love, will arrive home later this week from Palm Beach, Fla. They have been vacationing at the Vineta Hotel since mid-February.

3 ST. LOUIS SERVICE MEN GET ARMY, NAVY AWARDS

The award of the Bronze Star to First Lt. Harry B. Bennett, 5452 Clemens avenue, has been announced by the War Department. Lt. Bennett was cited for maintaining routes for troop movements in China as district engineer on the Kweiyang-Liuchow Road.

Seaman 1-C Bernard E. Lewis, 1125 Palm street, has received the Silver Star for gallantry in action on the battleship New Mexico during the invasion of Okinawa last March.

Lt. George W. Jeans Jr., of St. Louis, was recently awarded the Army Service Forces new Army Commendation Ribbon for his services at Fort Leonard Wood as supervisor of training tests in the inspection and control division there. His mother, Mrs. Blanche Jeans, lives at 2710 South Grand boulevard. His father lives at 6527 Woodrow avenue, Pine Lawn.

MIURI SINGS HER LAST 'MADAME BUTTERFLY'

Dying Soprano Broadcasts Arias She Did on Stage in Many Cities.

The wrinkled, 64-year-old Japanese "first lady" of the opera who has sung the role hundreds of times on the stages of the operatic capitals of the world left a hospital bed to sing the pathetic story of Cho-Cho San over a national radio network.

Then, dressed in a richly-brocaded kimono with floor-length sleeves, she was taken back to the hospital where doctors said she will not recover from an intestinal tumor.

"Today I feel good because I'll sing Butterfly," she said as she adjusted her towering hairdo, opened her fan and dabbed gently at her wrinkled face which already was heavily powdered.

While the orchestra was tuning up a doctor had to give her an injection. But the singer, who has shrunk from 130 pounds to 85 during the last year, took it bravely.

After her performance, she stopped momentarily to say to an American reporter:

"Please send my love to America. My dying wish is to go there again where I spent the happiest days of my life."

IRISH WIVES OF ST. LOUIS VETERANS ON WAY TO U.S.

Two Irish wives of St. Louis service veterans and their children were listed as passengers on the transport Henry Gibbins, which is due to reach New York from Belfast, Ireland, about next Friday with 470 wives and children. Local names were:

Mrs. Margaret Strehl of Lurgan; Sandra P., 20 months old, and Anna J., 7 months old, wife and daughters of Pvt. Earl Strehl, 4617 Easton avenue; Mrs. Maisie S. Perkins of Belfast, Margaret L. 2 years old, and James C., 11 months old, wife and children of Sgt. Carol W. Perkins, 1934A South Broadway.

LONDON, April 9 (UP)—Princesses Elizabeth and Margaret Rose went to the theater last night to see a play, "The First Gentleman," about an English princess who disregarded her father's wishes and married for love. Princess Charlotte of Wales was the romantic heroine. Her "cruel father" was the son of George III.

HEALTH IN SCHOOLS TO BE DISCUSSED HERE

American Association to Study Ways to Apply Medical Findings to Programs.

The problem of raising public health standards by improved health standards and physical fitness training in schools and colleges will be discussed at the fifty-first annual convention of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation which opens here today.

Educators and authorities in the field of health, physical education and recreation will attend the convention. The general sessions will begin tomorrow at Hotel Jefferson and continue through Saturday.

Principal activities today consist of 23 section and group meetings including a panel discussion on how to fit the findings of the school medical services into health and physical education programs, a panel discussion of dance techniques and a talk on the application of camping and outing to physical education, all at Hotel Jefferson.

A demonstration of modern dance techniques will be given at 8 o'clock tonight at Beaumont High School by student groups from Texas State College for Women, Stephens College, Normandy High School and Monticello College.

Also meeting tonight are the Y.M.C.A. physical educators at the Downtown "Y" and the American Physiotherapy Association and district therapeutics groups at the hotel.

Miss Catherine Worthingham, director of technical education for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, arrived yesterday from New York to be made a Fellow of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation in the convention here.

Miss Worthingham also will interview nine applicants for National Foundation physical therapy scholarships. The scholarships are being offered for the purpose of training 1000 qualified physical therapists needed at the present time.

Umpires—Rue and Magerkurth.

By L. A. McMaster
Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 9—Mark Christman was at his old position at third base, combining with Vernon Stephens at shortstop, John Berardino at second and George Archie at first base in what looks like the infield combination that will play in the spring series with the Cardinals and open the championship season next week.

Manager Luke Sewell has said repeatedly he liked to have Christman in the game. Shortstop being the only position Stephens has played for the Browns, except in a couple of emergencies, it is natural for Luke to put him there.

This was the second successive day for Archie to start against right-hand pitching, indicating that he will get the call for first base if he shows well.

John Miller for the Browns and Hank Borowy, for the Cubs, were the starting flingers. Borowy was kayoed by the Browns in less than two innings the last time he pitched against them.

Pitcher Jack Kramer arose today with a "crick" in his neck which made it impossible for him to turn his head.

It was cool for the second straight day. About 2400 persons were in the stands.

The game:

FIRST INNING — CUBS—Berardino threw out Hack. Johnson flied to Grace. Lowrey popped to Berardino.

BROWNS — Grace singled to right. Grace went to second on a wild pitch. Finney struck out. Stephens grounded to Merullo who threw to Hack to get Grace going into third. McQuillen popped to Hack.

THIRD — CUBS — McCullough singled to center. Berardino threw out Merullo. Borowy went out the same way, McCullough moving to third. Hack singled to center, scoring McCullough. Johnson popped to Christman. ONE RUN.

BROWNS—Helf flied to Pafko. Miller was safe on Merullo's fumble. Grace flied to Pafko. Merullo booted Finney's grounder, Miller stopping at second. Stephens was called out on strikes.

Stephens' Hit Wins For Browns Over Cubs

Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 9—The Browns are riding home along easy street. Victories in spring exhibitions don't win pennants in the battling that goes on from mid-April until October, but Luke Sewell's men are scoffing at the Grapefruit League standings. They feel that the record of nearly 40 triumphs for the Yankees is the fruit of an over-stuffed pre-season schedule that only adds to the loud noise which is counted on as a publicity aid to the Bronx Bombers in advance of championship play.

Joe Propaganda is listed among the Yankees' big stars and he doesn't scare the Browns at all.

At Tulsa yesterday, the Browns beat the titleholders of the Ford Frick circuit for the tenth time. And they did it by a 1-0 score, their third single-run triumph over Charley Grimm's bad Bruins in six days. The win at Tulsa assured the Browns of an even break on their 20-game schedule with the Cubs and they have to their credit also four verdicts over the Pittsburgh Pirates in six meetings.

Bad News for Pasquel.

Riggs Defeats Budge, Leads in Series, 14-4

EAST LANSING, Mich., April 9 (AP)—Bobby Riggs ended Don Budge's two-match winning streak with a 6-1, 7-5 victory last night before 3500 tennis fans in Michigan State College's Jenison Field House.

War Vets Aid Bears

Pasquel Says He Will Sue Mickey Owen for $100,000 in St. Louis

MEXICO CITY, April 9 (AP)—Mexican League President Jorge Pasquel said here today he will file suit in United States courts against Mickey Owen, Brooklyn catcher, for breach of contract.

Pasquel said that Owen had signed a contract in the United States to play in Mexico for five years.

The Mexican League baseball magnate also reiterated he plans to sue Vernon Stephens, Browns' shortstop, who played two games in Mexico, then returned to the United States.

Pasquel revealed that Owen received $20,000 cash in advance after signing the contract. He said he will file a $100,000 action suit in St. Louis against the Dodger backstopper.

"That is where (St. Louis) he signed his contract with us and where he got $20,000 cash in advance," Pasquel said.

Yesterday in San Antonio, Owen denied signing any contract.

Multimillionaire Pasquel also announced that he plans to sue Stephens for $100,000. After starting the case in Mexico against the Browns star, Pasquel said he plans to have it transferred to the United States.

Rickey Offers Owen Chance To Make Deal for Himself.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 9 (AP) — Mickey Owen, roving Dodger catcher, was headed back toward Brooklyn today after a short flirtation with the Mexican baseball league.

Saying he expected to rejoin the Dodgers in 10 days, Owen and his wife left San Antonio by automobile yesterday following his announcement that he had turned down an offer to join the south-of-the-border league.

The catcher's quest for greener pastures wound up in a conference here with Alfonso Pasquel, one of five brothers who operate the Mexican league, over an offer to become player-manager for the Torreon club.

Owen said he had talked by telephone with Branch Rickey, Brooklyn president. The player is still under contract to the Dodgers for half a season.

Owen declined to say whether he would sign a new contract with the Dodgers. He said, however, that Rickey had offered him a chance to make a deal with other major league teams.

The catcher said he had considered the Mexican league offer for "strictly personal reasons," including a salary increase.

At Nashville, Tenn., Harold Parrott, traveling secretary for the Dodgers, announced last night that Rickey hasn't changed his mind about Owen and still plans to sell or trade him.

The day after the catcher said he was going with the Mexican league Rickey said: "Owen will never play with the Brooklyn club again. If he doesn't decide to go to Mexico he will either be sold or traded. He will not be signed for a nickel more than his contract called for when he entered service."

Owen is reported to have received $12,500 a year from the Dodgers.

"The nearer I got to Mexico, the more I decided I was making a mistake," Owen said.

He added that he and Pasquel parted on friendly terms and that he would return the money advanced him by the Mexican brothers to show "good faith" in the contract offer. Owen never returned the signed contract to the Mexican league officials, he stated.

"Everything is all right," Pasquel told reporters. "We had a gentlemen's agreement and Owen just changed his mind."

Organized Ball Will Back Players in Suits, A. B. Chandler Declares

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 9 (AP) —Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler said here today that organized baseball would be "for" Mickey Owen and Vernon Stephens if they were sued by Mexican League interests.

Chandler was told of Mexican League president Jorge Pasquel's statement that he would sue the American players for breach of contract when he came to Lexington to meet a train bringing the Boston Red Sox here for an exhibition game with the Cincinnati Reds.

He first shrugged his shoulders signifying "no comment." Then, as an afterthought, the commissioner observed:

"Of course in any controversy involving our players we will be on their side. After all, they are coming back at our call."

He declined to elaborate.

A moment later in a radio interview, Chandler forecast that the Mexican circuit would not survive unless it adopted uniform rules and regulations respecting the holdings of other interests.

120 to Compete In Pro-Amateur

Wtih an entry list of 120, the first district pro-amateur tournament of the season will be held Thursday at Normandie.

Clarence Norsworthy, Triple A professional and president of the Eastern Missouri P.G.A., said the field would be the largest in a pro-amateur meet in 10 years.

Prizes will be awarded for the two low individual gross, for three low individual net and for four low team scores.

Boxer in Hospital Following Knockout

NEWARK, N. J., April 9 (UP) — Danny Aldridge, 169¾-pound Newark boxer, was under hospital observation today as a result of the second-round knockout he suffered from George (Kayo) Chaney of Baltimore in their scheduled six-round semi-final bout at Laurel Garden last night.

Aldridge was unconscious for almost half an hour, but regained consciousness shortly before he was taken to the hospital.

Dyer's Book Of Month Is Non-Fiction

By Bob Broeg
Of the Post-Dispatch Sports Staff.

DALLAS, Tex., April 9 — The only percentages in which Manager Eddie Dyer will be interested this year will be those in the won-and-lost column of the National League and another set written in a little black book he carries.

To the freshman big league pilot the calculations entered in the notebook, to which he refers frequently, should have a decided bearing on the other table of percentages—the league's standings.

"I've usually found my own set of percentages more profitable than a pat adherence to the 'book' —the unwritten law that dictates when to do this and that on the field—and more reliable than general statistics," Dyer explained while commenting on the general spring thumpings suffered by Charley (Red) Barrett, last year's 23-game winner.

Take the Case of Barrett.

In the case of Barrett, who in 38 innings of exhibition pitching, including six yesterday against Fort Worth, has allowed 48 hits and 21 runs, the Cardinals' manager acknowledged that the club's comedian has been hit harder than Dyer would like to see. But the skipper, referring to his little black book, accurately quoted Barrett's record of base on balls.

"The redhead has allowed only three walks and so he doesn't hurt himself by putting men on base the way some other pitchers do," Dyer said. However, he declined to speculate on whether cunning and control, Barrett's chief assets as a pitcher, would be sufficient in a season with more of the National League's better hitters back in baseball uniforms.

That notebook was intriguing, anyway, and would Dyer explain its significance?

On Strengths and Weaknesses.

"Sure, pahd, glad to. For one thing, I keep a record of what our pitchers do so that I know not only against what clubs they're effective, but also the names of the hitters that trouble them the most—and, where possible, what pitches those bothersome hitters have belted. In that way I find my notes more accurate than my memory and more complete than weekly published averages."

In that little black book, which Dyer has used ever since he began managing a Class D ball club back in 1928, the pilot also keeps track, for example, of enemy catchers' vulnerability to the stolen base and, too, he charts the effectiveness of certain plays.

"For instance," Dyer related, "I've used for years, with fast men, a run-and-bunt play in which the runner breaks from first on the pitch and the hitter lays the ball down along the third-base line, forcing the third baseman to come in to handle the ball. When the play is executed well mechanically, I've been able eight out of 10 times—by actual computation—to get the runner around from first to third base."

Still Has Two Jobs Open.

That play, incidentally, and the stolen base, one of Dyer's favorites, likely will be seen only infrequently this year because of the caliber of the club's hitters, minimizing need for the bunt, and the Yankee-inspired disposition to play for big innings.

In that notebook, too, Dyer has his own evaluations—along with the black-and-white figures—on starting positions still unsettled. But as yet, he said last night, he has made no choice in his mind between Ray Sanders (.196) and Dick Sisler (.442) at first base and Lou Klein (.323) and Emil Varban (.197) at second. On the basis of spring games, however, Sisler and Klein do hold definite batting edges over the two infield incumbents.

One potential starter for the opening National League game a week from today—two-game Johnny Beazley—was sent to St. Louis late yesterday afternoon for examination of a stomach that has been upset three or four times this spring. Beazley's pitching delivery has not been as natural as before he went into service, where he suffered an arm injury, but his effectiveness has been enough that, barring a bad report on the condition of his stomach, the 1942 star will be on the firing line next Tuesday against Pittsburgh, Dyer said.

"I think Johnny can make it, but he's so important to our pennant chances that I want to find out as soon as possible in actual league competition," the manager commented.

In thumping Fort Worth yesterday, 15 to 3, the Redbirds walloped a Texas League team that last week beat the Yankees, 5 to 4, and sent the same two pitchers —righthanders named Bob Costello and Al Zachary—against the Cardinals. Both were wild, both were pounded, and so was a third pitcher. The Cards hammered out 12 hits, including a triple and an inside-the-park home run by Enos Slaughter, who got the four-bagger when rightfielder Moe Santamauro of the Cats crashed into the fence and was knocked unconscious. The only other Redbird with two hits was Dick Sisler, whose two singles batted in four runs.

Barrett gave the Brooklyn farmhands five hits and three runs, one unearned, and Blix Donnelly's sweeping curve set them down with two hits the last three innings.

Lanier Starts Today.

In the quest this afternoon for the club's seventh consecutive victory on the trip home and the twentieth in the last 24 games, Max Lanier will throw his left-handed assortment against the Dallas Rebels, another Texas League entry. Doubtless Mr. Dyer also will make a notation or two in that little black book.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Billy Conn Is Shaping Up—Vocally.

"MY big problem right now," gave off Billy Conn to a reporter a few days ago, "is trying to decide whether to make a title defense in September. . . . The taxes would murder me if I had two outdoor championship fights this year."

That's just an undercover way of informing us what he expects to do to Joe Louis next June 19. He as good as tells his friends: "Cheerio about this guy Louis. . . . I've got him in the bag."

William always could talk a good fight. . . . Apparently, his oomph in this respect hasn't deteriorated, although quite an interval has elapsed since Joe Louis knocked him out. . . . Nor has he seemingly any fear but that at 29 and five years' absence from professional fighting, he will not be able to trip as lightly around the ring as he did in 1941. . . . He envisions himself stepping away from Joe, peppering him liberally in the meanwhile and never, never coming within range of Louis's howitzers.

Suppose he is pretty nearly as he thinks he is—probably he won't be. . . . We didn't get the impression that Conn was taking Joe apart during the first 12 rounds of their fight. . . . In fact, few onlookers thought his tap-and-getaway procedure made him look very much like a champion. . . . This writer felt throughout the battle that what finally happened to Conn would surely come to pass, sometime within 15 rounds.

His showing left such an impression that, on meager information as to their training as of today, we feel that Louis will always have it on Conn. . . . In none of the fights we've seen, has Conn looked like a world champion heavyweight.

He weighs 190, a little more today than in 1941. . . . He's just as cocky as ever. . . . He appears to be training seriously. . . . But his salvation consists in remaining away from Joe's big guns. . . . And nobody can do much toward winning by mounting a bicycle—especially when the enemy mounts a Big Bertha.

Chicago Stadium to Resume Fights.

THE manager of the Chicago Stadium boxing shows became so hot under his asbestos collar, following that Arturo Godoy-Lee Savold "no contest" fight a month ago, that he closed the place and threatened to toss the key to the five-million dollar establishment away, so far as pro fights were concerned.

But he cooled out nicely. . . . He's now all set and ready to put on another show with two Chicago fighters signed to battle April 12—Freddie Dawson and Johnny Bratton. . . . The reason for resuming? You can't expect an expensive stadium to show a profit by making a mausoleum out of it.

The Jack Johnson Confession Revived.

ON April 5, 1915, in Havana, Cuba, the heavyweight champion of the world, John Arthur Johnson, an exile from his country, lay on his back in the ring, while the referee was counting him out, in the twenty-sixth round of his championship fight with Jess Willard.

It had been a long, hard fight under a broiling sun. . . . Johnson weighed 229 pounds for that fight, although his best fighting figure in his prime was around 196. . . . At Havana he was old and tired. . . . But he was paid $30,000, win, lose or draw.

But as Jack was being counted out, one arm and glove were raised to shield his eyes from the sun. . . . The pictures of that scene went all over the country at the time. . . . Observers sneered and said "he isn't knocked out—he's able to shield his eyes from the sun."

That picture sowed the seeds of doubt in the minds of fans. Years later, when Johnson wrote his "confession" that he had been paid to "lay down" to Willard, many believed it. . . .

That confession was revived by Dan Parker in a Saturday Post story recently.

The original written confession was bought, says Parker, by Nat Fleischer, editor of Ring magazine, to prevent its circulation because Fleischer believed it false. . . . Fleischer ascribed the sun-shielding incident to a reflex action of a semi-conscious man. . . . Fleischer said he did not believe one word of the confession.

Well, who did?

Bear Nine Puts Squeeze on Bills

St. Louis University's Billikens today knew the taste of defeat. They suffered their first loss of the season on the diamond yesterday when the Washington U. Bears rode over them, 15-4, in seven innings at Liggett Field.

Bill Herbert's double, a single by Walter and three walks got the Bears off in front with a trio of tallies in the opening inning. In the next frame, Herbert came through with a homer with a man on and there was no stopping Washington after that.

This was the first of four games to be played between the two teams during the season.

16 Matches Tonight At South Side Catholic

An open featherweight bout between Glen Helbig, defending champion, and Alois Bauer, was expected to be the feature of the 16 semifinals in the South Side Catholic High School boxing tourney tonight.

Harold Bley and Jim Pudlowski, two other 1945 title holders, are to clash in an open lightweight match.

Two St. Louis Boys Given Contracts at Browns' Trial Camp

Two St. Louis boys were among the five from a field of 120, who participated in the Browns' tryout camp at Farmington, Mo., last week, were signed to minor league contracts.

Cleveland Trackmen Win; Minogue Stars

Minogue took the 100-yard dash in 10 2-5s, the broad jump with 19 feet, four inches and ran on the winning 880 relay and medley relay teams.

Central Beats Southwest, 2-1, In Loop Opener

The Public High School League race got under way yesterday with Central defeating Southwest, 2-1; Beaumont winning from Soldan, 7-4; McKinley from Blewett, 8-2, and Cleveland and Roosevelt tying, 9-9. The latter game was called because of darkness.

A home run by Marvin Stendel with one on in the final inning achieved the tie for Roosevelt. Dick Loser made four hits and pitched in a relief role for Beaumont.

Assault Victor In Jamaica Upset

NEW YORK, April 9 (UP)—A smashing four-and-a-half length victory in the Experimental Handicap at Jamaica today moved the King Ranch's Assault up into the front ranks of Kentucky Derby contenders.

It was an upset triumph for the speedy son of Bold Venture, '36 Derby champion, as he drove over the six furlongs in 1:12 flat to pay a win mutuel of $20.20. Jockey Warren Mehrtens sent the chestnut colt into the lead in the first quarter of a mile and Assault kept pulling away for the rest of the sprint distance.

John B. Theall's Islam Prince, also a Derby eligible, ran far in the ruck most of the way but closed under a hard drive to take second by a half length over J. W. Bowley's Derby horse Larkmead Andy.

Fox, Harris Rematched.

PHILADELPHIA, April 9 (AP) —Ossie Harris and Billy Fox have been rematched for a 10-round fight April 22 at the Arena. Harris was ahead of Fox on points when he was knocked out in the 10th round of their bout in Pittsburgh last week. It was Fox's 38th straight K.O.

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 9—If there was any doubt as to the 1945-46 "bowler of the year," it was dissipated after little Joe Wilman, the ex-G.I. had completed his nine games in the American Bowling Congress tourney here with a 2054 all events aggregate. The record is 2070, set by Max Stein of Belleville, Ill., in 1937.

Little Joe averaged 228.2 for his nine games and is the odds-on choice to win his second ABC all-events crown. His games were 215-225-218-214-245-247-245-236-209.

The Chicago kingpin gave his Monarch team a 658 series; totaled 706 as he was taking seventh place in the doubles with Johnny Small, as the pair collaborated on a 1284 set and then banged out 690 in the singles.

Many followers are heralding his season as the best in bowling history. Shortly after his Army discharge, he won the all-star. Then he set a new record in scoring 1797 to win $1500 in the Waibel classic at St. Louis; copped $1500 in topping the Pot-o-Gold tourney at Toledo and then added $500 in winning Jerry Anderson's singles at Moline, Ill.

Wilman has averaged 214.37 for the last five ABCs, and holds two previous titles. He captained the Budweisers as they won the last ABC at Columbus in 1942, and won the all-events at Cleveland in 1939 with 2028.

Junie McMahon and Dick Winsberg rolled a 1302 second place doubles, and Adam Plunge turned in a third-place 710 (257, 232, 221) singles performance. McMahon hit 706 (213, 257, 236) in the two-man while Winsberg contributed 596.

McMahon and Plunge also moved into the over-all picture, the former combining his 706 doubles with a 619 singles and 572 team count for a ninth-place 1897 all-events rating. Plunge put together a 710 singles, 612 doubles and 572 team score for a tenth-place 1894 in the over-all division.

Two changes were registered in the team division, the Wilkes-Barre Stegmaiers Gold Medal Beer five grossed 2907 for fifth place, and the Beaver Gages of Syracuse took over ninth place with a total of 2883 pins.

In other action yesterday, Cleveland's Fred Baran missed a perfect 300 game when the No. 1, 2 and 5 pins remained erect on his twelfth ball. He had fired 11 successive strikes. Finishing with 297, Baran posted the highest solo game thus far in the tournament.

Walter Johnson to Coach Young Players

WASHINGTON, April 9 (UP)—Walter Johnson, pitching immortal of the Washington Senators, returned to baseball today as coach of a "baseball college" for the youth of the District of Columbia and nearby communities.

The "college," sponsored by the Washington Daily News and the Touchdown Club, will operate each Saturday morning in Griffith Stadium—scene of Johnson's greatest hurling triumphs. Visiting major league stars from all American League teams will serve as tutors.

The project has the indorsement of President Truman, Attorney General Tom Clark, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, Baseball Commissioner "Happy" Chandler, President Will Harridge of the American League and other outstanding figures.

Indictment Against Three in 'Ringer' Case

The bill named owner James S. O'Donnell of Washington and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanner of Maryland Park, Md.

They are accused of substituting O'Donnell's Flying Kilts for the Sanner's Rounco in the second race at Pimlico and claiming the $1100 purse when Flying Kilts won. The horse returned $15.90 to his backers. The two men already are barred for life on Louisiana tracks.

TRAINING CAMP NOTES

Detroit Tiger Manager STEVE O'NEILL announced three changes in the previously announced line-up for the opening day game with the Browns at Detroit, April 16. . . . Restored to their regular positions by virtue of impressive play are Second Baseman Eddie Mayo and Third Baseman Pinky Higgins. . . . Paul Richards will be behind the plate instead of the ailing Birdie Tebbetts, who is suffering from duodinal ulcers.

Three more players have been released by the Brooklyn Dodgers. . . Pitcher Ervin Palica goes to Meridian in the Southeastern League; First Baseman John Douglas to St. Paul and Pitcher John Van Cuyk to Fort Worth. . . . HORACE STONEHAM, president of the New York Giants, said he was in contact with three major league clubs in the hopes of getting four players he believes can make the club a pennant contender.

The PITTSBURGH PIRATES have decided to open their home season April 20 instead of April 19, because of Good Friday. . . . WILLARD MARSHALL, outfielder, is expected to join the New York Giants at Richmond, Va., tomorrow. . . . JOHNNY MIZE had three singles in a game with the Cleveland Indians yesterday.

Pitcher FRANK HOERST has convinced Manager Ben Chapman of the Philadelphia Phillies that three and a half years in the Navy has not hurt his hurling ability. . . . Hoerst baffled the Washington Senators in gaining a 2-1 victory over Roger Wolff.

AL JAVERY, veteran right-hander, has been so unimpressive in workouts with the Boston Braves that he had been shifted to Indianapolis of the American Association, Manager Billy Southworth announced. . . . Southpaw Art Johnson, who has been having trouble with his arm, has been sent home. . . . Mort Cooper rejoined the club after a business trip to Kansas City.

Oree Smith Wins Over Bob Fowler

A slim turnout of 471 saw Wallach's weekly show at Palace Gardens last night. In the main event, Oree Smith sprung something of a surprise by outpointing Bob Fowler in eight rounds. The gross gate was $639.

Other results:

All Ozark Ring Champions Out Of Boston Meet

BOSTON, April 9 (AP)—After a convincing demonstration that amateur boxing has regained its prewar status, the National A.A.U. championship tourney today promised plenty of new thrills for its tireless and patient patrons.

With a bulky field of 172 hand-picked fisticuffers from all parts of the country on its lists, the tourney was unable to send all of its star performers into yesterday's opening action, that lasted for 11 hours at the Boston Garden before 5469 fans who paid $10,726.

As a result, another trip and an equally long stay are necessary if the 5469 first-day session spectators want to see the cream of this year's glove-swinging crop in gold medal combat.

While 131 of the battlers were putting on 74 first and second round bouts, such highly touted performers as East St. Louis' Bob Foxworth, representing Chicago, who won the light heavyweight titles in 1942-43, and heavyweights Charlie Lester of Cleveland, the tourney's sole defending champion, and Grady C. Welch, a Hawaiian entry, were resting on the sidelines.

They, along with 38 other capable performers, were held back until the bulky fields in the lightest classes could be slashed to second-day proportions. Those who idled yesterday, will be called upon to do double duty this afternoon and long into tonight.

(Six representatives of the St. Louis area, champions of the Ozark A.A.U. district, were eliminated yesterday by ring opponents, and a seventh, Alonzo Scurlock, was knocked out of the list by the law. Word was received that Scurlock, technically still alive since he drew a first-round bye, is dead as a salt mackerel as far as this tournament is concerned, since he is in the county bastile at Belleville, Ill. Defeated Ozark district boys were William Brown, Preacher Brown, Penn Brown, Jack Tillis, Richie Spitzfaden and Ephrain Granderson.)

The colorful Hawaiian team, back here for the first time since 1940, dominated the initial program by totaling five winners in the first two rounds of trials. The exceptionally strong Philadelphia team had four survivors while Cleveland and Oklahoma City's team on which Indians predominated were unofficially in third place with three winners out of six contestants. Washington, D. C. held fourth money with two winners in four starters.

Funeral Services for Winton E. Barker

Men long identified with sports served as pallbearers as funeral rites were held today for Winton E. Barker, former local and national soccer football official. Barker, 72 years old, died late Saturday of heart disease.

The pallbearers were Phil Riley, Billy Foley, John J. Dwyer, A. J. (Tate) Brady, Harry Ratican, Charley Bartley and Don Anderson, all of whom were closely associated with Barker in the operation of the old St. Louis Soccer League, and associate sports editor John E. Wray of the Post-Dispatch.

81 Report for Grid Drill at Notre Dame

SOUTH BEND, Ind., April 9 (AP)—Coach Frank Leahy, back at Notre Dame after two years in the Navy, got his first look at candidates for the 1946 football team yesterday when the Irish formally opened their first spring drills. Eighty-one players, including 21 monogram winners, turned out, with 36 more to report during the six weeks of practice.

Leahy said he expects "a representative Notre Dame team" next fall. Nine games are on the Irish schedule, including contests with Army and Navy.

Days of "Pickling Titles in Salt and Brine" Over, N.B.A. President Warns Champions

WASHINGTON, April 9 (UP)—President Abe J. Greene of the National Boxing Association warned champions in all divisions today that the days of "pickling titles in salt and brine" are over and that henceforth they must be defended on a regular schedule.

"The war is over and so is the excuse champions may have had for delaying their defense of the titles," Greene said. "The essence of all sports is the championship and the right to vie for it, and when champions freeze their titles behind over-the-weight or soft touches, they freeze the genuine boxing interest."

Greene, releasing his quarterly ratings of boxers, said that championship defenses of all titles were in the offing for the next few months.

The principal change in the ratings was the sudden rise in the heavyweight division of Joe Walcott, Camden, N.J., father of five children, who became the fourth ranking man because of his upset triumph over Jimmy Bivins at Cleveland last month.

He listed seven championship fights which have been scheduled in the next three months, headed by the Louis-Conn bout at New York's Yankee Stadium on June 19.

HEAVYWEIGHT—Joe Louis. Contenders, Billy Conn, Tami Mauriello, Joe Walcott, Jimmy Bivins, Lee Oma.

LIGHT HEAVYWEIGHT — Gus Lesnevich. Contenders, Archie Moore, Freddie Mills, Billy Fox, Billy Smith.

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

The eleventh annual "charity circus" of the Pine Street Y.M.C.A., a rollicking musical extravaganza featuring a host of Negro professional entertainers and capable amateurs, opened its six-day run at Kiel Auditorium Opera House last night before an enthusiastic capacity audience of 3500 persons.

Repeated ovations greeted the performances of "Cootie" Williams, popular trumpeter, and his orchestra; Dorothy Donegan, "boogie" pianist, singers Ella Fitzgerald and the Inkspots, and the Edwards Sisters's dance team. The stars obliged with numerous encores, forcing the show 30 minutes beyond schedule.

At one point, Ella Fitzgerald nearly stopped the show with her singing of "A tisket, a tasket," the song she made popular, when the mixed audience continuously called her back. She finally quelled the demands by saying "the show's running pretty late."

The circus motif was carried out in the first scene, "When the Circus Comes to Town," in which boys trained by the Y.M.C.A. paraded in the costumes of clowns and other big-top performers, and presented the famous Totem Pole Dance from the musical comedy Rose Marie. Many of the youngsters were dressed as animals.

Other amateur groups, including the Sumner High School choir, appeared in the subsequent scenes, "Melody Mansion," and "Easter Parade," ably supporting the professionals to the delight of the audience.

The remaining five performances have been sold out. Proceeds from the show will be used to provide two-week outings for needy Negro children at the Pine Street Y.M.C.A.'s Camp Rivercliff, near Bourbon, Mo.

FORMER CAFE OWNER HELD ON FALSE PRETENSE CHARGE

A warrant charging obtaining money under false pretenses was issued today against Halbert Milner, former St. Louis restaurant operator, on complaint of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Castelli, who told Assistant Circuit Attorney Thomas E. Dowling they paid Milner $2775 for fixtures in a cafeteria in the Missouri Insurance building, 705 Chestnut street, and later found the fixtures had not been owned by Milner.

Dowling said Milner had been arrested in Wagoner, Okla., and was returned to St. Louis last night. He waived extradition. The Castellis, after taking over the first-floor restaurant from Milner, discovered that the equipment was owned by several firms with which Milner had done business, Dowling said.

STOCK LIST, LED BY INDUSTRIALS, MAKES GAINS ON A BROAD FRONT

Steels, Motors, Heavy Equipment and Building Shares Advance, Then Rail Shares Join in Movement.

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP) — Industrial shares paced a renewed advance in the stock market today, some of them attaining new highs.

Motors, steels, building and heavy equipment issues were among the leaders which attracted active support.

Of the 1031 issues selling, 625 closed higher, 248 lower and 158 were unchanged. One hundred and forty-two made new 1946 highs and 15 new 1946 lows.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed up .8 of a point at 80.3. The industrial and utility groups recorded new peaks.

The Dow-Jones industrial index advanced 2.60 points to a new peak of 208.03, highest since Oct. 14, 1930.

Among Day's Leaders.

Trends were higher from the start, with bullish sentiment based on expectations of further Government price adjustments and easing of additional controls in heavy machinery and equipment fields. Rails joined the upturn on announced plans to seek higher freight rates. Air transport shares rose on a late flurry.

Although rubbers and a few aircrafts and manufacturing issues lagged and activity slowed at intervals during the day, gains ranging to two points were prevalent near the close.

Registering advances were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Santa Fe, Baltimore & Ohio, American Smelting, International Harvester, J. I. Case, Sears Roebuck, Johns-Manville, Eastman Kodak, Union Carbide, du Pont, Phelps Dodge, Standard Oil of N. J., Pan-American Airways, United Air Lines, American Locomotive, Warner Bros., American Radiator and Certainteed. Lower much of the day were Boeing, U. S. Gypsum, U. S. Rubber and Consolidated Edison.

U. S. Governments were lower in the bond market.

Trend on the Curb.

Ahead in the curb were Electric Bond & Share, Transwestern Oil, Elliott Co., Crown Drug, Humble Oil, N. Y. Auction, Atlas Plywood and Apex Electric Mfg. City Auto Stamping was lower.

Announcements of directors' recommendations for a 3-for-1 split of United Fruit Co. stock and a 2-for-1 split of the common shares of United Drug, Inc., were followed by run-ups in prices of these issues. United Fruit's gain was more than 7 points at one time.

Market analysts studied the possibilities in wider application of a government wage stabilization board ruling in a Detroit case that only 10 cents of an 18-cent wage increase for milk workers could be considered in an application for higher prices.

COTTON CLOSES UP $1.30 A BALE AFTER $1.50 SETBACK

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—Cotton futures rallied sharply in late dealings today on light mill and outside buying prompted by the introduction of the Pace bill in the House for action. Early losses of $1.05 a bale were registered on nervous liquidation influenced by price control uncertainties. The market moved over a wide range.

The market dipped a little more than $1 a bale on early liquidation. Later mill buying and some demand influenced by the introduction of the Pace parity bill rallied the market into high ground for the day. Private advices reported weather conditions favorable in the cotton belt and planting is making rapid progress.

Late afternoon prices were 60 cents a bale higher to 45 cents lower. May, 27.90c; July, 28.04c; October, 28.06c.

NICKLE PLATE TO ACQUIRE MORE WHEELING STOCK

CLEVELAND, April 9 (AP)—Nickel Plate Railroad's 1945 net income of $8,038,229 was up 11.86 per cent from the net of the previous year, President John W. Davin reported to stockholders.

Davin said the Chesapeake & Ohio's withdrawal of a proposal to merge with Nickel Plate "makes it essential that Nickel Plate proceed with its plan to acquire additional shares of Wheeling & Lake Erie Railway stocks."

Nickel Plate's Railway tax accruals for 1945 were a $3,424,663 credit compared with a debit of $23,173,015 in 1944, and total 1945 taxes were $26,597,678 lower than in 1944. The road reported authorization of $15,341,077 for improvement postponed during wartime.

CORPORATION REPORTS

CHICAGO, April 9 (AP)—The Chicago & Eastern Illinois Railroad reported that its net income in 1945 amounted to $1,228,569, equal to $1.35 a common share after class A dividend requirements of $2 a share. The railroad's 1944 net income was $1,489,071, or $2.10 a common share after class A dividend deductions.

MONSANTO OFFERS PREFERENCE ISSUE TO COMMON HOLDERS

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—Monsanto Chemical Co. said today it had offered to common stock holders the right to buy at $101.50 a share 316,967 shares of new $3.25 dividend cumulative preference stock, series "A," at the rate of one for each four shares of common held.

Rights will expire April 24.

Of the proceeds $22,675,000 will be used for redemption on about June 1 of all outstanding cumulative preferred stock. Balance will be used for expansion and improvement purposes.

NEW YORK BOND MARKET

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—Renewed softness in long-term federal issues on the heels of record highs touched last week contrasted with brisk demand for Latin American loans in the bond market today.

The Victory loan 2½s of December '62-'67 dropped the permissible limit of ¼ point in over-the-counter dealings, lowering the price close to a flat 106. The issue was similarly priced in the stock market.

Tennessee Gas & Transmission's new 2¾s, first offered to the public this morning at 101½, moved up to 103 bid.

Heavy trade in Denver & Rio Grande Western assented 5s of '55 lifted the final price 1⅞ to 24½, Lehigh Valley 4½s closed nearly a point ahead at 61⅝, while Pennsylvania general 4½s dipped to 127⅝.

RAIL STOCKHOLDERS TOLD RATE RISE NEED

PHILADELPHIA, April 9 (AP)—Controller Elmer Hart told Pennsylvania railroad stockholders that 1946 will "be one of generally increased cost of operations and maintenance, with a decreasing business, and it will soon be imperative to consider the need for increased railroad freight rates."

President M. W. Clement said estimates show the railroad will incur a $5,000,000 deficit for the first three months of the year and that introduction of new freight rates will "depend on the intelligence of government," adding:

Clement said a 25 to 30 per cent freight rate hike "is less than the increase allowed other industries," pointing out that no increase in passenger rates is under consideration.

During the first world war when the government operated rail lines, Clement stated, freight tariffs increased 100 per cent while in the last one freight rates were held to prewar levels.

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—Robert E. Woodruff, president of the Erie Railroad Co., told the annual meeting of stockholders today he thought 1946 would be one of the most critical in the railroad's history but the worst part of it would be over in the first six months of the year.

He added, however, that he was optimistic about prospects for 1947. He referred to the steel and coal strikes as handicapping operations in Erie's highly industrialized territory.

Woodruff said the carrier would have to meet higher wage costs and other increased expenses this year but that a raise in freight rates sometime in the future would ofset these.

Woodruff told the stockholders the railroads planned to file next Monday with the Interstate Commerce Commission a petition for higher freight rates in varying amounts depending upon the type of commodity. No flat percentage increase will be sought, he said, adding that the varying increases would maintain rate differentials between the different sections of the country.

Referring to the war period, Woodruff said the road had made money on its passenger service, largely because of troop train movements, but that this business was rapidly dropping off and that freight income would become more and more important.

Stock Split Being Considered.

NEW YORK, April 9 (AP)—Mojud Hosiery Co. directors are considering a two-for-one split of common stock, John K. Voehringer Jr., president, told the annual meeting of stockholders. First quarter earnings, to be released soon, will be "happy surprise" for the stockholders, he said. In the first half of 1945 earnings were 87 cents a share.

SHORTS BID MAY RYE UP 5 CENTS TO 26-YR. PEAK

CHICAGO, April 9 (AP)—May rye established a new 26-year high when short covering advanced the full 5-cent limit today.

At the finish wheat, corn and barley were unchanged at ceiling prices, $1.83½, $1.21½ and $1.26½. Rye was unchanged to 5 cents higher than yesterday's close, May $2.37⅞. Oats were unchanged to ½c higher, May, 83c.

LOCAL GRAIN RECEIPTS.

PRISON TERMS FOR $1,500,000 TAX EVASION

Federal Judge Sentences Three Former Officers of Crucible Steel Casting Co.

MILWAUKEE, April 9 (AP)—United States District Judge F. Ryan Duffy yesterday sentenced three former officers of the Crucible Steel Casting Co. to federal penitentiary terms on charges of evading more than $1,500,000 in federal income and excess profits taxes.

Walter A. Lange, former secretary of Crucible, was sentenced to serve five years and fined $10,000. Fred A. Lange Jr., his brother and former treasurer, was sentenced to serve two years and fined $5000, and George Randall, former bookkeeper and brother-in-law of Walter, was sentenced to serve three years, but was not fined.

Sentence of Albert C. Lange, former president of the company, was delayed by the court. Recently he underwent an emergency operation at Rochester, Minn., counsel informed Judge Duffy. Albert was not in court.

On March 29, after a six-week trial, Judge Duffy found Walter and Fred Lange and Randall guilty on the three counts of an indictment alleging tax evasion in 1941, 1942 and 1943, and found Albert Lange guilty on the third count, evasion in 1943, acquitting him on the first two.

PRESIDENTIAL TENURE CURB PREDICTED BY G.O.P. HEADS

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Republican leaders predicted early success today for their revived campaign to limit the term of any future president to six consecutive years.

They expect to obtain 218 House signatures to a "discharge petition" and thus force a vote in time to submit the limitation proposal to the people in the form of a constitutional amendment before the 1948 presidential election.

"I don't think we'll have too much difficulty," House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts told reporters. Other Republicans said they expected the entire G.O.P. House membership of 191 to sign. That would leave only 27 Democratic signatures to be obtained.

PAY INCREASE ENDS AKRON'S 8-DAY BUS-STREETCAR STRIKE

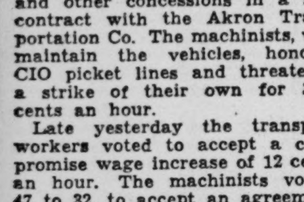

AKRON, O., April 9 (AP)—This rubber city's bus and streetcar system was back in operation today after an eight-day strike involving about 500 CIO transport workers and 130 AFL machinists.

The operators walked out at midnight March 31, demanding a wage increase of 32 cents an hour and other concessions in a new contract with the Akron Transportation Co. The machinists, who maintain the vehicles, honored CIO picket lines and threatened a strike of their own for 32½ cents an hour.

Late yesterday the transport workers voted to accept a compromise wage increase of 12 cents an hour. The machinists voted, 47 to 32, to accept an agreement incorporating the 12-cent hourly rise in their contract.

MOVE IN SENATE TO CUT FUNDS FOR KILGORE GROUP

Out of the first of these studies came recommendations, which resulted in the establishment of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion. Out of the second came the pending bill to create a national science foundation, which has been reported favorably by the full Military Affairs Committee.

Kilgore wants his committee to stay on the job until this measure is enacted and until it has determined what further legislative or executive steps are needed to make available to the peacetime economy the fruits of wartime government-sponsored research.

Value of Study on Reich.

Possibly of greater importance on the unfinished business schedule of the committee is the completion of its studies on elimination of Germany's war resources.

Early in its studies of war mobilization, the Kilgore Committee found that Axis-dominated cartels had seriously hampered production of synthetic rubber and other critical war materials. It described, in one of its reports, a long-term German plan for economic warfare based on cartel agreements. At the same time evidence was found of German economic penetration into neutral countries and of industrial espionage which aided the German war effort.

With the end of the war, a vast amount of German documents were seized by Allied armies. These are now being turned over to the committee by the Army for study and collation with other evidence.

When this analysis has been completed, Kilgore has assured the Senate, we will have the complete picture of German techniques for economic warfare and the extent to which Germans have hidden resources in anticipation of another aggressive war.

Hardly any of it can be done with the $18,000 the Senate Audit and Control Committee proposes to allot to the Kilgore Committee for the remainder of this year. Last year's expenditures of the Kilgore group were a little more than 56,000, but only a nominal part of that came out of the Senate's contingent fund because the staff of the committee was borrowed from executive departments of the government.

The practice of borrowing staff members from executive departments has long been followed by legislative committees, but now is ruled out under a resolution sponsored by Senator Kenneth H. Wherry (Rep.), Nebraska. Staff salaries, after April 1, became a charge against the Senate's contingent fund and so subject to review by the Senate and its Audit and Control Committee.

Missouri Legion Convention.

The 1946 Missouri departmental convention of the American Legion will be held Sept. 1-3 in Kansas City, it was announced today by Adrian L. Bushman, Clayton attorney, senior vice commander of the state organization. The Grand Voiture of the Forty-and-Eight will convene at Kansas City Aug. 31.

TRUMAN WINS SUIT OVER HIS ACTION AS COUNTY JUDGE

JEFFERSON CITY, April 9—President Harry S. Truman won a lawsuit in the Missouri Supreme Court yesterday.

The court affirmed a judgment of Jackson County Circuit Court dismissing a suit for $25,000 damages filed against Truman and Thomas R. Bash, as former members of the Jackson County Court, by a former inmate of State Hospital No. 2 for insane patients at St. Joseph.

The plaintiff alleged Truman and Bash acted without jurisdiction, adjudging him of unsound mind in 1931 and ordering him confined to the State Hospital. The suit, filed in November 1944, alleged the County Court had no legal jurisdiction over such proceedings. The lower court dismissed the case on the ground that the petition failed to state a claim on which relief could be granted and that the action was barred by the statute of limitations. The Supreme Court held the motion to dismiss was properly sustained.

10 MILLION ADDED SUBSIDY ALLOWED TO MEAT PACKERS

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—The Government today authorized payment of about $10,000,000 in additional subsidies to meat packers.

Stabilization Director Chester Bowles announced he was approving the payments in order to "bridge a six-week gap during which wage increases could not be covered by subsequent price increases."

A packing industry wage increase of 16 cents hourly, retroactive to Jan. 26, was approved by the Wage Stabilization Board on Feb. 26, but offsetting price increases did not become effective until six weeks later.

The additional subsidies, Bowles said, "will help slaughterers absorb the additional costs of the Jan. 26-March 11 period when prices remained at previous levels."

RUSSIA 'SUGGESTS' U.S. DROP SPY CASE AGAINST OFFICER

WASHINGTON, April 9 (AP)—Government officials reported today that Russia has "suggested" the United States drop its spy charges against Soviet Lt. Nicolai G. Redin unless it can produce more evidence. Redin, a 29-year-old naval officer, was seized by the FBI at Portland, Ore., March 26 on espionage charges.

Washington officials told reporters the Soviet Union had sent its suggestion through ordinary diplomatic channels. It was not a flat request that the case be dropped, they said. Instead, it expressed the opinion that on the basis of current evidence the charge was not justified and asked whether this Government expected to proceed with the case.

Attorney General Tom Clark said the Government would proceed with its case. "The evidence is sufficiently strong for the case to be prosecuted," he declared.

GERMANS IN PROTEST PARADE AGAINST SEIZURE OF HOMES

STUTTGART, Germany, April 9 (AP)—In the second demonstration here in two weeks, 300 Germans paraded through Stuttgart streets yesterday in protest against the seizure of their homes to house the families of American service men.

The orderly demonstration dispersed when Lt. Col. Charles Jackson, military government director of Stuttgart, received a delegation of house owners and warned that no further demonstrations would be permitted.

TWO IN STOLEN STAMP CASE FREED ON BOND

Warrants Issued for Pair Accused of Having Robertson Gang Loot.

Lloyd Smith, proprietor of a used car lot at 2251 South Kingshighway, and Lloyd T. Christopher, proprietor of a cleaning establishment at 1624 Tower Grove avenue, were at liberty today on $2500 bond each after warrants were issued yesterday charging them with possession of postage stamps and coins stolen from the United States Government which they knew to have been stolen.

The stamps and coins were part of the loot from a robbery of a post office and a bank at Chesterfield, Ill., last November by the Robert Lee Robertson gang. Robertson and two associates, Edwin J. Burnett and Felix Kargol, went to Smith's lot last Dec. 20 and Burnett purchased an automobile.

Christopher told police he had purchased $107 in change for $100 from Robertson, but had refused to buy some stamps offered by the gangster. He said he loaned Smith $300 to buy the stamps. Smith admitted purchasing $500 worth of stamps for $300, but said he bought them from Christopher.

After buying the automobile, Robertson, Kargol and Burnett abandoned the car in which they drove to the lot. This automobile was given to Herbert A. Strake, who said he lived at 1819¼ Timberlake avenue, by a salesman, George F. Langenbach Jr., according to Smith. The machine, which had been stolen, was later recovered by police at Carlisle, Ill.

NEARLY BALANCED BUDGET IS DRAWN UP FOR BRITAIN

LONDON, April 9 (AP)—Hugh Dalton, chancellor of the exchequer, presented to the House of Commons today a post-war budget that was nearly balanced.

His total budget called for expenditures of 3,887,000,000 pounds ($15,548,000,000), a revenue of 3,193,000,000 pounds ($12,772,000,000 pounds ($12,772,000,000), leaving a deficit of 694,000,000 pounds ($2,776,000,000).

"I suggest that is a pretty quick recoil towards a balanced budget," he said, adding that it could have been completely balanced except that the government "deliberately embarked on a great and costly program of social betterment."

He told the House, however, that if the United States does not approve the pending loan of $3,750,000,000 to Britain, "we shall at once have to take restrictive measures to reduce imports, especially those affecting American dollars."

NEW RAILROAD DIRECTORS

William B. Simmons, 5361 Pershing avenue, superintendent of the Burlington Railroad, and Floyd F. Crabbe, general freight agent of the railroad, who lives at the Missouri Athletic Club, were elected directors of Missouri & Illinois Bridge & Belt Railroad Co. at a meeting of stockholders yesterday at Union Station.

In Shanghai

Where Inflationary Prices Were Invented

By Keith Wheeler

SHANGHAI, April 9.

AN occasional rumor concerning inflation at home drifts in here, but it must be confessed that these horrible tales don't arouse much sympathy here, for Shanghai is the place where inflation was invented and molded into an instrument of inspired banditry. The only thing anybody knows about prices in Shanghai is that they will surely be higher tomorrow and still higher day after tomorrow.

It would be a conservative estimate to say that since I reached Shanghai from Tokyo less than three months ago, priced for everything a man eats, drinks, smokes, wears or rides in have risen from 100 to 500 per cent. People were screaming in agony about prices when I came. Now they're too numb to yell any more.

There are places here where a martini cocktail costs the equivalent of three American dollars, and the gin they employ tastes as though it had been poured out of a boot. One famed joint called the Mandarin Club, run by an expatriate American with a strongly patriotic feeling for the dollar, charges $5 a drink gold. And the customers love him. The same character runs a couple of one-arm quick lunch places which serve American style short order food. As a more or less regular breakfast customer, I can testify that ham and eggs have tripled in price in the last month. You'd think the pigs were grand champions and the hens goldplated.

TWO MONTHS AGO, a pair of men's shoes cost $18,000 Chinese, at that time approximately $12 American. Today the same shoes fetch $42,000 Chinese, which as of today comes to $21 United States currency. Two months ago you could consume a reasonably good dinner for less than $2 American. Today the same dinner takes $4, and if you want butter, it's a thousand extra in Chinese currency. Once upon a time, a rickshaw coolie considered himself adequately paid if he got $100 for a five-block haul. Today he won't even start sneering at you under $500.

In January a pound of fresh butter cost $1800 Chinese. The price today is $3500 and tomorrow it'll doubtless reach $4000. A quart of milk generously watered will set you back $1 American. A man's suit, tailored from pre-war English cloth, can be had for about $300 gold, and a woman's silk dress comes to $100. A $30 American portable radio will come to $160 gold. Nylon stockings are available here—at $50 the pair. A sadly used model American automobile is worth $9000 to $12,000 American, and you pay extra if you want a horn with it. Such is Shanghai traffic and the Chinese enthusiasm for blowing them that the horn is the most important part of an automobile.

Just to add the final touch, the Municipal Council recently passed a 50 per cent tax on all amusements, including food.

A LOT OF PEOPLE in Shanghai still think American soldiers are the world's greediest looters—which may possibly explain why most of Shanghai schemes assiduously for new ways to gyp Americans. As far as I can discover, our bad reputation here stems from one locally well-publicized incident which took place in the lobby of the Broadway Mansions, the modern 17-story hotel now occupied by American Air Forces and correspondents, on a balmy late summer afternoon a few days after the Japanese called off the war.

In those days, Broadway Mansions's fairly luxurious precincts were occupied by high Jap army officers, important Jap civilians and the largest fry among Shanghai's German Nazi colony. At that time, the hotel's residents, as well as numerous Japs and Nazis in other circumstances, were sitting around unhappily, combatting cases of the jangling jitters and wondering what would happen next. They had surrendered; the war was over; but the people who had defeated them had not yet appeared on the scene.

IN MID-AFTERNOON, the hotel was invaded by a weirdly assorted party of the conquerors. There were a dozen sword and pistol armed Chinese police, three civilians from a Jewish refugee concentration camp in Hong Kew and one hulking, black-haired white man who wore an American uniform and a Military Police brassard on his arm. Although the American wore no insignia of rank, he was clearly in command of the party and moreover, as events proved, he was tough. The American instructed the desk clerk to inform the residents that they had one hour to pack up and depart. He said the Americans were taking over the hotel and he meant right away.

Jap officers unhappily telephoned Jap army headquarters and Nazis angrily telephoned the German consulate. It was then, possibly, that they learned definitely they had been on the wrong side in the war. Both headquarters and consulate were very sad, but neither was prepared to do anything about it. "If the Americans want you to leave, you had better leave," the protesting residents were told.

WHEN THEY actually arrived in the lobby and tried to leave, however, they discovered they were in for more than mere eviction. Every suitcase, silk-wrapped bundle and wallet that came into the lobby was searched by the American, with occasional eager assistance from refugees and police. The American showed a special fondness for expensive wristwatches, a taste later enthusiastically emulated by the Russians in Manchuria. Pretty soon the big M.P. had his left arm full of gold wristwatches to the elbow. When he ran out of space, he offered one to a white woman who was enjoying the discomfiture of the Japs.

There was nothing gentle about the search, either. The searching practice was to dump the contents of the bags onto the floor, pick out money, jewelry and whisky, and then shag the owner out of the building before he could pick up what was left. Altogether, witnesses guessed the American and his pals made away with several thousand dollars' worth of valuables. It wasn't until some time later that the sad victims of the looting discovered that at that time no American troops had yet arrived in Shanghai. Nevertheless, nobody has even found the big "M.P." nor discovered where he found the G.I. uniform.

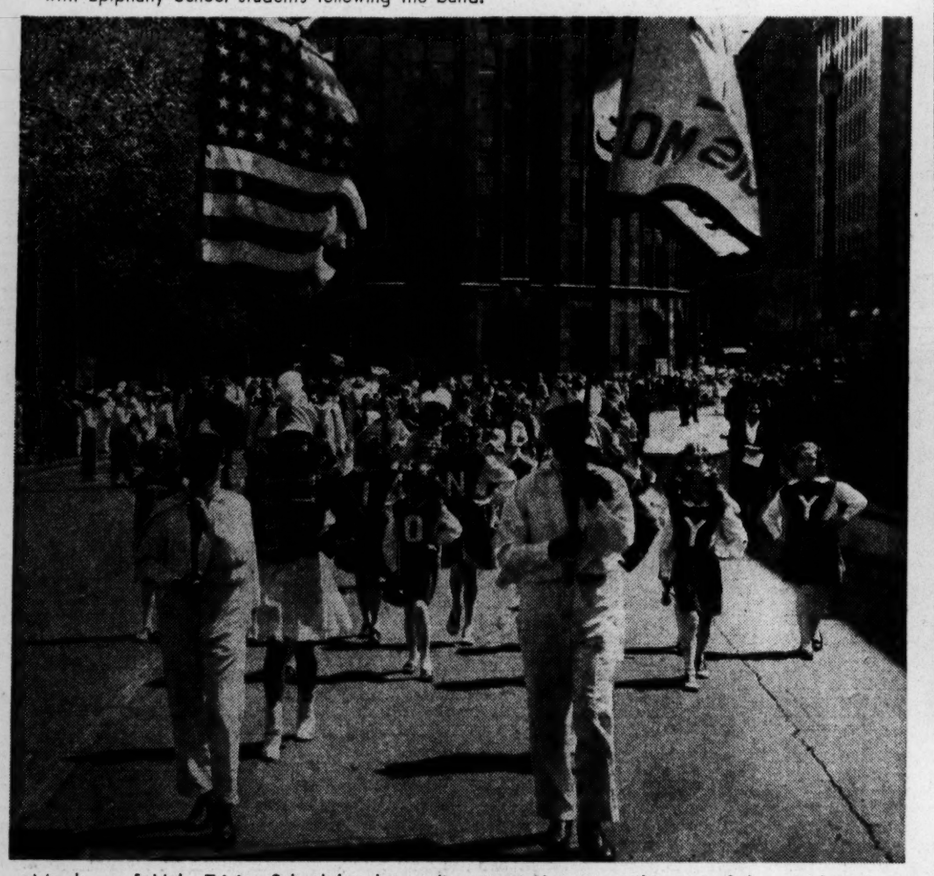

SCHOOL CHILDREN IN 15TH ANNUAL CLEAN-UP PARADE

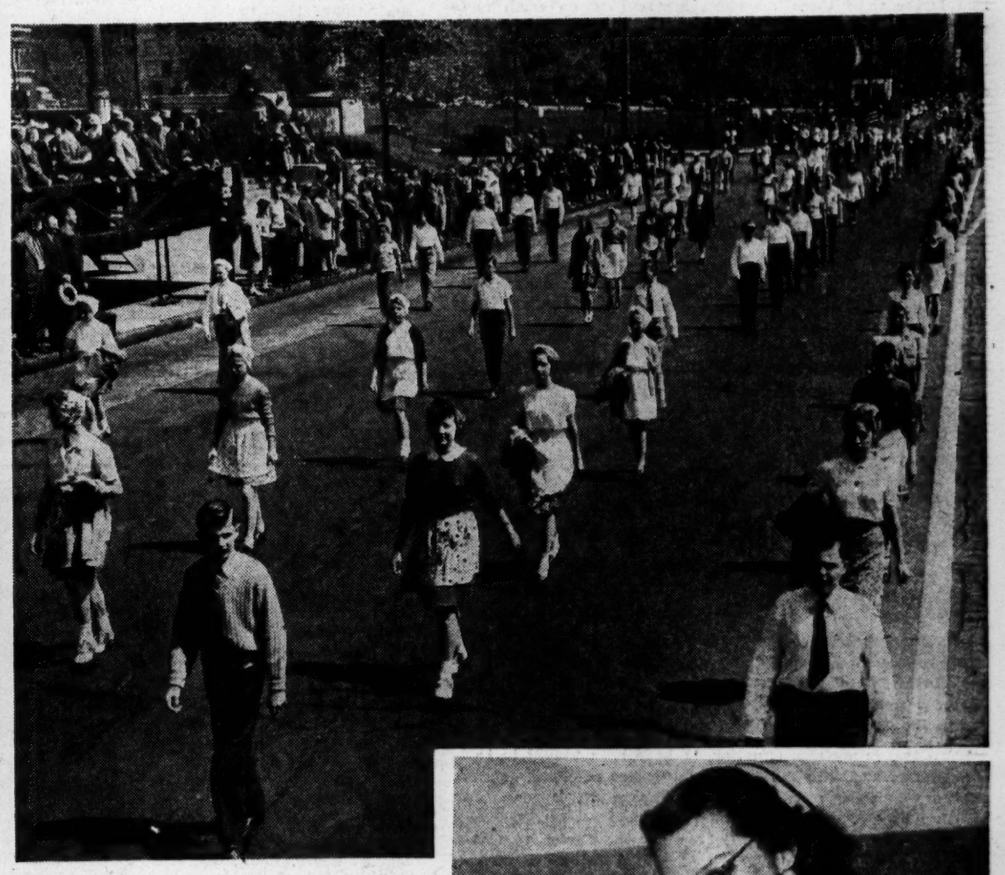

A view of the downtown parade today when more than 3000 St. Louis children from public and parochial schools marched in observance of the fifteenth annual Clean-up, Paint-up and Plant-up campaign of the Chamber of Commerce. Scene is looking west from Eighth and Locust streets, with Epiphany School students following the band.

A Pied Piper of Dewey School leading youngsters dressed as rats in advocacy of the city's drive on the "robber" rodents. A number of parade units emphasized this phase of the clean-up drive.

LINDBERGH GIFT PLAQUE This plaque, by Walker Hancock, St. Louis sculptor, has been presented to the Missouri Historical Society by Charles A. Lindbergh and installed in the Lindbergh trophy room of the Jefferson Memorial. Bearing a figure of St. Louis launching the flight of a gerfalcon, it expresses appreciation to citizens who supported the flights of the famous Spirit of St. Louis. It bears these names: Harold M. Bixby, Harry F. Knight, Harry H. Knight, Albert Bond Lambert, J. D. Wooster Lambert, E. Lansing Ray, Frank H. Robertson, William B. Robertson and Earl C. Thompson.

IN 'Y' CIRCUS

Among the top performers in the eleventh annual Pine Street Y.M.C.A. Circus, which began a six-night run at Kiel Auditorium last night, is Dorothy Donegan, boogie pianist. Funds from the benefit show will be used to aid underprivileged Negro children.

LEARNING TO WALK AGAIN

Standing for the first time on artificial legs, as a nurse assists him, 3-year-old Dickie Landry of Lynn, Mass., throws a baseball with joy, despite pain of the effort. He lost both legs under the wheels of a train a month ago. Through a newspaper appeal, a fund of $22,000 was raised to provide Dickie with artificial limbs at intervals as he grows to manhood.

BROADWAY

Notes of an Innocent Bystander

SPOTLIGHTS and Footlights: Walter Huston, starring in "The Apple of His Eye," was 62 last week. Good man, good actor and good "trouper.". . . George Raft now gets $120,000 per film. . . . Pearl Buck and L. Cowan will produce her play on the life of Sun Yat Sen. . . . Harry Wagstaff Gribble, sophisticated producer-playwright-director, has a very childish illness—the moomps! . . . Martha Hyer (a Fairfax Hall grad) has her first role. She'll be seen in "Desirable Woman" with Joan Bennett, thanks to Ella Logan, the fairy who waved her magic wand.

★ ★ ★

THE CRITIQUES: The Critics' Circle commuted between hem and haw. The reviewers' security council squabbled and haggled without agreeing on winners for their annual accolades. Only "Carousel" received a special citation as the best musical. The meeting of aisle-squatting statesmen broke up in a deadlock. . . . The week's lone premiere was K. Cornell's revival of "Candida." Shaw's classic ran the critics' hallelujah gamut from ah to zing. Miss C., as usual, was hosanna'd for her superlative performance. . . . Irving Berlin's "Annie Get Your Gun" has hinterland observers roman-candling praise.

★ ★ ★

THE CINEMAGICIANS: Clifford Odets sent a blazing meller rocketing out of his fiery typewriter, via "Deadline at Dawn." Here is Odet's dramatic firecracker style and all the flash and electricity of his lightning dialogue. . . . Wholesome as a cookie, "The Green Years" is an enchanting tale, beautifully drenched in the milk of human kindness. C. Coburn gives it superb trouping, and a newcomer named Beverly Tyler makes an auspicious debut. Here's stardust in your eye, young lady. . . . "Col. Effingham's Raid" offers a frisky, romantic romp wherein Joan Bennett is co-starred with Daniel Cupid. . . . "Devotion" spins a sturdy dramatic yarn. Ida Lupino and Olivia de Havilland keep it twirling. . . ."Swing Parade of 1946" is a brassy binge with more punishment than amusement. . . ."Song of Old Wyoming" is a Western stencil that dies with its boots and saddles on.

★ ★ ★

THE NETWORKS: Any American who heard ABC's Shanghai boy Fred Opper's heartbreaking report on the Chinese famine will never again toss away a half-eaten crust of bread without a twinge of his conscience. A Chinese population larger than three American States lives on earth and grass. Sawdust mixed with weeds is considered a luxury! . . . One ciggie commercial mentions the brand's name 10 times in a two-minute commershill. We counted it and then managed to stifle a scream before switching the dial.

★ ★ ★

QUOTATION MARKSMANSHIP: A. Karr: Friendship between two women is always a plot against each other. . . . A. Dumas: All women desire to be esteemed; they care much less about being respected. . . . H. Murrow: Washington, D. C., is the national headquarters of three parties—the Democratic, the Republican and the Cocktail. . . . Anon: Civilization is the slow process of gradually falling in line with the visionary ideas of minorities. . . . M. C. Banning: A handsome man, with an air of carefully stored and refrigerated youth. . . . O. Gogarty: One of those aggressive silences that demanded an answer. . . . Etta Shiber: I stood riveted with terror. . . . M. Richardson: His conversation is as pointless as a pretzel. . . . J. E. Buckrose: Often when our affection seems wounded it is only our vanity bleeding. . . . M. Martin: As soon as you cannot keep anything from a woman you love her.

CASE RECORDS

By Dr. George W. Crane

CSE J-263: Helen F., aged 24, is a very attractive young business woman, who burst out with the following rather widespread female protest: "Can you tell me why it is that a man can go out and "sow his wild oats" without seeming to hurt his reputation? A girl, however, either sits back and yearns or else goes on and probably ruins her life.

"Now this is my own situation. I have been taught to lead a good life, and that has been my greatest ambition. But I sometimes wonder if it isn't against my health to go on repressing myself. I don't go with many boys on this account. For if I begin to care a little for one, he begins to make demands and says I don't love him if I resist I wish I could find a man who would give a girl a clean, good time and not always be demanding payment with her character and good name. I do not drink or smoke but it seems to me that those girls who do, are the ones who get their men. Dr. Crane, what should I do?"

THIS CASE has been selected for today because so many young women have come to me with similiar experiences that it is a rather widespread type of situation. Helen has not fully stated the facts, however, for a girl is not limited to the two possibilities mentioned, namely, either to yearn or else indulge in illicit affairs. There is a very good middle course to choose. She can select boy friends of the type who are not solely interested in a girl's physical charms, but who like her for her engaging personality and her other virtues and talents. It behooves a girl, therefore, to analyze herself for all the possible desirable traits which will hold a man's lasting admiration and then cultivate these as fully as possible.

Men admire girls who dress attractively. They like girls who can carry on a jolly conversation and who are popular, that is, who have many friends among girls as well as among boys. They prefer girls who have some cultural interests, such as music or literature, and who do not worship solely at the shrine of movie actresses. Men may scoff at poetry or art, but secretly they like to have their sweethearts interested in such things, partly because it is customary to regard such interests as typically feminine. Men prefer that girls be fond of babies, and that they be religious. They relish the laces and flimsy frills with which women adorn themselves, and they like a girl's soft, wavy hair.

MEN ALSO enjoy having girls able to play tennis or golf or swim with them. Of course, they want to defeat the girls, but such athletic abilities keep girls with their boy friends and thus increase their common interests and pleasures together. By all means, however, men like to feel important in the eyes of an attractive girl, so while she is cultivating her own social and feminine assets, she must always keep one eye open to note the man's virtues and compliment them. Even the men who seemingly are interested only in the physical side of love, will usually turn right-about-face and help a girl maintain her ideals if she tactfully inflates his ego by praising his idealism. Instead of fighting with her escort, if Helen were to apply the above technique she would find that her boy friend would normally co-operate, and his resulting admiration for her would further increase their friendship or love.

Economical Menus for Tomorrow

By Meta Given

THE best way still for us to obtain a good boiled salad dressing is to make it ourselves. The ideal time to make it is when we have a collection of a half cup or more of egg yolks. Often they are the precious left-overs remaining after our indulgence in an angel pie or cake, meringues or some similar delicate dessert concoction. It has always been a crime to let yolks stand around until they are off in flavor and we know we won't be satisfied with anything we might try to make out of them. But NOW if we waste even a spoonful of food when there are millions that would snatch the very crumbs from our tables if they could, we need to be haunted with the thought of criminal selfishness until we resolve to form better habits. Every time we waste an egg yolk it means we are withholding this valuable food from someone whose health and vigor is fast waning and must be fortified very soon if his life is to be spared. So let us all become keenly conscious of our need to avoid all waste.

When boiled salad dressing is stored in a sterile jar with a tight fitting lid, it will keep in the refrigerator for several days. This dressing as is will be good on fruit salad. With some whipped cream folded into it or with some fruit juice added, it will be even still better for fruit salads. When fruit juice is added, there is an advantage in using juice from one of the fruits used in the salad. If peaches are used, some of the peach juice in the dressing will tie the ingredients in the salad into a more harmonius whole. This dressing may also be blended with an equal amount of mayonnaise to be used on vegetables such as tomato, or for the making of chicken or fish salads. For head lettuce, a combination of this dressing and mayonnaise may be used as a base to make Thousand Island or Russian dressing.

Boiled Salad Dressing.

One-third cup sugar, one tablespoon flour, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon dry mustard, one-half cup egg yolks, two-thirds cup milk, one-half cup cider vinegar.

Combine sugar, flour, salt, and mustard in top of double boiler. Add beaten egg yolks and mix well. Pour in milk and lower pan with ingredients into boiling water. Stir constantly, using egg beater if mixture becomes lumpy. When smooth and thickened, gradually pour in vinegar, stirring constantly while doing so. Stir mixture about one minute after all vinegar has been added. Remove from boiling water and allow to cool. Store in refrigerator. Very good mixed with cream or whipped cream for use on fruit salads and cabbage salad.

Menus for Wednesday.

Luncheon: Fried mush with cheese sauce, buttered green beans, fresh pears, remainder of cocoa cookies.

Try and Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

THE keeper found little Mr. Snoop very easy to satisfy. Mr. Snoop rather fancied himself as an Izaak Walton. The keeper simply perched him on the top of a ladder, at the foot of which he set an empty pail.

Mr. Snoop would sit happily for hours dangling a piece of string in and out of the pail. One day another keeper sauntered by. "Catch anything?" he inquired pleasantly.

"Don't be a loon," said Snoop indignantly. "How can you catch anything by dangling a piece of string in an empty pail?"

* * *

My Uncle Herbert from Vermont was mailing an order to his butcher in Boston. First, he began the note, "Kindly send me two gooses." That didn't seem right so he started over again with, "Kindly send two geeses." Still he wasn't satisfied. He settled his dilemma by writing finally, "Kindly send me a goose." Then he signed his name and added a P.S.: "Send another one with it."

MY DAY

By Eleanor Roosevelt

HYDE PARK, Monday.

SATURDAY noon, I took a plane to Buffalo to attend the dinner given that evening for Senator James M. Mead. At the dinner, he was announced as our next Democratic candidate for Governor, but he himself was entirely non-committal.

I have always thought that, in many ways, being Governor of New York State would be more interesting than being in the United States Senate but where one has had long experience in the Senate, it may be that the change to administrative work might not be so attractive. Dealing with the State legislature would, of course, be fairly simple in comparison with dealing with the other members of the United States Senate, but it is a big decision to make and one that I can well imagine would require a great deal of consideration.

THE DINNER was the annual one given in tribute to Grover Cleveland, who started his political career in Buffalo. It is well for all of us, I think, to recall these men of other days who labored in the public service and contributed to the building of our republic. Grover Cleveland was a man of outstanding honesty. He trusted and believed in the people.

But even in his day, the burden of the presidency must have been very great. My husband's father knew President Cleveland and took my husband as a little boy to call upon him. All his life, my husband told us the story of the deep impression it made upon him when President Cleveland, in saying goodby, patted him on the head and wished for him that he might "never be President of the United States."

I TOOK the night train from Buffalo and, in the morning, went into the club car to get a cup of coffee before we reached New York. A kindly-looking gentleman asked if he could sit down and talk with me for a few minutes.

He told me that many of the business and financial men he knew were very anxious to have all controls removed to spur production. They said that then there would be a short inflation, but that Mrs. America would never pay excessive prices for long and would shortly refuse to buy. This would bring a sharp deflation but of short duration, and we would soon be back to normal. Our whole upset economy would settle down and the free-enterprise system would be saved. This plan might be hard on a few people but the hardship wouldn't last long.

How simple it sounds, but it isn't as simple as that. It may flatter Mrs. America, but she had better not accept the assignment.

Chicken Pie

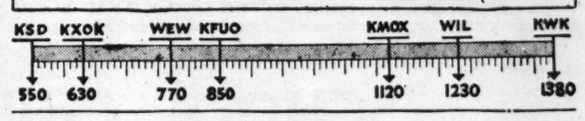

Four-pound fowl, one small carrot, sliced, one small onion, two stalks celery, one teaspoon salt, one clove, three peppercorns, one-half teaspoon ginger, four tablespoons melted chicken fat, four tablespoons flour, two cups chicken stock, two cups cream, one-half recipe pastry.

Disjoint the chicken and place in kettle with the seasoning and vegetables. Add water to cover. Cook gently until meat is tender enough to remove from bones. Let cool. Remove meat and strain stock. Prepare gravy by combining the flour with melted chicken fat and adding chicken stock and cream. Put meat in individual deep casseroles and add hot gravy. Cover with pastry dough and bake at 425 degrees 20 to 25 minutes.

Toasted Potatoes

Scrub potatoes clean. Boil with skins on until tender, about 25 minutes. Drain and remove skins. Roll in melted fat or drippings, sprinkle with salt and paprika and place under broiler flame. Brown on all sides.

Americana.

SAN FRANCISCO: When an American-born Chinese youth asked Gen. Joseph Stilwell for his autograph, "Vinegar Joe" obliged—with his signature written in Chinese. "Jeepers," the kid walked away muttering, "a four-star general, and I can't even read his writing."

Effective Kick.

CHICAGO: The horn in an automobile parked a half block from the Hyde Park police station blew and blew and tempers of policemen flew as they exhausted every effort to halt the piercing blasts. For nearly two hours Sgt. John Moroney was harassed by telephone calls from irate residents unable to sleep. As police gave up, Cleveland Andrew, who lives near the station, appeared on the scene and walked to the car. He kicked a front wheel. The horn stopped.

Where There's Smoke.

CHICAGO: John Dewar, Antioch, Ill., charged by his tenants with stuffing old inner tubes down their chimney and putting crankcase oil on their front porch, was enjoined by United States District Judge Michael L. Igoe from any illegal attempts to evict tenants. Dewar was fined $15 Jan. 18 on a disorderly conduct charge on the complaint of Mrs. Evelyn Clements that he tried to smoke her family out of their home by jamming the chimney full of worn out inner tubes. On Feb. 5, the Clements charged he threw oil on the porch, ruining a rug. At that time he was held to the grand jury for malicious mischief. The grand jury hearing still is pending.

My OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Martha Carr:

WHEN my friend went into the service his education was interrupted. He had decided to become an engineer but had got only a very short way along. I promised to wait for him and all during his absence I went nowhere except with girl friends, and busily accumulated things for my hope chest. When he was discharged I thought of course we'd be married at once. After all, this engagement had gone on for two years. But it seems my friend had changed his mind about what he wants to do. Now he wants to be a doctor. He seems to love me just as much, yet he has released me from the engagement, telling me it will be years before we can marry, that he has no right to ask me to wait indefinitely. I have told him I'll keep my job and help him, and we can be happy together. He says a girl when she marries is entitled to a home and security and a husband with a good job—she should be taken care of. He seems so unreasonable and so old fashioned about the whole thing that I am in despair. I know I'll never be happy without him. What can I do to make him see he is taking the wrong attitude, and to make him understand that all I long for is to be with him, working and helping him get a start? B. T.

• Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest, but of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for personal reply.

In view of the fact that hundreds of wives are working and helping ex-G.I.s as they get their education these days, your fiance's attitude toward you doing likewise does seem old fashioned. It is true that marriage under these circumstances isn't the ideal arrangement, but neither is an engagement that lasts indefinitely, nor life for a girl who eats her heart out because she loves a man who refuses to be reasonable. It is going to be up to you to sell your friend the idea that you keeping your job while he studies preparatory to getting one, may be a long, hard pull, but will give you a wonderful feeling of accomplishment. When he finally gets that degree you can almost feel it will be your M. D. as well as his. Nothing can bring two people closer together than working together to attain a certain goal. Talk to your friend in this vein, and see if you can't make him understand that he is taking too somber a view of the situation. After all, six years or so matter little in a lifetime of being together, but can seem an eternity apart from each other. All this, of course, providing you are absolutely sure of your love, positive it will pass the test of the long pull of the years ahead when you will feel you are practically supporting your husband, and at times the road seeming endless. If you find, upon self-examination that at bottom your pride is hurt, because you have had the long engagement, everybody knew about it, and not to have the marriage follow at once humiliates you—then better let the broken engagement stand.

Social Problems

By Emily Post

NO WONDER this reader is puzzled: "Will you kindly explain just what you meant when you wrote in your column that the great increase of women now in business or a profession has made the social taboo of Mrs. followed by a woman's Christian name less conspicuous than when this detail was interpreted wholly according to social standards?"

I have to agree that this comment sounds "muddled." So let me see if I can do better with it this time. According to the long-established precepts of the fashionable world, Mrs. prefixed to a woman's name is not in best taste. Strictly according to etiquette, a widow keeps her husband's name for always unless she marries again. But now into this once separated social world come thousands of women also of very best social background, who, instead of being content with the lives of hostesses, housewives, patronesses and guests have gone into every manner of profession and business in which their own first names alone can denote them. Their husbands' names do not apply. Their own have to be used to represent them. They are married and calling them "Miss" therefore is misleading and unsuitable and women of dignity can not be addressed as "Mary" (or "Emily"). Therefore, Mrs. Mary (or Mrs. Emily) is unavoidable!

Your Children

By Angelo Patri

LITTLE Brother wants to play with Big Brother, Little Sister has the same idea about playing with Big Sister. The older ones protest. "We can't have him getting in the way. He's a nuisance. Can't he stay home and play with kids his own age?"

The Big Brother and Sister have some right on their side. Little Brother cannot be allowed on the ball field. He will get in the way and he will be in a fair way of being hurt. During such games he should stay in his own field with his own friends.

BIG SISTER cannot take Little Sister along to the Sorority meeting. She would not fit in at all and after all Big Sister is entitled to her own social contacts and interests. Little Sister can enjoy those of her own group and benefit by them while she would get nothing from the meeting of her elders.

But there are times when the older children should take their younger brothers and sisters along and help them to have a good time. The older ones can teach the younger ones many useful facts and skills and that is what they should do. Not to undertake the whole responsibility of rearing the younger ones; that is the parents' field, but now and again sharing their activities with them, helping them learn the routines of the household, and of their personal care.

AN OLDER BROTHER or sister can teach a younger one how to brush his teeth, attend to his nails, to his hair, and dress himself. The older ones can supervise the younger ones in the activities of the toilet, the manners of the occasion, and the like. They can do this with better results if they are kindly about it than older people can. Children learn best from each other.

The older children gain as much from this relationship as they give. Every time they help a younger child to put on his shoes, brush his hair, eat his meals properly, catch a ball or throw it accurately, they acquire skill and strength in nerve and muscle and along with that they acquire spiritual understanding. Such relationships enrich family life and build associations and set memories that in years to come are priceless.

We Are Not Alone Enough, Says Writer

By Elsie Robinson

WE aren't alone enough in this modern life. Where our great grandparents spent long, thoughtful hours in quiet chores, we have a thousand distractions — movies, automobiles, telephones, radios, crowded apartments, countless near neighbors swarming in and out.

As a consequence we rarely meet ourselves. We may spend a lifetime and never know ourselves. We are too busy working or having fun to even develop selves, to be ourselves.

Our real selves lie within us. That self isn't something which we acquire automatically or can see upon a screen or learn in a gin rummy game. It grows slowly. And it cannot grow in the midst of constant distraction.

OUR REAL SELF grows as slowly as a seed, in the inner darkness of our own thoughts, in the secret ebb and flow of our own emotions.

Slowly, mysteriously, our selves mature within us. Experiences happen to us, outside us. We see and do new things, we go to new places. But none of this activity becomes part of our true selves until we have turned it over and over within us—quietly, carefully—assimilating some of it, rejecting the rest.

Aloneness gave them their strength. Their selves grew in solitude. There were few great cities in their lives. There was little haste or pressure. They were forced to be themselves. They did not dread being alone. They welcomed it and found great profit in it.

YOU CAN TEST a person by his ability to be alone without rushing to the telephone or calling in some friend. Shallow people, people without inner resources, dare not face loneliness. They must have outside stimulation. They continually seek excitement and exist on chit-chat.

People who depend on such artificial stimulation commit slow suicide. For suicide means self destruction and they destroy themselves as surely as if they poisoned or shot themselves.

Dare to be alone. It will take courage at first. It will take determination to endure the initial boredom. It will take intelligence to depend upon yourself, especially when you discover how empty and meaningless you have become. But hang on. You have what it takes if you'll give yourself a chance.

Your Stars

Sun in Aries.

General Tendencies—Now watch out, don't get into petty arguments or squabbles over business details tomorrow. Likewise, avoid all gossip in your social contacts and remember to discount the rumors you hear. It is just as easy for other people to talk about you as about anyone else at this time — don't give opportunity. There is a strong tendency to bicker and destroy all through the next few days. The business which would be gained by any underhanded methods at this time would not last through the course of the next two months.

If Tomorrow Is Your Birthday.

The remainder of 1946 and the first three months of 1947 do not constitute one of your more constructive periods. Routine matters are best for you at this time. Avoid new ventures as much as possible, and among these keep out of matrimony if this could be a new venture for you. Love affairs just now are apt to involve you in financial difficulties, and love nearly always flies out the window when poverty opens the door. Note changes and surprises from the middle of July to the end of September.

Sold on Insurance for His Employes

Head of Big Pharmaceutical House Backs "Peace of Mind" Program

By Virginia Irwin

A Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch

CHICAGO, April 8

WHEN President Truman presented his five-point national health program to Congress last November, S. DeWitt Clough, head of Abbott Laboratories here in Chicago, chuckled to himself. Far-seeing, paternal, 60-year-old Clough, guiding light of one of the largest and most respected pharmaceutical houses in the world, already had his 4000-odd employes blanketed under a health plan that made the Truman proposals look like a piker's proposition.

As far back as 1933 Clough began what he calls his "happiness and peace of mind program." He's been enlarging it ever since and today an employe of the Abbott Laboratories can, for the amazingly small sum of $60 a year, get himself insured against practically everything except being divorced by his wife and drafted in case of a third world war. Clough contrasts the $60 cost of his plan with the $144 a year maximum levy "for lesser coverage" under the Truman plan.

"There isn't anything that pays off like an investment in health," Clough says. "In 1933 when I became president of Abbott, sales totaled $4,000,000. Last year they were $38,000,000. Loyalty and happiness of our employes played a big part in that increase.

Many of the features of the Clough plan were so broad and unusual that insurance companies had no experience tables to go by, but Clough, who needs only a little opposition to whet his determination, prevailed upon the Equitable Life Assurance Society to take on trial programs.

Clough began his long-range plan back in 1933 with a weekly accident and sickness benefit for employes, which pays from $15 to $40 a week at a cost to employes of 52 cents to $2 a month. In April 1936, accidental death and dismemberment was added, payable whether the accident occurred at work or away from work. Abbott Laboratories carries the entire cost of this without contribution from the employe and benefits range from $500 to $2500.

Again in December of 1938, Clough presented Abbott employes with another insurance gift. He added, without cost to the employe, daily hospital expense benefit of $6 a day, which may continue for a maximum of 70 days for any one case of hospitalization, with maximum surgical benefits of $150 for each trip to the hospital.

"The results of this last plan were so gratifying that there was a demand for the same coverage for eligible dependents of employes," Clough says in tracing the broadening of his plan. "On June 1, 1939, identical benefits for dependents were provided at a cost of only $1.50 a month to the employe. Eligible dependents include the employe's wife and unmarried children over three months and under 18 years of age."

Another first for Clough was the medical expense plan which provides payment for charges by legally qualified physicians and surgeons for treatment of non-occupational diseases or injuries not covered under the surgical benefits plan. These payments are limited to $2 for each visit at the physician's office or hospital, $3 for each visit by the physician to the employe's home, and payment limited to one visit a day and a maximum of 50 visits in any one calendar year. The plan also provides payment for X-ray and laboratory examinations incident to diagnosis of non-occupational diseases or injuries, subject to a maximum of $25 in any calendar year.

"And last December," Clough says, "the medical expense insurance program was extended to include employes's eligible dependents for the identical broad benefits at a cost to the employes of only $1.50 a month."

Since Clough started his "happiness and peace of mind program" for his employes, $486,000 has been paid to employes in benefits. An employe taking all the health plans, covering both himself and his dependents, pays from $3.52 to $5 a month, which is less than one half of the total cost to Abbott Laboratories for group protection.

In addition to the foregoing, a group life insurance policy covering all employes up to $10,000 has been in effect at Abbott since March 1931. To date $252,500 has been paid out.

Occasionally, even the men who have been with Clough through the years—in which he worked his way from a $5 a week clerk to the presidency of the company—wonder just how far he's going to go in trying to make Abbott employes happy. Five years ago he inaugurated the "blessed event" plan. Under this plan every father who reports an addition to his family gets a $50 check. In five years Abbott fathers have collected $30,000.

Clough also remembers his employes' birthdays. Every year, just before an employe's birthday, a special birthday card is sent out. This card entitles the employe to a free meal in the Abbott cafeteria and the employe is told "select all you want to eat, then instead of paying the cashier, give her your birthday card. It's on the house." The Abbott Cafeteria is another of Clough's health ideas. It is operated on a non-profit basis and employes get balanced, whopping big meals for an average of 25 to 30 cents.

"You couldn't duplicate them any place in Chicago for twice that amount," Clough says proudly.

Abbott employes get free vitamins daily; service emblems denoting years of service ranging up to 25 years when the company presents quarter-century employes with a diamond studded emblem with five chevrons; and vacations with pay, depending on length of service. Abbott also has an employe savings plan, under which the employe may authorize the payroll office to set up an account for him and make savings deductions from his salary. Abbott pays 5 per cent interest on all savings up to $1000.

"We encourage employes to accumulate their savings until they have enough to buy one or more shares of Abbott stock. We think it's an excellent idea for employes to become part owners in the company," he says.

Abbott has arranged for employes to purchase automobile insurance on a co-operative basis; allows employes use of the company lawyers in certain cases; recently instituted a plan for free eye examinations for all employes and is now working on a company program to provide dental service for all employes.

"We hope to be able to give employes the privilege of having their teeth cleaned once a year along with a complete checkup," Clough says.

Recently Clough thought up what he calls the Abbott Study Club. If some employe of the company wants to take a course in something that's going to help his work or further his progress at Abbott, the company comes through with half the tuition for the course. Courses in everything from accounting to psychology are available to employes who want to improve their minds and Clough is now working on a plan to have classes in some subjects held in the plant.

"It's one thing for a commercial organization to say, 'here you have an opportunity for advancement'," says Clough. "It's entirely something else, and much better, to find an organized and carefully conducted plan of helping you to prepare for opportunity's call."

Clough, who began life selling newspapers on Chicago's streets, is a great believer in his "learn today—lead tomorrow slogan." He himself wants to take a course in journalism and psychology, to sort of round out the liberal education he has given himself.

As an addition to his happiness and peace of mind program, Clough announced the first of this year that he was instituting a plan for retirement income for all Abbott employes at the expense of the company. The new retirement plan will pay a monthly pension for life from the normal retirement age of 65 and provides death benefits to protect employes' beneficiaries.

"The Abbott Retirement Plan and social security will give each employe the assurance of a regular monthly income after his working days are over and enable him to face the future with a feeling of personal security and confidence," Clough explains.

Occasionally somebody questions Clough about the enormous cost to his company of all these health and insurance and pension plans he thinks up. He dismisses the matter by quoting a few figures:

"Thirteen years ago when I became president of this company we had 589 employes and did $4,000,000 worth of business a year. Now we have more than 4000 employes and do a yearly business of $38,000,000. I don't know what we spent on insurance last year, but I do know that we showed a profit of more than $3,000,000, so that insurance investment must have been sound."

S. DeWITT CLOUGH . . . TODAY, FOR $60 A YEAR, ONE OF HIS EMPLOYES CAN GET HIMSELF INSURED AGAINST PRACTICALLY EVERYTHING EXCEPT BEING DIVORCED BY HIS WIFE AND DRAFTED IN CASE OF A THIRD WORLD WAR.

My Neighbor Says:

Rose bushes should go into the ground as soon as the frost is out of it. When planting them it is a good plan to hill up earth around them until a new growth starts. This often means the difference between success and failure in growing rose bushes.

Contract Bridge

By Ely Culbertson

MANY players have the mistaken idea that if they have passed originally, they can bid with impunity on later rounds. No fallacy is more dangerous. Overcalls still must be based on logic, regardless of a previous pass. Observe this deal:

West, dealer

♠ A76 ♥ J6542 ♦ K109 ♣ 109	NORTH WEST EAST SOUTH	♠ KJ4 ♥ 10983 ♦ 6542 ♣ KJ
	♠ 103 ♥ Q ♦ AQJ83 ♣ AQ542

West	North	East	South
Pass	Pass	Pass	1 diamond
1 heart	1 spade	2 hearts	3 clubs
Pass	4 clubs	Pass	5 clubs
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the club ten, evidently trying to protect his diamond holding from ruffs in dummy. It was a futile gesture! East's king and jack were neatly extracted; then South cashed the heart queen and the diamond ace, ruffed a low diamond in dummy, and discarded both spades on the ace and king of hearts. He ruffed a spade and led the diamond queen through West, ruffing away the king and thus establishing 13 cold tricks.

Obviously enough, North-South could not well have bid a slam, lacking as they did the top spades, to say nothing of the king-jack of clubs, but they made a pretty good score with the material at hand. Neither North nor South could even have redoubled the five-club contract with any degree of assurance.

Superficially, it would appear that it was West's penalty double of five clubs which was so badly calculated, but in reality, the trouble stemmed back to the one-heart overcall. With or without a previous pass, West had nothing like the values for that bid. Quite aside from the fact that his hand lacked the necessary winners, even not vulnerable, there was no point in the heart bid. What was to be gained? Surely, West could not hope to compete, even for a part-score contract; he scarcely would want a heart led by his partner against any North-South contract; and "saving" in hearts, with such a suit, was unthinkable. Thus, if West had restrained himself on the second round, he could not have prodded East into a doubtful raise, or himself into an equally doubtful double.
